INTRODUCTION

"Good evening sports fans and welcome to the Blood Bowl for tonight's contest. You join a capacity crowd, packed with members of every race from across the known world, all howling like banshees in anticipation of tonight's game. Oh, and yes, there are some actual banshees... Well, kick-off is in about twenty minutes time, so we've just got time to recap on the rules of the game before battle starts. Your match commentators for tonight are Jim Johnson and myself, Bob Bifford. Evening, Jim!"

"Thank you, Bob! Well, good evening, and boy, are you folks in for a great night of top-class sporting entertainment! But first of all, for those of you at home who are unfamiliar with the rules, here's how the game is played."

"As you know, Blood Bowl is an epic conflict between two teams of heavily-armoured and quite insane warriors. Players pass, throw or run with the ball, attempting to get it to the other end of the pitch, the End Zone. Of course, the other team must try and stop them, and recover the ball for their side. If a team gets the ball over the line into the opponent's End Zone it's called a touchdown; the team that scores the most touchdowns by the end of the match wins the game, and are declared Blood Bowl Champions! How do they do it? It's like this..."

COMPONENTS

The Blood Bowl box contains the following components

(Note: As this handbook is available separately and as a free PDF, the component section is only relevant if you have purchased the boxed game).

- 1 Handbook
- 1 Painting Guide
- 2 Reference sheets
- 1 Team roster pad

- 1 Blood Bowl pitch
- 2 Dugouts
- 2 Team cards

- 1 plastic Range Ruler
- 1 plastic Throw-in template
- 1 plastic Scatter template
- 4 plastic footballs

Dice: 2 six sided Dice, 1 eight sided Dice, 3 Block Dice

Counters:

- 16 Re-roll counters
- 2 Score counters
- 2 Leader counters
- 2 Turn counters/markers
- 16 Randomizer counters
- 1 Kick-Off coin

Plastic Models

- Humans: 12 players: 6 Linemen, 2 Blitzers, 2 Throwers, 2 Catchers
- Orcs: 12 players: 6 Linemen, 2 Black Orc Blockers, 2 Blitzers, 2 Throwers.

★ The Coaches: Don't look in the box for these, because there aren't any – you and your opponent are the coaches! To avoid confusion with the teams' players (the plastic playing pieces), we will refer to you and the other real-life players as the teams' coaches. All references to players are to the Blood Bowl pieces.

★ Playing Pitch: This is the field on which the game of Blood Bowl takes place. It's currently big and green (a bit like an Orc) but don't worry – it'll soon be covered in red! It is divided into squares to regulate movement and combat; each square can hold only one Blood Bowl player at a time.

The areas at either end of the pitch are called the End Zones. If a team gets the ball into their opponent's End Zone they score a touchdown. These are good things to score, as the team with the most touchdowns wins the match and then can dance around a lot!

In the centre of the pitch is the half-way line, and running along the sides of the pitch are the lines which show the boundaries of the wide zones. The rows of squares on either side of the half-way line, and between the two wide zones (14 squares in all), are known as the line of scrimmage. The different areas of the pitch are shown on the diagram below.

★ Block Dice & Six-sided Dice: Blood Bowl uses special Block dice and normal six-sided dice numbered 1 through 6. The special Block dice are used when a player attempts to knock another player down (this is called 'blocking' another player). The six-sided dice are used for a greater number of purposes, and are usually referred to in the rules as D6. If the rules say 'roll a D6' or 'roll a dice', this simply means roll one six-sided dice. If the rules say 'roll 2D6', it means roll two D6 and add their scores together. If the rules say to 'roll a D3', roll a six-sided dice. The result is halved, rounding any fractions up (i.e., 1-2 = 1, 3-4 = 2, 5-6 = 3).

★ Throw-in Template: In Blood Bowl the ball is thrown back onto the pitch by the enthusiastic crowd if it ever goes out of bounds. The Throw-in template is used to determine where the ball ends up when it is thrown back in. To use the Throw-in template, position the square marked with the ball over the last square the ball crossed before going off, with the centre arrow (the one marked 3-4) pointing towards the opposite sideline. Roll one D6. The result will show the direction the ball travels in. Then simply roll two D6 to see how many squares the ball will travel in that direction, counting from the square marked with the ball as the first square.

★ Scatter Template: The Scatter template is used when the ball is dropped or a pass misses the target square. To use the template (you'll be told when to do this by the rules), position the central square over the ball. Roll the eight-sided dice, and move the ball to the square indicated by the score. The eight-sided dice included with the game is mainly used with the Scatter template. Use it like a normal D6, reading the number on the upward facing side.

★ BLOOD BOWL

★ Playing Pieces: The plastic playing pieces represent the 12 players from each team's squad, of whom 11 may be on the pitch at any one time. They should be carefully removed from the sprue, and then slotted into the plastic slotta-bases. There are six main types of player in Blood Bowl: Blitzers, Catchers, Throwers, Linemen, Runners and Blockers. The teams of different races contain different combinations of players. An Orc team, for example, has no Catchers or Runners.

To get you started, the Blood Bowl box contains one Orc team and one Human team. The Orc team is made up of 2 Blitzers, 2 Black Orc Blockers, 2 Throwers and 6 Linemen, while the Human team has 2 Blitzers, 2 Catchers, 2 Throwers and 6 Linemen.

Blitzers are just about the best all-round players on the pitch. They are quite fast and agile, yet strong enough to smash their way through the opposing line when they have to. Former ace Reavers player Griff Oberwald is a typical Blitzer: fast, strong and just a bit too flash!

Catchers are the opposite of Blockers. Lightly armoured and very agile, they can't afford to get into fights. In the open, however, they are unmatched – and nobody is better at catching the ball. Catchers specialize in waiting near the End Zone for that all-important touchdown pass to come sailing in out of the blue. The only problem in being a Catcher is if someone should catch you!

Throwers are the most glamorous players on the pitch, able to throw a precise Long Bomb to the waiting hands of a player far down the pitch. Or at least that's the theory; throwing the ball well takes real skill.

Linemen are the standard players of the team, not brilliant at any one thing, but capable enough to fill in for an injured player when necessary. Some teams seem to be made up of nothing but Linemen – which is why they are always at the bottom of the league!

Runners are normally the fastest players on the team, capable of outdistancing their team-mates to quickly advance the ball up pitch. While Runners might not have the talented hands of a Catcher and Runners from different races may have very different skill sets, teams that favour the running instead of the passing game find these players are invaluable.

Blockers are very strong and wear extra armour to protect themselves in the powerful head-to-head blocks that are their specialty. However, they are not all that fast, and against an agile opponent with room to dodge they almost always come off second best.

★ Team Card: There are two team cards, one for the Orc team and one for the Human team. The team card lists the team's Fan Factor and team re-rolls, and shows the characteristics and skills of each of the different types of player in the team:

Movement Allowance (abbreviated to MA): This shows the number of squares the player may move in a turn.

Strength (ST): A player's Strength represents how physically powerful he is, and is used to block opponents.

Agility (AG): The higher a player's agility, the more likely they are to be able to avoid tackles attempted by other players, accurately throw the ball, and catch a ball that is thrown to them.

Armour Value (AV): This shows the amount of armour the player is wearing. The higher the number, the more armour the player has on. Catchers, for example, wear little or no armour.

Skills: In addition to his characteristics, a player may have one or more skills, which represent special talents or abilities. For example, all Throwers have the Pass skill to show their extraordinary ability at throwing the ball.

Rules Summary: On each team card there is also a short summary of the rules to save you from constantly flicking through the book. The summary lists all of the vital information you need to know about the players, such as the number of squares they can move, the dice rolls they need to dodge out of a square or pass the ball, and so on.

★ Kick-off Coin: You can use this 'coin' to determine which side kicks off first in the match. The coin has an Orc face on one side and an Imperial eagle on the other. One coach tosses the coin and while it is in the air the other coach calls "Orcs" or "Eagles".

★ Quick Reference Sheets: These handy pieces of card include all of the most regularly used charts and tables from the game, and will save you from flicking through the book when you are playing a match.

★ Team Roster Sheets: The team rosters are only used if you use the optional rules for Creating a Blood Bowl Team (see page 16 of the Extra Rules section). You won't need them for your first couple of games, so put them to one side for the time being.

★ Plastic Range Ruler: The ruler is used to measure the range when a player throws the ball. When you are instructed to measure the range, place the 'O' at one end over the centre of the square of the player throwing the ball and the red line that runs up the middle of the ruler over the centre of the square of the player the ball is being thrown to. If the line between two passing ranges crosses any part of the receiving player's square, then you should use the higher range.

★ The Ball: Possibly the most important component in the game! There are four plastic footballs included with the game, but only one is used at a time. A football is referred to as a ball in the rules. The ball can be 'held' by a player by simply putting it on their base.

★ Dugouts: Each coach is given one Dugout at the start of the match. It is used to hold players that are in reserve or have been injured, and to keep track of how many turns have elapsed and the number of team re-rolls the team has left. Also included with the game are sets of counters which are used on the tracks on the Dugout. For example, the Turn marker goes on the Turn track (marked First Half and Second Half) on the Dugout.

RESERVES	KNOCKED OUT
FIRST HALF	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
SECOND HALF	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
RE-ROLLS	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

SETTING UP THE GAME

Before you start, it's a good idea to read through these rules at least once so you get some idea of what you are doing. Once you have done this, lay out the board and assemble the plastic players. One coach should take all of the Orc players, the other the Human ones. The owner of the game always gets the first choice as to which team he will play! Each coach will also need a Dugout, the appropriate team card and a set of counters. Each coach should place his or her Dugout behind one of the End Zones. This shows which half of the pitch belongs to each team. You score a touchdown by getting the ball into the opposing team's End Zone.

Each coach should place a Turn marker in the First Half square on the turn track, and a Score counter in the Score track on the board nearest their own End Zone. Finally, each coach should refer to their team card to see how many Re-roll counters their team is entitled to, and should place that many counters on the Re-roll track of the Dugout.

Flip the Blood Bowl coin or roll a D6 to see which coach will choose who will set up first. The team that sets up first is called the kicking team, because they will kick-off the ball. The other team is called the receiving team, because they will receive the kick-off. Each coach must set up 11 players, or if they can't field 11 then as many players as they have in Reserves, between their end zone and the halfway line, and within the following restrictions:

1. The kicking team always sets up first.
2. No more than two players may be set up in each wide zone (i.e., a maximum of four players may be split wide, two on each flank).
3. At least three players must be set up next to the half way line, on the line of scrimmage.

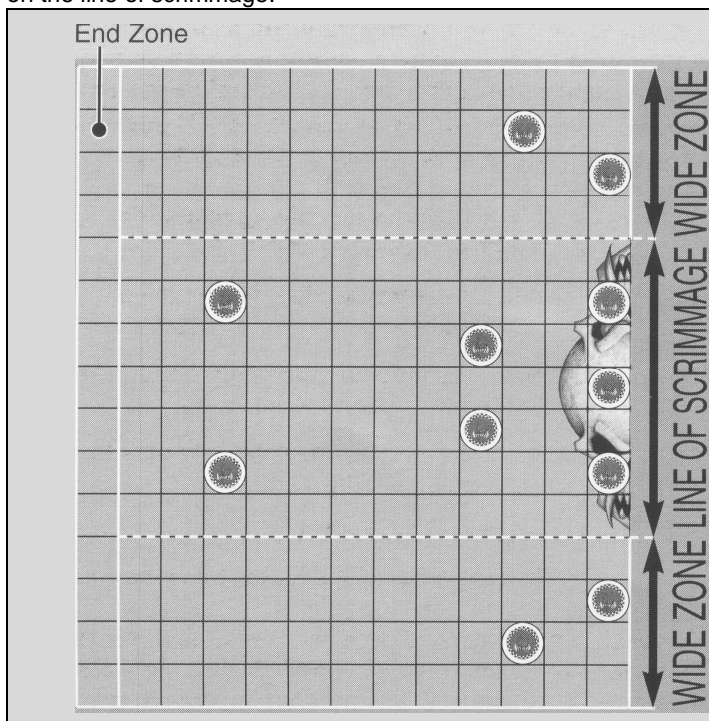

If you cannot set up 3 players on the Line of Scrimmage you must either concede the match (see page 15 (or page 29 if you are using the Extra Rules)), or carry on playing by placing as many players on the line of scrimmage as possible.

THE KICK-OFF

After both teams have set up, the coach of the kicking team places the ball in any square in the opponent's half of the pitch, including the opponent's End Zone if he likes. The ball will then scatter in a random direction. Using the Scatter template, roll the eight-sided dice once for the direction of scatter, and then roll a D6 to see how many squares the ball will go.

Important note: The kick-off is the only time that you roll a D6 to see how many squares the ball moves when it scatters. This is because kicks are very inaccurate. When rolling scatter for a missed pass, or when the ball bounces, the ball only moves one square per Scatter roll.

A kick-off must land in the opponent's half of the pitch. Assuming the ball lands in the receiving team's half of the pitch, then it will either land in an empty square or a square occupied by a player. If the ball lands in an empty square it will bounce one more square (see Bouncing Balls on page 13). If the ball lands on a square occupied by a player, the player must try to catch the ball (see Catching the Ball on page 13). If the ball scatters or bounces off the pitch or into the kicking team's half, the receiving coach is awarded a 'touchback' and must give the ball to any player in his team. Once the kick-off has been taken you are ready to proceed to the first turn of the game.

SLOW-MOTION REPLAY

Jim: As any coach will tell you, Bob, a team's starting formation is vitally important. Here we can see an example of the Orcland Raiders' famous 5-4-2 or "Deep Defence" formation. This formation is used by the Raiders against fast moving or agile teams like Skaven or Elves (some would argue with limited success).

Bob: You said it, Jim. Notice how the Raiders have made sure that there are no gaps in their line for opposing players to run through – every square is covered by an Orc player or one of his tackle zones.

Jim: That's absolutely right, Bob. And as added insurance the Orcs have kept two players back deep, close to their own End Zone, so that they can catch any enemy players lucky enough to dodge their way through the Orc front line.

THE SEQUENCE OF PLAY

Blood Bowl is split into two halves of sixteen turns each (i.e., eight turns per coach). At the end of the second half the team with the most touchdowns is the winner. The game is played using a simple but strict sequence of play, which runs as follows:

A. Receiving Team's Turn B. Kicking Team's Turn

Repeat A and B, one after the other, until the end of the drive.
NOTE: A drive is defined as playing until a touchdown is scored or the half ends.

During a turn, the team in play may perform one Action with each player in the team. A coach is only allowed four minutes to complete his turn. The players on the other team may not take any Actions until their own turn comes around.

MOVING THE TURN MARKER

Each coach is responsible for keeping track of how many turns his team has used, and must move the Turn marker one space along the track provided on his Dugout at the start of each and every one of his turns. If he forgets to move the counter before starting a play with one or more of his players, then the opposing coach is allowed to call for an 'illegal procedure' penalty as soon as he spots the mistake. A play is considered to be moving a player one or more squares, standing up a player or rolling the dice during your turn.

A coach who is called for an illegal procedure must either end his turn or immediately lose one re-roll, which will count as the use of a team re-roll for the turn if one has not already been used. If the coach chooses to not end his turn and has no re-rolls left, then the opposing coach gains a re-roll. If a coach forgets to move the Turn marker, but rectifies his mistake before the opposing coach spots the error, then he cannot be called for an illegal procedure. If a coach incorrectly calls an illegal procedure then he must lose a re-roll immediately, if he has no re-rolls remaining his opponent gains a re-roll.

PLAYER ACTIONS

Each player in a team may perform one Action per turn. The Actions that may be performed are described below. When all of the players in a team have performed an Action then the turn ends and the opposing coach is allowed to take a turn.

You must declare which Action a player is going to take before carrying out the Action. For example, you might say, "This player is going to take a Block Action."

Players perform Actions one at a time. In other words, the coach may perform an Action with one player, and then perform an Action with another player, and so on. This carries on until all of the players have performed an Action, or the coach does not want to perform an Action with any more players. Note that a player must finish his Action before another player can take one. Each player may only perform one Action per turn. Only one Blitz and one Pass Action may be taken in each turn. These Actions must be taken by separate players; a player cannot perform a Blitz Action and a Pass Action in the same turn.

LIST OF ACTIONS

Move: The player may move a number of squares equal to their Movement Allowance (MA) (including moving zero squares).

Block: The player may make a single block against a player in an adjacent square. Players that are Prone may not perform this Action.

Blitz: The player may move a number of squares equal to their MA. He may make one block during the move. The block may be made at any point during the move, and 'costs' one square of movement.

IMPORTANT: This Action may not be declared by more than one player per turn. However, any player may perform a Blitz – the player doesn't have to be a Blitzzer (Blitzers are just better at it than other players).

Pass: The player may move a number of squares equal to his MA. At the end of the move the player may pass the ball.

IMPORTANT: This Action may not be declared by more than one player per turn.

NOTE: The Extra Rules section adds two additional Actions: Hand-off (see page 20) and Foul (see page 23). Neither of these Actions may be declared by more than one player per turn.

TURNOVERS

Normally, a turn only ends when all of the players in the team have performed an Action. However, certain events cause the turn to end before all of the players have taken an Action. These events are called turnovers. The following events cause a turnover:

1. A player on the moving team is Knocked Down (being injured by the crowd or being Placed Prone is not a turnover unless it is a player from the active team holding the ball; e.g. skills like Diving Tackle, Piling On and Wrestle count as being Placed Prone) or
2. A passed ball, or hand-off, is not caught by any member of the moving team before the ball comes to rest or
3. A player from the moving team attempts to pick up the ball and fails (note: failing a catch roll, as opposed to a pick up, is by itself never a turnover) or
4. A touchdown is scored or
5. The four-minute time limit for the turn runs out or
6. A pass attempt is fumbled even if a player from that team catches the fumbled ball or
7. A player with the ball is thrown or is attempted to be thrown using Throw Team-Mate and fails to land successfully (including being eaten or squirming free from an Always Hungry roll) or
8. A player is ejected by the referee for a foul.

A coach that suffers a turnover is not allowed to take any further Actions that turn, and any Action being taken ends immediately even if it was only partially completed. Make armour and injury rolls for players that were knocked down, and if the ball was dropped then roll to see where it bounces to normally. Stunned players should be turned face up, and then the opposing coach may start to take his turn.

MOVEMENT

A player may move a number of squares equal to his Movement Allowance. Players may move in any direction or combination of directions, including diagonally, as long as they do not enter a square that holds another player (from either team). Players do not have to use up all of their Movement Allowance in their turn; they don't need to move at all if his coach does not want them to.

TACKLE ZONES

A standing player exerts individual tackle zones on each of the eight adjacent squares, as shown in the diagram below. A player who is Prone or Stunned does not exert any tackle zones.

In order to leave a square that is in one or more opposing tackle zones, a player must dodge out of the square. The player only has to dodge once in order to leave the square, no matter how many opposing tackles zones are on it. Note that you must always make a Dodge roll when you leave a tackle zone, even if there aren't any tackle zones on the square you are moving to (see the slow-motion replay).

Look up the player's Agility on the Agility table opposite to find the score required to successfully dodge out of the square. For example, if the player had an Agility of 3 he would need to roll a 4 or more to dodge out of the square. Roll a D6, and add or subtract any of the modifiers that apply to the D6 roll. A roll of 1 before modification ALWAYS fails and a roll of 6 before modification ALWAYS succeeds.

If the final modified score equals or beats the required roll, the player may carry on moving (and dodging if required) until he has used up his full Movement Allowance. If the D6 roll is less than the required total, then the player is Knocked Down in the square he was dodging to and a roll must be made to see if he was injured (See Knock Downs & Injuries). If the player is Knocked Down then his team suffers a turnover and their turn ends immediately.

PICKING UP THE BALL

If a player moves into a square in which the ball is lying, they must attempt to pick it up, and – if they wish and are able – carry on moving.

Players that move into the square with the ball at other times (e.g., when pushed back, thrown by another player with Throw Team-Mate, etc.) cannot pick up the ball, and instead it will bounce one square. This does not cause a turnover. See Bouncing Balls on page 13.

Look up the player's Agility on the Agility table to find the score required to successfully pick up the ball. Roll a D6, and add or subtract any of the modifiers that apply to the D6 roll. A roll of 1 before modification ALWAYS fails and a roll of 6 before modification ALWAYS succeeds for any Agility roll made during a game.

If the final modified score equals or beats the required roll, then the player succeeds in picking up the ball. Place the ball on the player's base to show that he has picked it up and carry on with the player's turn. If the D6 roll is less than the required total, then the player drops the ball, which will bounce one square. If the player drops the ball then his team suffers a turnover and their turn ends immediately.

D6 Roll Required	6+	5+	4+	3+	2+	1+

Pick-up Modifiers

Picking up the ball +1
 Per opposing tackle zone on the player -1

IMPORTANT: The Agility table is used to work out the success or failure of a number of different Actions in Blood Bowl including dodging, picking up the ball, and throwing or catching the ball to name but a few. Each Action has its own set of modifiers, and it is only these modifiers which apply to the D6 roll (i.e., do not use any of the dodging modifiers when attempting to pick up the ball).

SLOW-MOTION REPLAY

Jim: There goes Dieter Blunt, of the Reikland Reavers and it looks to me, Bob, like he's going to try to move through the tackle zones of two Orcland Raiders players! First he tries to move to square 1. Dieter has an Agility of 3, which means that he needs to roll a basic 4 or more to dodge successfully out of the square. He gets a +1 to the roll for making a dodge, but has to subtract 2 because there are two Orc tackle zones on the square he is moving to, for a final modifier of -1. Dieter makes the move – the crowd holds its breath – and the D6 roll is a 5, which means that Dieter successfully dodges into the square!

Bob: Too right! Dieter moves to square 1 and decides to keep on going to square 2. Dieter must still make a Dodge roll, though there aren't any tackle zones on square 2, because he is leaving the tackle zones on square 1. There are no tackle zones on square 2, which means that Dieter gets a +1 modifier to his D6 roll. OH NO! Dieter rolls a 1 and comes crashing down. Now he's lying prone in square 2 after an unsuccessful armour roll, and what's more that causes a turnover for the Reavers, so it's the Orcland Raiders to move next!

EXAMPLE OF DODGING:

AGILITY	1	2	3	4	5	6+
DODGING ROLL	6+	5+	4+	3+	2+	1+
DODGING MODIFIERS
Making a dodge roll						+1
Per enemy tackle zone on the square that the player is dodging to						-1

BLOCKS

Instead of moving, a player may throw a block at an opposing player who is in an adjacent square. You may only make a block against a standing player – you may not block a player who has already been Knocked Down. A block is a very rough tackle, designed to really stop an opponent in his tracks! To see if a block works you will need to use the special Block dice included with the game.

Varag Ghou-Chewer demonstrates how to make a block.

BLITZ MOVES

Once per turn a player on the moving team is allowed to make a special Blitz move. A blitz allows the player to move and make a block. The block may be made at any point during the move, but costs one square of movement for the player to make. The player may carry on moving after the effects of the block have been worked out if he has any squares of movement left.

STRENGTH

The number of dice that are rolled depends on the strengths of the two players involved. Obviously, if one player is stronger than the other he is more likely to knock down their opponent when he makes a block. To represent this, the number of Block dice that are rolled varies depending on the relative strengths of the players. However, no matter how many dice are rolled, only one of them is ever used to decide the result of the block. The coach of the stronger player chooses which of the dice is used.

If the players' strengths are EQUAL, one dice is rolled.

If one player is STRONGER, two dice are rolled and the coach of the stronger player may choose which one is used.

If one player is MORE THAN TWICE AS STRONG, three dice are rolled and the coach of the stronger player may choose which is used.

Note that the coach of the player making the block always rolls the dice, but that the coach of the stronger player may choose which is used.

NOTE: Extra rules on page 21 allow players not involved in the block to assist the blocking players which can alter the number of dice rolled.

The Result

Roll the appropriate number of dice and look up the result on the table below. On the table, the player making the block is referred to as the attacker, while his target is the defender.

Symbol	Result
	ATTACKER DOWN: The attacking player is Knocked Down.
	BOTH DOWN: Both players are Knocked Down, unless one or both of the players involved has the Block skill. If one player uses the Block skill then he is not Knocked Down by this result, though his opponent will still go down. If both the players use the Block skill then neither player is Knocked Down.
	PUSHED: The defending player is pushed back one square by the blocking player. The attacking player may follow up the defender.
	DEFENDER STUMBLES: Unless the defender uses the Dodge skill he is pushed back and then Knocked Down. If he does use the Dodge skill then he is only pushed back. The attacking player may follow up the defender.
	DEFENDER DOWN: The defending player is pushed back and then Knocked Down in the square they are moved to. The attacking player may follow up the defender.

SLOW-MOTION REPLAY

Jim: And there goes Skurf Limbrender, the Orland Raiders' star Black Orc Blocker. He's just blitzed down the pitch and now he's going to throw a block at Jacob von Altdorf, the Reavers' Thrower. Skurf's got a Strength of 4, compared to Jacob's 3, which means that Skurf can roll two Block dice and choose which one he will use. He rolls a  (Attacker Down) and a  (Defender Down), and uses the 'Defender Down' result to smash Jacob back a square and knock him flat on his back in the mud – KERRUNCH!

EXAMPLE OF BLOCKING:

PLAYERS' STRENGTHS

- Both players equal strength
- One player stronger
- One player more than twice as strong

ROLL:

- One Block Dice
- Two Block Dice*
- Three Block Dice*

*The coach of the stronger player picks which Block dice is used.

Push Backs: A player that is pushed back as a result of a block must be moved one square away from the player making the block, as shown in the diagrams. The coach of the player who made the block may decide which square the player is moved to. The player must be pushed back into an empty square if possible. A square containing only the ball is considered empty and a player pushed to it will cause the ball to bounce (see page 13). If all such squares are occupied by other players, then the player is pushed into an occupied square, and the player that originally occupied the square is pushed back in turn. This secondary push back is treated exactly like a normal push back as if the second player had been blocked by the first (prone and stunned players may be pushed this way as well.). The coach of the moving team decides all push back directions for secondary push backs unless the pushed player has a skill that overrides this.

Players must be pushed off the pitch if there are no eligible empty squares on the pitch. A player pushed off the pitch, even if Knocked Down, is beaten up only by the crowd and receives one roll on the Injury table (see Injuries, opposite). The crowd does not have any injury modifying skills.

Note that no Armour roll is made for a player that is pushed off the pitch, they are automatically injured. If a 'Stunned' result is rolled on the Injury table the player should be placed in the Reserves box of the Dugout, and must remain there until a touchdown is scored or the half ends. If the player who is holding the ball is pushed out of bounds, then he is beaten up by the fans, who are more than happy to throw the ball back into play! The Throw-in template is centred on the last square the player was in before he was pushed off the pitch.

PUSH BACK EXAMPLES

The shaded squares in the diagrams above show the squares a player can be pushed back into.

Knock Downs: A player that is Knocked Down should be placed on their side in the square, face up. The player may be injured (see Injuries, page 11). If the player who is Knocked Down comes from the moving team, then this caused a turnover and the moving team's turn ends immediately!

Follow Up Moves: A player who has made a block is allowed to make a special follow up move and occupy a square vacated by the player that he has pushed back. The player's coach must decide whether to follow up before any other dice rolls are made. This move is free, and the player can ignore enemy tackle zones when he makes the move (i.e., he does not have to dodge to enter the square). A player that is blitzing is allowed to make a follow up move, and the move does not cost him any additional movement (as he paid a square in order to make the block, he has effectively already paid for the move).

KNOCK DOWNS & INJURIES

Players that are Knocked Down or Placed Prone for any reason should be placed face up on the pitch in the square they were in when they fell over. While Prone, the player loses his tackle zones and may do nothing before standing up at a cost of three squares of his movement when he next takes an Action. Players may stand up in an opposing player's tackle zone without having to make a Dodge roll (they will have to dodge if they subsequently leave). Note that a player who stands up may not take a Block Action, because you may not move when you take a Block Action. The player may take any Action other than a Block Action.

If a player carrying the ball is Knocked Down or Placed Prone, he will drop the ball in the square where he falls. The dropped ball will bounce one square in a random direction (see Bouncing Balls, page 13) after the player's armour and injury rolls (if any) are fully resolved.

INJURIES

Unless the rules state otherwise, any player that is Knocked Down may be injured. The opposing coach rolls two D6 and adds their scores together in an attempt to try to beat the Knocked Down player's Armour value. If the roll succeeds, then the opposing coach is allowed to roll on the Injury table in the next column to see what injury the player has suffered.

Split Tendoncutter, Skaven Blitzer

STANDING UP

The only time a player can stand up is at the beginning of an Action at a cost of three squares from his movement. If the player has less than three squares of movement, he must roll 4+ to stand up - if he stands up successfully, he may not move further squares unless he Goes For It (see Extra Rules page 20). Failure to stand successfully for any reason is not a turnover.

SUBSTITUTES

A coach may not substitute fit players for injured players or players that have been sent off while a drive is in progress. The only time that a coach may add reserves is when setting up after a touchdown has been scored, or when setting up after half time or for overtime.

A Dwarf Deathroller claims another victim

INJURY TABLE

2D6	Result
2-7	Stunned – Leave the player on the pitch, but turn him face-down. All face-down players are turned face up at the end of their team's next turn, even if a turnover takes place. Note that a player may not turn face up on the turn he is Stunned. Once face-up he may stand up on any subsequent turn using the normal rules.
8-9	KO'd – Take the player off the pitch and place him in the Dugout in the KO'd Players box. At the next kick-off, before you set up any players, roll for each of your players that have been KO'd. On a roll of 1-3 he must remain in the KO'd box and may not be used, although you may roll again for him at the next kick-off. On a roll of 4-6 you must return the player to the Reserves box and can use him as normal from now on.
10-12	Casualty – Take the player off the pitch and place him in the Dugout in the Dead & Injured Players box. The player must miss the rest of the match. In league play roll on the Casualty table (see page 25) to see exactly what has happened to the player.

THROWING THE BALL

Once per turn a player on the moving team is allowed to make a Pass Action. The player is allowed to make a normal move, and after he has completed the move he may throw the ball even if the receiver is in an adjacent square. Note that the player does not have to be holding the ball at the start of the Action; he could use his move to run over and pick up a ball on the ground and then throw it, for example.

THROWING

First of all, the coach must declare that the player is taking a Pass Action. The player can throw the ball to another player in his own team (or another player in the opposing team if he really wants to), or simply to an empty square, though obviously the first of these options will be the most useful – and may keep him from being attacked by his own team members! The ball may only be passed once per turn.

Next, the coach must measure the range using the range ruler (see page 5 for how to correctly use the range ruler). It is perfectly acceptable to pre-measure the range to several players at any point during the throwing player's move before you declare the target of the pass. Once you have thrown the ball, however, you may not move the throwing player any farther that turn, even if he has spare MA left.

Look up the player's Agility on the Agility table to find the score required to successfully pass the ball. Roll a D6, and add or subtract any of the modifiers that apply to the D6 roll. A roll of 1 before modification always fails and a roll of 6 before modification always succeeds.

If the final modified score equals or beats the required roll, the pass is accurate and lands in the target square. If the D6 roll is less than the required total, then the pass is not accurate and will scatter. Roll for scatter three times, one after the other, to see where the ball ends up. Note that each of the Scatter rolls is made separately, so it is possible for the ball to end up back in the target square (though it will be harder to catch). The ball can only be caught in the final square where it ends up – if it scatters through a player's square then the player is not allowed to try and catch the ball.

NOTE: Extra rules on page 22 allow for throwers to fumble the pass and for opponents to attempt pass interceptions.

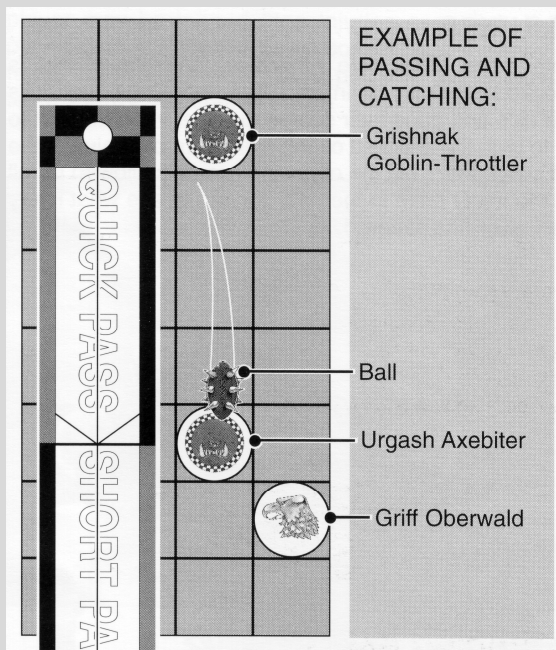

SLOW-MOTION REPLAY

Bob: And there's Grishnak Goblin-Throttler for the Orcland Raiders, who has an Agility of 3 and is attempting to throw the ball four squares to Urgash Axebiter. The range ruler shows that this falls just on the boundary between a Quick and a Short Pass, so the longer of the two ranges must be used.

Jim: That's right, Bob. Grishnak's Agility of 3 means that he must roll a 4 or more to be on target. No modifiers apply to the D6 roll because Grishnak is not in any tackle zones, and the modifier for a Short Pass is +0. Grishnak's arm goes back and he throws a 6. Look at that ball go, bam!, right on target!! Now all Axebiter has to do is catch it...

Bob: You said it, Jim. It's an accurate pass so Urgash gets a +1 to his D6 roll, but there's Griff Oberwald next to him, so his chances of catching suffers a -1 modifier, which means that Urgash needs a 4+ to catch the ball. The crowd goes quiet as the dice are rolled. A 3 – he's dropped it, and the ball bounces away one square.

Jim: And if I can just butt in here, Bob, that missed pass causes a turnover, which ends the Orcland Raiders' turn...

CATCHING THE BALL

If the ball lands in a square occupied by a standing player, then the player must attempt to catch the ball. Prone and Stunned players may never attempt to catch the ball. Either team's players may attempt to catch the ball (if a player from the other team manages to catch the ball he can yell and jump around a lot).

Look up the player's Agility on the Agility table to find the score required to successfully catch the ball. Roll a D6, and add or subtract any of the modifiers that apply to the D6 roll. A roll of 1 before modification always fails and a roll of 6 before modification always succeeds.

If the final modified score equals or beats the required roll, then the player succeeds in catching the ball. Place the ball on the player's base to show that he has caught it and carry on with the turn. If the player who caught the ball has not taken an Action yet, he may do so as normal. If the D6 roll is less than the required total, then the player drops the ball and it will bounce (see Bouncing Balls, below).

★ ★ ★ Did you know...

That the Lowdown Ratz experimented in training this year with a new player, a giant black war wolf! The wolf ate six team players, seriously injured four assistant coaches, crippled the apothecary and ran away into the swamps with the only ball the Ratz have; effectively ending any chance of a Blood Bowl final appearance... not that they had a Halfling's hope in the Chaos All-Stars' bathroom anyway.

BOUNCING BALLS

If the ball is dropped or not caught, or the ball bounces to a square with a Prone or Stunned player, or a player is pushed to or lands in the ball's square, or the square where a thrown ball lands is unoccupied (or is occupied by a Prone or Stunned player) then it will bounce. This is a technical term for the thing jumping about all over the place while the players stumble about trying to grab it! To find out where the ball bounces to, roll for scatter one more time. If the ball bounces into an occupied square, then the player in the square must attempt to catch it, as described above. If the player fails to catch the ball, then it will bounce again until it is either caught or bounces into an empty square or off the pitch.

Jacob von Altdorf, Human Thrower

THROW-INS

When a ball scatters or bounces off the pitch it is immediately thrown back in by the eager spectators! Use the Throw-in template to work out where the ball goes, using the last square the ball crossed before going off as a starting point (see page 3 for how the Throw-in template is used to throw-in the ball 2d6 squares). If the ball is thrown into a square occupied by a standing player, that player must attempt to catch the ball as described earlier. If the ball lands in an empty square or a square occupied by a Prone or Stunned player, then it will bounce. If a throw-in results in the ball going off the pitch again, it will be thrown in again, centred on the last square it was in before it left the pitch. Throw-ins cannot be intercepted.

TURNOVERS

If a ball thrown by a player isn't caught by a player from the moving team, this causes a turnover and the moving team's turn ends. The turnover does not take place until the ball finally comes to rest. This means that if the ball misses the target but is still caught by a player from the moving team, then a turnover does not take place. The ball could even scatter or bounce out of bounds, be thrown back into an empty square, and as long as it was caught by a player from the moving team then the turnover would be avoided!

RE-ROLLS

Re-rolls are very important in Blood Bowl, as you will quickly discover. There are two types of re-rolls: team re-rolls and player re-rolls. In either case, a re-roll allows you to re-roll all the dice that produced any one result. So, for example, a re-roll could be used to re-roll a dodge, in which case the single dice rolled would be thrown again, or a three dice block, in which case all three dice would be rolled again, and so on.

VERY IMPORTANT: No matter how many re-rolls you have, or what type they are, you may never re-roll a single dice roll more than once.

TEAM RE-ROLLS

Team re-rolls represent how well trained a team is. A coach may use a team re-roll to re-roll any dice roll (other than Scatter, Distance, Direction, Armour, Injury or Casualty rolls) made by a player on his own team and who is still on the pitch during their own turn (even if the dice roll was successful). The result of the new roll must be accepted in place of the first, even if it is worse. A coach may not use more than one Re-roll counter per turn, and may not use a Re-roll counter to force the opposing coach to re-roll a dice roll.

Each coach must keep track of the number of re-rolls he has left on the track provided on their Dugout. Every time a coach uses up a team re-roll he must remove a counter from the track. When there are no markers left the coach may not use any more team re-rolls that half. At half time the two teams get a chance to rest and recuperate, and so their team re-rolls are restored to their starting level.

PLAYER RE-ROLLS

Some players have skills that allow them to re-roll the dice under certain circumstances. For example, a thrower has the Pass skill which allows him to re-roll the dice if he misses a pass. A coach may use any number of player re-rolls in the same turn, and a single player may use a skill any number of times in the same match. However, as noted above, a single dice roll may not be re-rolled more than once.

SKILLS

Many players are described as having one or more skills. These are special abilities that modify the player's performance. Some skills allow dice re-rolls as described above, while others allow a player to carry out a special Action. A full description of each skill is given opposite, and reproduced on the back of the quick reference sheet. The complete list of skills is given later on in this book, for now stick with the skills listed here. You'll need to refer to the sheet quite a lot during your first few games – but don't worry, the effects of the skills will become very familiar.

That the former Skink international 'Diegi Maratona' has been attempting to come out of retirement. Sadly the little Skink wonder that dazzled us all with his amazing dodges and runs in the 2486 Blood Bowl season for the Slashers has almost tripled in weight and now resembles a little green pudding due to his sugar cane addiction.

Running up huge debts (rumour has it that he challenged Tzeentch, Chaos God of change/chance, to a game of dice), Diegi has been forced to recover his career to get his finances in order. If the Skink can clean up his sugar cane addiction then perhaps he'll be a surprise star of this season. But will anyone be willing to sign him for the huge fee he's demanding?

- Block: The Block skill, if used, affects the results rolled with the Block dice, as explained in the Blocking rules.
- Catch: A player that has the Catch skill is allowed to re-roll the dice if he fails to catch the ball. If you are using the Extra Rules printed later, then the Catch skill also allows the player to re-roll the dice if he drops a hand-off or fails to make an interception.
- Dodge: A player with the Dodge skill is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he fails to dodge out of an opposing player's tackle zone. However, the player may only re-roll one failed Dodge roll per turn. So, if the player kept on moving and failed a second Dodge roll, he could not use the skill again. The Dodge skill also, if used, affects the results rolled with the Block dice (see the rules for Blocks).
- Pass: A player with the Pass skill is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he misses a pass.
- Sure Hands: A player with the Sure Hands skill is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he fails to pick up the ball. In addition, if you are using the Extra Rules printed later, an opposing player who has the Strip Ball skill may not use it against a player who has Sure Hands.

Many players have skills such as Catch, Pass etc. Unless stated otherwise in the skill description you never have to use a skill just because the player's got it, and you can choose to use a skill that affects a dice roll after rolling the dice. For example, you could say you were going to use the Catch skill either before or after making a catch D6 roll.

Some skills are also used in the opponent's turn. In this case you may choose to use the skill after an opposing player carries out an Action or moves a square. If both coaches want to use a skill to affect the same Action or move, then the coach whose turn is taking place must use his skill first.

Note that you can't 'go back' in time and use a skill or re-roll to affect an earlier Action. For example, if a player was blitzing, you couldn't have him throw a block, move a couple of squares, and then say "Actually, I think I'll use my Pro skill to re-roll that block." – the skill or re-roll must be used directly before or after the event it will affect or not at all.

WINNING THE MATCH

Blood Bowl is split into two halves of sixteen turns each (eight turns per coach, per half). Each coach is responsible for keeping track of how many turns his team has used, and must move the marker one space along the track provided on his Dugout at the start of each of his turns, as explained earlier. Play stops when both coaches have had eight turns each, giving the players the chance of a much needed rest, and for the coaches to replenish the team's full complement of re-roll counters on the team re-roll track. Play restarts with another kick-off at the start of the second half.

The team with the most touchdowns at the end of the last turn of the second half is the winner. If the match is tied at the end of the second half it is declared a draw unless both coaches agree to go into 'sudden death overtime.' Flip the Blood Bowl coin to see which coach chooses who kicks-off, and then play a third series of eight turns per team. Any re-rolls still remaining at the end of the second half (including re-rolls earned from Kick-off events, Inducements or Special Play cards) are carried over and may be used in overtime, but teams do not receive new allocations of re-rolls as they normally would at the start of a new half. The first team to score wins the match. If neither team scores, then the match is decided by a penalty shoot-out; each coach rolls a D6, high score wins, re-roll ties! Each unused team re-roll adds 1 to the D6 score.

SCORING TOUCHDOWNS IN YOUR TURN

A team scores a touchdown during their turn when one of their players is standing in the opposing team's End Zone while holding the ball at the end of any of your players' Actions. As soon as this happens, play stops, the crowd cheers and whistles and cheerleaders dance about waving pom-poms. The coach of the scoring team has our permission to leap about and cheer a bit too, while moving the score marker one space along the scoring track on the Playing Pitch.

Goblin Lineman

Any player may enter either End Zone at any time, even if he is not carrying the ball. If the ball is thrown to him and he catches it, or he is able to pick up the ball while in his opponent's End Zone, he scores a touchdown. Note, however, that in order to score a touchdown the player must end his Action standing in the End Zone; if the player failed to make a Dodge roll, for example, and thus was Knocked Down in the End Zone then he would not score a touchdown. If a player from the moving team enters (or was already in) the opposing team's End Zone and has or obtains the ball, then he may not voluntarily leave the End Zone for any reason during the same Action nor may he hand-off or pass the ball – he is far too intent on scoring the touchdown himself!

SCORING IN THE OPPONENT'S TURN

In some rare cases a team will score a touchdown in the opponent's turn. For example, a player holding the ball could be pushed into the End Zone by a block. If one of your players is holding the ball in the opposing team's End Zone at any point during your opponent's turn then your team scores a touchdown immediately, but must move their Turn marker one space along the Turn track to represent the extra time the players spend celebrating this unusual method of scoring!

RESTARTING THE MATCH

After a touchdown has been scored, and at the start of the second half, play is restarted and the match continues. Before the kick-off, however, each coach should roll one D6 for each KO'd player on his team. On a roll of 4, 5 or 6 the player is fit enough to return to play, but on any other result they must stay in the KO'd box in the Dugout.

Both coaches may then set up any fit players just as they did at the start of the game. When play is restarted after a touchdown, the scoring team is always the one to kick off. At the start of the second half, the kicking team is the one that did not kick off at the start of the first half.

In the rare event that one team has no players to set up after KO'd rolls, both teams' turn markers are moved forward along the turn track two spaces and if one team could field at least one player then that team is awarded a touchdown (however no player receives Star Player points (see page 25) for this. If this takes the number of turns to 8 or more for both teams, then the half ends. If there are still turns left in the half, then continue playing as if a drive has just ended (i.e. clear the pitch and roll for KO'd players).

CONCEDING THE MATCH

You may choose to concede a match at the start of one of your own turns, before moving the Turn marker along the track.

STOP! You have read all of the rules that you need to know in order to play a game of Blood Bowl using the teams and team cards provided with the game. Why not have a game or two before you go on to the following extra rules sections...

EXTRA RULES

All of the following extra rules are optional. This means that both coaches must agree which extra rules (if any) they are going to use before the match starts. However, they are all highly recommended and you'll find that using them provides an even more exciting and interesting game without slowing down the mayhem and destruction much at all! Give 'em a try!

CREATING A BLOOD BOWL TEAM

Apart from the teams you will read about in this rulebook, there are many others playing in leagues all over the known world. There are many other Human and Orc teams, for example, which you can play using the plastic models from this set.

All the different races that play Blood Bowl (as well as specific teams and Star Players) will receive detailed coverage in later sections. However, so you can get started with your very own Blood Bowl team straight away, this section presents basic rules for the most popular Blood Bowl playing races. You can either use the plastic playing pieces provided with the game to represent the players in your team, or collect the Citadel miniatures through Games Workshop's Mail Order service.

TEAM ROSTER SHEETS

The pad of team rosters is used to record the playing characteristics of the team for both players to see while playing (i.e., you cannot hide your team's roster from your opponent.) Owners of Blood Bowl are given permission to photocopy team roster sheets for their personal use only. There are many other boxes on the roster sheet not covered in this section. Do not worry about those now as they are needed for league play which is covered on pages 24 to 29.

BUYING PLAYERS

In order to create your team you have a treasury of 1,000,000 gold pieces. This represents the cash you have managed to raise from sponsors or by other, more underhanded means to hire the players for your team. The first step in actually creating the team is to study the team lists (see pages 71 to 79) and decide which you want to use. All of the players in your team must be from the same team list. So, for example, a High Elf team may not include Human players because these players come from a different team list.

Having decided on which team list you will use, you must now hire the players for your team. Each of the players in your team will cost a number of gold pieces, as indicated on the lists. The team list also indicates the maximum number of each type of player you are allowed to take for your team. For example, a Human team may not have more than two Throwers. In addition, your team must have at least 11 players and may not have more than 16. Within these restrictions you may have any number and type of player, just so long as you have the cash to hire them.

TEAM RE-ROLLS AND FAN FACTOR

When you create a team you do not get any team re-rolls or Fan Factor for free – you have to pay for them from your treasury. Each re-roll costs the number of gold pieces shown on the team list for the team that you have chosen, and allows you to re-roll one dice roll per half. If you've played any games using the core rules you will know just how important team re-rolls are, and it is a good idea to take at least one or two for your team.

Your team's Fan Factor represents how popular the team is, and can have important effects on the results you roll on the Kick-Off table. All teams start with a Fan Factor of 0. When you create your team, you may purchase up to 9 additional Fan Factor for 10,000 gold pieces each. Each point of Fan Factor your team has adds 10,000 to the team's value.

COACHING STAFF

A team's coaching staff provides vital back-up to the team's players. Coaching staff are never allowed on the pitch. They must stay on the sidelines during the match. Any team may include the following coaching staff on their roster:

Head Coach (AKA 'The Manager' or 'Da boss')

This model represents you, and so does not cost any gold to hire for the team. During a match your main job is to yell and shout at the players in your team in order to inspire them and, more importantly, to yell and shout at the referee if he makes a call against your team. None of these things have any direct effect on the game (though they may intimidate your opponent). You may, if you wish, use a suitably impressive looking model to represent the Blood Bowl version of yourself!

Helmut Wulf, the tough as nails and madly sadistic chainsaw swinging star, now owns two large mansions thanks to his 'A little off the top, me Lord?' commercial for the 'Ye Olde Barbershop' franchise. He summers in the Border Principalities, and holes up for the winter in Lustria. Helmut keeps busy and close to these expensive properties by hiring himself out to any of the local teams near his current homestead even if it means sharing blood baths with the Vampires in the summer and bashing heads with the Lizardmen in the winter.

The long, long history of Blood Bowl is littered with the corpses of teams which – for one reason or another – didn't survive to play another day. Some run out of gold, which is understandable, because Blood Bowl is an expensive game involving vast sums of gold – bribing all those referees and buying all those spellcasters requires a fortune when the costs are added up over the whole year. Some run out of fans; this is also understandable, because Blood Bowl fans are notoriously fickle. A team which loses every game in a row for seven years can expect to have its fan base substantially reduced. In some cases, fans have taken even more drastic action to stop a downward slide in fortunes: in 2473 the Streissen Vampires were systematically put out of their misery by unhappy fans after they came last in every category for three years running. Worst of all though, some teams run out of players. This happens rather a lot. Some of the many teams no longer with us include:

Shortstuff Scurriers: A Halfling team, the Scurriers first entered the NFC Central Division in 2479. Unluckily, though, they lost their first 34 games, and were disbanded in a wave of disgust! (2479-2480)

Haffenheim Hornets: Eaten by mistake at a pre-match dinner for the Oldheim Ogres. They were mistaken for slaves dressed in Hornets gear, whom the Ogres were to consume to bring them luck. This time it did, in fact, because the incident gave the Oldheim team a clear pass to the next round. (2417-2460)

Wuppertal Wotans: Every single member of this long-running team, including the owner (who was at home in bed at the time), was very suspiciously struck by lightning two minutes before the start of an important semi-final versus the Chaos All Stars. (2483)

Another job well done!

Assistant Coaches

Assistant coaches include offensive and defensive coordinators, special team coaches, personal trainers for your legendary players and numerous others. As a team becomes more successful the number of assistant coaches on its roster just seems to grow and grow. The more assistant coaches you have on your team, the more likely you are to win the 'Brilliant Coaching' result on the Kick-Off table (see page 19).

Each assistant coach you add to the team costs 10,000 gold pieces and should be given a different job title. Assistant coaches do not have to be represented by models, but it's much more fun if they are!

Cheerleaders

Most Blood Bowl teams have a troupe or two of cheerleaders both to inspire the team's players and their fans. It's the team's cheerleaders' job to whip the fans into a state of frenzy and lead the chanting and singing as the crowd's shouts and howls build up to a deafening crescendo. The more cheerleaders you have on your team, the more likely you are to win the 'Cheering Fans' result on the Kick-Off table (see page 19).

Cheerleaders cost 10,000 gold pieces each. Cheerleaders do not have to be represented by cheerleader models, but it's much more fun if they are!

Morg 'n' Thorg refuses any offer to play for a team where he might be playing along side Ramtut III. When Morg first started freelancing his services, he and Ramtut were hired to play for the Champions of Death against the Asgard Ravens. Head Coach Tomolandry believed he was a powerful enough Necromancer to raise an Ogre from the dead and had a nefarious plan for Morg. Tomolandry bribed the Ravens to focus their blocks and fouls on Morg and Ramtut was paid extra to 'accidentally' throw a block or two Morg's way in the hopes of a fatal result. After the 3rd bone-crushing hit by his 'team-mate', Morg realized he had been duped and in a rage literally tore through most of the Champions players, coaching staff, cheerleaders, and reserve players as he exited the pitch.

Apothecary

An Apothecary is a healer wise in the ways of medicine and the healing arts who looks after the injured players in a Blood Bowl team – and so has a strenuous and full-time job! It costs 50,000 gold pieces to purchase an Apothecary to permanently look after your team during a match. He may be represented by an appropriate Citadel miniature if you wish. A team may not have more than one purchased Apothecary. Khemri, Necromantic, Nurgle and Undead teams may not purchase or use an Apothecary.

During a match, an Apothecary may attempt to cure a player who has suffered a Casualty or been KO'd. An Apothecary can be used only once per match. If the player was KO'd leave him on the pitch Stunned, or, if he was not on the pitch, put him in the Reserves box. Otherwise immediately after the player suffers the Casualty, you can use the Apothecary to make your opponent roll again on the Casualty table (see page 25) and then you choose which of the two results to apply. If the player is only Badly Hurt after this roll (even if it was the original Casualty roll) the Apothecary has managed to patch him up and pump him full of painkillers so that the player may be moved into the Reserves box.

Instead of purchasing an Apothecary, Necromantic and Undead teams use the services of a Necromancer. The Necromancer is free to the team and allows the team once per a match to 'Raise the Dead'. If a player on the opposing team with Strength 4 or less that does not have Regeneration or Stunty is killed during the match (after Apothecary attempt if any) then the team may immediately place a new Zombie player in the Reserves box of their dugout (this may cause a team to have more than 16 players for the remainder of the match). During Step 5 of Updating Your Team Roster (see page 29), you may add this player to your roster for free if you have less than 16 players on the team. A free Zombie still counts at full value towards the team value.

THE KICK-OFF TABLE

All kinds of things can happen during a Blood Bowl match: a team may make an inspired play, or raucous fans might throw a large heavy object (e.g., a rock!) at one of the opposing team's players, or even invade the pitch!

The Kick-Off table is used to recreate these unforeseen but fairly common events. After both teams have set up, follow this sequence in the order below:

- Place the ball on the pitch
- Scatter ball to determine where the ball is about to land
- Roll on the Kick-Off table
- Resolve the Kick-Off table result
- Bounce/ catch/or touchback the ball

Selecting a Random Player

Many of the results on the Kick-Off table require that a coach 'select a random player'. In order to help you do this we have included a set of 'Randomiser' counters numbered from 1 to 16. Each counter corresponds to the player with the same number on the team roster. To select one or more players at random, simply place the counters for any players who could be affected in a mug or similar opaque container, and then draw one or more counters from the mug as required.

Team Re-Rolls and the Kick-off Table

You may not re-roll the result on the Kick-Off table with a team re-roll. In addition, subsequent rolls from Kick-Off events such as the D3 roll for Brilliant Coaching or D6 for Riot may not be re-rolled. A team re-roll may not be used for any catch roll when the ball lands: however, players may use the Catch or Pro skill to re-roll the catch roll.

Storm Giants have had a colourful (mostly blood red) record in Blood Bowl.

Storm Giant Galak Starscraper became the first referee to enter the Top 10 of the season's Kill/Maim tables. He was also a key part in the experimental 'eye in the sky' telepathic vision system, when he carried a sorcerer on his shoulder who transmitted what he saw to crystal balls and magic mirrors all over the Known World. This experiment ended when, during one particularly exciting game the sorcerer fell off Galak's shoulder only to be impaled on the helmet spikes of a passing Halfling player. This incident is also remembered as one of the few recorded instances of a Halfling-induced fatality situation in a Blood Bowl game!

The tallest player ever to stride onto a Blood Bowl pitch was Galak's little brother Gurk Cloud-Scraper, Storm Giant half-back for the Asgard Ravens. Standing as tall as nine men, Gurk played in only one match before being barred for life for excessive violence after a game with the Halfling Greenfield Grasshuggers team which included an incident where equally legendary Big Jobo Hairyfeet, opposing captain of the Grasshuggers team, was rather suddenly and drastically reduced in height after being stepped on by Gurk.

The Asgard Ravens use of Storm Giants allowed them to exploit a loophole in the Blood Bowl rules for one season until the NAF clarified the rules. A Blood Bowl pitch according to the original rules must measure 100 by 60 paces, but it did not specify which race's pace is used. Teams playing away against the Asgard Ravens that year would find that the Storm Giant's league long paces would mean that a normal player could travel for days across the Ravens' pitch just to get from the bench to the coin-toss!

A sizable proportion of fans look upon a Blood Bowl match as an opportunity to cause as much mayhem and destruction in the stands as possible. Indeed, many fans feel that something should be done about the small minority of peaceful fans that turn up for games just to watch, and spoil the fun for everyone else.

The Fans

A large number of spectators attend every game of Blood Bowl, some to support one team, some to support another. Others just come to enjoy the spectacle. The number supporting one team compared to the other can have a big effect on the outcome of the game. To determine how many fans turn up to support your team, roll 2D6 and add your Fan Factor to the total. Multiply the score by 1,000 to find the number of fans that have turned up to support your team. For example, the Lowdown Ratz have a Fan Factor of 5. 2D6 are rolled to see how many fans attend. The dice rolls are 2 and 6. Add in the Fan Factor of 5 for a total of 13, which means that 13,000 rat fans have turned up for the match.

The number of fans supporting your team can easily affect which team wins or loses. Their cheers can encourage extraordinary effort from your players or a well aimed rock-filled can of Bloodweiser from a fan can forever remove an opposing star. To represent the effect the fans have on a match, each team has a Fan Advantage ModifiER (abbreviated to FAME) that can affect some of the results on the Kick-Off table and your winnings in the Post-game. If the roll for the total fans means that your team is being supported by an equal number or fewer fans than the opposition, then your FAME for the match is zero. If you have more fans attending the match than your opponent, your FAME is +1 for the match. In the exceptional case that your team has drawn in twice as many or more fans than your opponent, your FAME for the match will be +2 instead.

KICK-OFF TABLE

- 2 Get the Ref: The fans exact gruesome revenge on the referee for some of the dubious decisions he has made, either during this match or in the past. His replacement is so intimidated that he can be more easily persuaded to look the other way. Each team receives 1 additional Bribe to use during this game. A Bribe allows you to attempt to ignore one call by the referee for a player who has committed a foul to be sent off, or a player armed with a secret weapon to be banned from the match. Roll a D6: on a roll of 2-6 the bribe is effective (preventing a turnover if the player was ejected for fouling), but on a roll of 1 the bribe is wasted and the call still stands! Each bribe may be used once per match.
- 3 Riot: The trash talk between two opposing players explodes and rapidly degenerates, involving the rest of the players. If the receiving team's turn marker is on turn 7 for the half, both teams move their turn marker back one space as the referee resets the clock back to before the fight started. If the receiving team has not yet taken a turn this half the referee lets the clock run on during the fight and both teams' turn markers are moved forward one space. Otherwise roll a D6. On a 1-3, both teams' turn markers are moved forward one space. On a 4-6, both team's turn markers are moved back one space.
- 4 Perfect Defence: The kicking team's coach may reorganize his players – in other words he can set them up again into another legal defence. The receiving team must remain in the set-up chosen by their coach.
- 5 High Kick: The ball is kicked very high, allowing a player on the receiving team time to move into the perfect position to catch it. Any one player on the receiving team who is not in an opposing player's tackle zone may be moved into the square where the ball will land no matter what their MA may be, as long as the square is unoccupied.
- 6 Cheering Fans: Each coach rolls a D3 and adds their team's FAME (see page 18) and the number of cheerleaders on their team to the score. The team with the highest score is inspired by their fans' cheering and gets an extra re-roll this half. If both teams have the same score, then both teams get a re-roll.

2D6 Result

- 7 Changing Weather: Make a new roll on the Weather table (see page 20). Apply the new Weather roll. If the new Weather roll was a 'Nice' result, then a gentle gust of wind makes the ball scatter one extra square in a random direction before landing.
- 8 Brilliant Coaching: Each coach rolls a D3 and adds their FAME (see page 18) and the number of assistant coaches on their team to the score. The team with the highest total gets an extra team re-roll this half thanks to the brilliant instruction provided by the coaching staff. In case of a tie both teams get an extra team re-roll.
- 9 Quick Snap! The offence start their drive a fraction of time before the defence is ready, catching the kicking team flat-footed. All of the players on the receiving team are allowed to move one square. This is a free move and may be made into any adjacent empty square, ignoring tackle zones. It may be used to enter the opposing half of the pitch.
- 10 Blitz! The defence start their drive a fraction of time before the offence is ready, catching the receiving team flat-footed. The kicking team receives a free 'bonus' turn. However, players that are in an enemy tackle zone at the beginning of this free turn may not perform an Action. The kicking team may use team re-rolls during a Blitz. If any player suffers a turnover then the bonus turn ends immediately.
- 11 Throw a Rock: An enraged fan hurls a large rock at one of the players on the opposing team. Each coach rolls a D6 and adds their FAME (see page 18) to the roll. The fans of the team that rolls higher are the ones that threw the rock. In the case of a tie a rock is thrown at each team! Decide randomly which player in the other team was hit (only players on the pitch are eligible) and roll for the effects of the injury straight away. No Armour roll is required.
- 12 Pitch Invasion: Both coaches roll a D6 for each opposing player on the pitch and add their FAME (see page 18) to the roll. If a roll is 6 or more after modification then the player is Stunned (players with the Ball & Chain skill are KO'd). A roll of 1 before adding FAME will always have no effect.

THE WEATHER

Blood Bowl players are a pretty hardy bunch, so it comes as no surprise that games have been played in all types of weather conditions. From the ice floes of the farthest north to the steamy jungles of Lustria, arenas open their doors on match days, and the combatants go about their business heedless of the climate. At the start of the game each coach should roll a D6. Add the results together and refer to the Weather table to find out what the weather is like for the day.

HANDING-OFF THE BALL

A hand-off is when the ball is simply handed to another player, friend or foe, in an adjacent square. The Hand-Off Action is added to the list of Actions like Move, Block, Blitz and Pass. A coach may only declare one Hand-Off Action per turn. A player may move before performing the hand-off, but once he attempts to hand-off the ball, the player performing the Hand-Off Action may not move any farther that turn, even if he has spare MA left. The ball may not be handed off in the opponent's turn. If the ball is handed off and comes to rest without being caught by any member of the moving team, it causes a turnover.

No dice roll is required to see if the player attempting the hand-off is successful – it automatically hits the targeted player. However, the player that the ball is handed off to must roll to see if he catches the ball (see Catching the Ball on page 13). Use these modifiers for the Catch roll:

- Catching a hand-off +1
- Per opposing tackle zone on the player -1

GOING FOR IT!

When a player takes any Action apart from a Block, he may try to move one or two extra squares over and above the number that he is normally allowed to move – this is called 'going for it' or GFI. NOTE: if a rule refers to a player's 'normal movement' do not include the one or two GFI squares.

Roll a D6 for the player after he has moved each extra square. On a roll of 1 the player trips up and is Knocked Down in the square that he moved to. Roll to see if he was injured (see page 11). On any other roll the player moves without mishap. If the player is Knocked Down then his team suffers a turnover and their turn ends immediately.

A player that is taking a Blitz Action may 'go for it' in order to make a block. Roll a D6 for the player after declaring that he will make the block. On a roll of 1 the player is Knocked Down as described above. On any other roll the player makes the block without mishap. If the player is Knocked Down then his team suffers a turnover and the team's turn ends immediately.

WEATHER TABLE

2	Sweltering Heat: It's so hot and humid that some players collapse from heat exhaustion. Roll a D6 for each player on the pitch at the end of a drive. On a roll of 1 the player collapses and may not be set up for the next kick-off.
3	Very Sunny: A glorious day, but the blinding sunshine causes a -1 modifier on all passing rolls.
4-10	Nice: Perfect Blood Bowl weather.
11	Pouring Rain: It's raining, making the ball slippery and difficult to hold. A -1 modifier applies to all catch, intercept, or pick-up rolls.
12	Blizzard: It's cold and snowing! The ice on the pitch means that any player attempting to move an extra square (GFI) will slip and be Knocked Down on a roll of 1-2, while the snow means that only quick or short passes can be attempted.

ASSISTING A BLOCK

After a block has been declared, the extra team players of the attacker and the defender give an 'assist.' This allows two or more attackers to gang up on a single defender, or for one or more defenders to aid a companion against a block. These extra players each add +1 to the Strength of the player they are assisting. Assisting a block does not count as an Action, and a player can assist any number of blocks per turn. A player is allowed to make an assist even if he has moved or taken an Action.

The attacking coach must declare if any of his players will give an assist first, then the defending coach must add defensive assists with players from his team. In order to make an assist, the player:

1. Must be adjacent to the enemy player involved in the block, and...
2. Must not be in the tackle zone of any other player from the opposing team, and ...
3. Must be standing, and ...
4. Must have his tackle zones.

KAA-RUNCH!

The result of the block only affects the two players directly involved. Any assisting players are not affected. Similarly, only the skills belonging to the two players directly involved in the block may be used on the result. Skills belonging to assisting players cannot be taken advantage of by either side.

The High Elf team, the Dragon Princes, was made up exclusively of Elf Princes and High Lords, who were so haughty and proud that they refused to play anyone who was not of equal rank.

Consequently they never got to play anyone at all, and were disbanded after five seasons without playing a single match!

SLOW-MOTION REPLAY

Bob: Urgash Axebiter prepares to smash Ivan Kellhooper out of the way. Both Urgash and Ivan have a Strength of 3, which means that normally Urgash would only get to roll one Block dice and would have to take whatever result he rolled on the dice.

Jim: That's absolutely correct, Bob, but in this case Urgash is getting an assist from Grishnak Goblin-Throttlor which adds +1 to his Strength. That means that Urgash counts as having a Strength of 4 to Ivan's 3, and so Urgash gets to roll two dice and choose which one he will use. He rolls a 🎲 (Attacker down) and a 🎲 (Push back), and so only manages to push Ivan back.

Bob: And if I could just jump in there, Jim, I think that we should point out to the fans that although Snagga Throttlesnot wanted to give Urgash an assist as well, he couldn't because he was in the tackle zone of Helmut Headreka.

INTERCEPTIONS AND FUMBLES

When a player throws the ball various things can go wrong. Usually the ball will be slightly off target or will be dropped by the intended receiver, and these events are handled by the normal throwing rules. Sometimes, however, the thrower may completely fumble the throw, dropping the ball in their own square, or the ball may be intercepted by an opposing player before it reaches the target square. Both of these events are handled by the new rules below.

Interceptions

One player on the opposing team may attempt to intercept a thrown ball. To be able to make an interception, the player must:

- have the plastic Range Ruler pass over at least part of the square the intercepting player is standing in, and ...
- have a tackle zone, and ...
- be closer to the thrower than the thrower is to the target player/square of the pass, and ...
- be closer to the target player/square of the pass than the thrower is to the target player/square of the pass.

Note that only one player can attempt an interception, no matter how many are eligible. See page 5 for rules on how to measure distance with the Range Ruler to determine who is closer.

The coach must declare that one of his players will try to intercept before the thrower rolls to see if he is on target. Look up the player's Agility on the Agility table to find the score required to successfully intercept the ball. Roll a D6, and add or subtract any of the modifiers that apply to the D6 roll. A roll of 1 before modification always fails and a roll of 6 before modification always succeeds.

If the final modified score is less than the required total, then the player fails to intercept the ball and the pass can carry on as normal. If the D6 roll equals or beats the required roll, then the player succeeds in intercepting and catching the ball. Place the ball on the player's base to show that he has caught it. A successful interception causes a turnover, and the moving team's turn ends immediately.

AGILITY TABLE

Player's AG	1	2	3	4	5	6+
D6 Roll Required	6+	5+	4+	3+	2+	1+

Interception Modifiers

Attempting an Interception	-2
Per opposing tackle zone on the player	-1

Fumbles

Sometimes a player attempting to throw the ball will drop it in his own square. This is more likely if the player has any opposing players breathing down his neck! To represent this, if the D6 roll for a pass is 1 or less before or after modification, then the thrower has fumbled and dropped the ball. The ball will bounce once from the thrower's square, and the moving team will suffer a turnover and their turn ends immediately.

Designer's Note: Many coaches argue over the realism of rolling to intercept before rolling to pass. Like many rules in Blood Bowl it is an abstraction to make the game work better. Think instead of the interception/passing rolls as a complete series of rolls to determine the outcome of a pass rather than sequential steps.

★★★ Did you know...

That last year, the Galadrieth Gladiators High Elf team accumulated a record 853 passes in 24 games without an interception, eventually succumbing to fellow High Elves - the Caledor Dragons (who remarkably also suffered their first interception of last year in the same game after 620 passes).

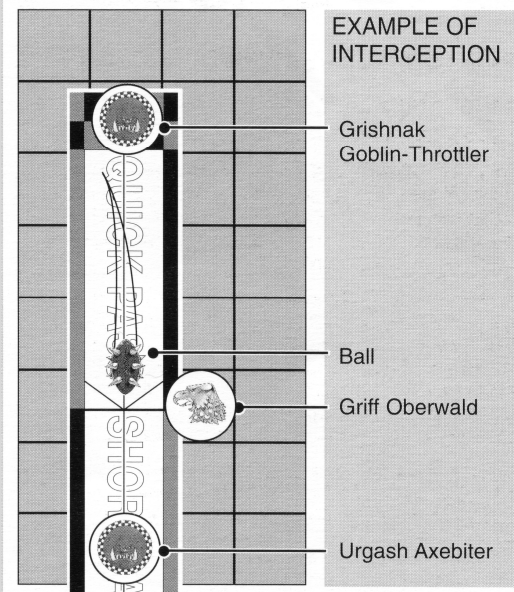

In fact, many High Elf teams suffer a very low interception rate. While the High Elves point to their natural skill and ability at the passing game, we're more inclined to believe the bags of gold sitting at the side of the High Elf dugouts awaiting any opponent who drops an interception against one of their star throwers might be the cause. Still when a High Elf team faces another High Elf team, all bets (well bribes) are off, it has proven very difficult to bribe a snobbish High Elf who is already stinking rich.

SLOW-MOTION REPLAY

Jim: As we return to the match Grishnak Goblin-Throttler is about to attempt another pass. This time, however, Griff Oberwald is in a position to make an interception attempt.

Bob: The crowd holds its breath as Griff leaps to intercept the pass. He needs an Agility roll of 3 or more. However, a player making an interception attempt suffers a -2 modifier, which means that Griff will need a score of 5 or 6 to catch the ball. The dice is rolled and comes up with a 6! Griff picks off the ball – it's an interception!! And just listen to those Reavers fans, Jim, are they going wild!

AGILITY	1	2	3	4	5	6+
INTERCEPTION ROLL	6+	5+	4+	3+	2+	1+
INTERCEPTION MODIFIERS

FOULS, OR KICKING PLAYERS THAT ARE DOWN

Attacking opponents that have been Knocked Down is strictly against the rules. However, despite the large number of ways in which players can attack one another legally, many resort to the time-honoured tradition of kicking a man when he's down. The referee is supposed to spot and penalize players who use such underhanded tactics but unfortunately, when something nasty happens on the pitch, the refs are often looking the other way and miss the foul altogether. No wonder the referee is constantly harangued by the crowd!

Normally, players that are Prone or Stunned cannot be attacked. However, when you use this rule, one player per turn is allowed to take a Foul Action. This allows the player to move a number of squares equal to his MA and then make a foul against an opposing player who is Prone or Stunned and in an adjacent square. The coach nominates the victim, and then makes an Armour roll for him. Other players that are adjacent to the victim must assist the player making the foul, and each extra player adds 1 to the Armour roll.

Defending players adjacent to the fouler must also give assists to a player that is being fouled. Each defensive assist modifies the Armour roll by -1 per assist. No player from either side may assist a foul if he is in the tackle zone of an opposing player, does not have their tackle zones, or is not standing. If the score beats the victim's Armour value then he is injured and a roll is made on the Injury table to see what has happened to him.

That Hanse Kohl holds the record for most players sent off in a match with a maximum of 32 players! It happened in a grudge match between the Gougged Eye and Dwarf Warhammerers in 2474 (Trivia Fans will remember these two faced each other in Blood Bowl XIII in 2473). This record is made all the more remarkable considering the two teams' history of 'removing' referees that interfere with the game plan of said teams.

And the reason the ref got away with sending all the players off?

The day before he had been refereeing a Nurgle's Rotters vs. Decaying Disorder match in the Putrid Stump Trophy quarter finals and had contracted Nurgle's Rot. Sadly Hanse never managed to referee another match afterwards as his arms fell off (then his legs, heads, tentacles...) though he will be known for his famous post-match interview when he managed to infect fourteen news reporters and one Cabalvision cameraman.

The Referee

Referees do occasionally spot a player making a foul and send him off the pitch, although this is quite a rare occurrence (how would you like to tell a five-foot wide Black Orc blocker that he's out of the match!?!?).

To reflect this, if the Armour and/or Injury roll is a doubles (i.e., two 1s, or two 2s, etc), the referee has spotted the foul, and the player taking the Foul Action is sent off to the dungeon that lies under every Blood Bowl pitch. In addition, his team suffers a turnover and their turn ends immediately. If the sent off player was holding the ball, the ball bounces from the square he was standing in when sent off. A player who is sent to the dungeon is locked up and may not play for the rest of the match, even if the referee is subsequently 'got' by the crowd as a result of a roll on the Kick-Off table. A coach may not replace a player who has been sent off until after the drive ends.

In the early days of Blood Bowl, the Wardancers - a travelling troupe of Wood Elf performance artists faithful to the trickster god Loec - would sometimes perform sacred 'inspirational' dances during the half time show. The dances were long and 'artistic' which often did not go down well with the opposition.

During one fateful match between the Athelorn Avengers and Orcland Raiders the Orcs quickly tired of the rituals. They wanted to get on with the game, and that meant getting rid of the dancers! With a roar the Orcs rushed out onto the pitch for what they were sure would be a quick warm up for the second half. Much to the Orcs surprise the Elven Wardancers proved very hard to lay a hand on. Worse still, not only were they still dancing, but they were actually clearly winning the fight. It was a disaster for the Raiders, as they lost several key players to injury without having so much as scratched a single dancer. As a result the Avengers finished the game virtually unopposed and won by the largest margin in their history.

Word spread of the event and Wood Elf teams were quick to realize the value of having Wardancers as players and it took only three weeks for every member of that troupe - including a young Jordell Freshbreeze - to sign a lucrative playing contract. Wardancers have been key players in every successful Wood Elf team since.

SKILLS

This section of the rules includes lots more skills for players to use. The specific rules for each skill can be found on pages 63 to 68. Each entry also lists which category the skill belongs to (i.e. Passing, General, Mutation, etc). A skill's category affects which players can access it, as described later on in the rules for Blood Bowl leagues (see pages 26 and 27). Unless otherwise stated in the skill description, the following rules apply to all skills:

1. All bonuses/modifiers from skills can be combined.
2. Skills may be used an unlimited number of times per Action.
3. Some skills refer to pushing a player back in order to work. These skills will work as long as you roll a result of 'Pushed', 'Defender Stumbles', or 'Defender Down' on the Block dice.
4. Skill use is not mandatory.
5. You can choose to use a skill that affects a dice roll after rolling the dice (e.g., Diving Tackle does not need to be used until after seeing the result of the Dodge roll).
6. Only Extraordinary skills work when a player is Prone or Stunned.
7. A skill may only be taken once per player.

BLOOD BOWL LEAGUES

Any experienced Blood Bowl coach will tell you that while one-off games may be fun, running a team over the course of a series of games is far more exciting. Not only do you have to worry about the tactics that your team will use in a single game, but you can also watch your team develop and grow into a real powerhouse to rival even the mighty Reikland Reavers or the Gouged Eye. Running a Blood Bowl team in a league does create extra work and calls for quite a lot of commitment, but if you want to have the glory of leading your team through a long season to the Blood Bowl final itself, then the League rules are for you!

Games are played in stadiums, owned either by the Colleges of Magic or by large towns or cities. They are not normally owned by Blood Bowl teams themselves, though some teams do own their own stadiums (e.g., the Reikland Reavers). Instead, teams travel round the Old World, moving from stadium to stadium and playing matches against any teams they meet.

The League rules are designed to recreate the way Blood Bowl teams travel round the Old World, moving from venue to venue to play games. In a way, the teams are much more like a travelling company of actors, or a mercenary regiment, than the Blood Bowl teams of Nikk Three-horn's days. Because of this anarchic setup, it is up to each team manager to organize matches, set dates for games, and so on.

In order to set up the league the first thing you need to do is pick the 'League Commissioner,' who should ideally be the most experienced coach in the group. The Commissioner has the responsibility of making sure that the league runs smoothly, and, most importantly, organising any tournaments that are played. The Commissioner can also keep track of how well all the teams are doing, and can even write a newsletter featuring match reports, league tables, facts and stats, and anything else he can think of! The Commissioner can be a coach of a team in the league, too, just so long as he doesn't take advantage of the situation to help his team win any tournaments.

In a league, the Commissioner's word is LAW. He is allowed to change or modify any of the Blood Bowl rules as he sees fit, including any of the League Rules that follow. In the immortal words of fellow game designer Tuomas Pirinen: If the League Commissioner says that Dwarfs can now fly, your reply must be 'Yes Sir! How high?' If you don't like the way a commissioner runs his league, you have two choices; put up with it, or leave the league. Arguing with the commissioner is NOT an option. 'Nuff said, I hope.

STARTING THE LEAGUE

A league consists of a group of teams (preferably at least four) who will play each other (and maybe other teams) over the course of a series of games. Existing Leagues set up under earlier versions of the Blood Bowl rules can easily change over to the new league rules; coaches simply need to work out the value of the team as described later, and start using the new team list presented on pages 71 to 79. Any team rosters that are not 'legal' under the new rules can carry on using the players that are in the team, but any replacements should be purchased from the new rosters.

You can start playing league matches as soon as all the coaches taking part in the league have created their teams. It is up to the teams' coaches to organize any matches that they play. A team can play as often as a coach likes, assuming that he can find enough opponents, of course! The only restriction is that a team may not play against the same opponent more than two matches in a row. This means that a coach can play two games against the same opponent, (roughly a full evening's play), but the next match must be against a different team.

If the Commissioner decides to allow it, coaches may run one or more teams at the same time. Obviously, this will mean that each individual team will play fewer games, as the coach's time will have to be split between the different teams he has in his stable. A coach may not swap gold, players or anything else between the teams that he runs. For example, he may not make a 'special loan' from one of his teams to another, or swap players between the teams, and so on. Note that a coach can carry out such actions between one of his teams and a team run by another coach (assuming the other coach AND the league commissioner agrees, of course!), he just can't do it between two of his own teams.

The Kishago Werebears were the first team to feature werebears on their roster. The Norse team were based close to a werebear settlement and used them instead of the more common Ulfwerener (Nordic werewolves) found in Norsca. Sadly the Werebears were forced to disband in 2471 after the team was wiped out in a famous match against the Darkside Cowboys. But to this day, Norse teams have been known to take to the pitch with werebears instead of Ulfwerener. Both of these Nordic werekin are virtually identical in ability and the amount of carnage they create on the pitch. They are incredibly strong, naturally tough, and possessed by a terrifying bloodthirsty frenzy. While this frenzied state which consumes the Ulfwerener and the werebears would usually only last for the length of the match, you just have to watch out that the frenzy doesn't go longer as it will seriously interfere with the post-game autograph signing, press interviews and then there is the mess on the team bus afterwards...

TEAM ROSTER

Before you can start playing league matches, each coach must create a team as explained on page 16. This is where the columns that were previously unused come in. They include a number of columns and rows for recording important information that you will need to know when you are running a league team. How these extra rows and columns are used is explained in the rules that follow.

Treasury

Each coach begins the league with a treasury of 1,000,000 gold pieces with which to buy his team. Any gold that is not spent should be recorded in the team's treasury and may be spent after any future match. A coach must keep track of how much gold his team has in its treasury by recording the amount on his team roster.

Team Value

In League matches the 'value' of a team affects whether it receives Inducements for playing a match (see page 28) and if it suffers from Spiralling Expenses (see page 29). The value of a team (often abbreviated to 'TV') is worked out by adding up the value of the players that will play for the team in its next match, including extra value from improvements, to the cost of coaching staff, team re-rolls, and Fan Factor. Record the value of your team in the appropriate space on the team roster. Note that gold in the treasury and any players that are missing the game due to injury do not count towards the Team Value.

Match Records

On the back of the team roster sheet there is a Match Record Chart for recording information about the games that the team has played. Keep a record of the matches played by the team here. The coach should record the name of the opposition, the score and number of casualties inflicted by each team, as well as the total fans and match winnings, and any brief notes about the game.

INJURIES

Blood Bowl is a rough and dangerous sport, and players are often injured or killed while playing the game. Many Blood Bowl players sport scars from old injuries, while some have lost eyes, ears, noses and even whole limbs! Although most injuries can be recovered from given a bit of time, some are so serious that they can permanently affect a player. In one-off games this is not important – all you need to know is that the player is off the pitch for the rest of the game! – but in a league it is vital to know exactly what type of injury a player has suffered. This is where the Casualty table comes in.

If a player suffers a Casualty because a 10 or more is rolled on the Injury table, then the opposing coach rolls on the Casualty table. The dice scores on the Casualty table run from 11 through to 68. Assuming that you don't have a 68-sided dice (not many people do), you need to roll a normal six-sided dice and the eight-sided dice used to scatter the ball. The six-sided dice counts as tens, so a score of 2=20, 4=40 etc, and the eight-sided dice counts for the units, so a score of 3=3, 5=5, etc. Then put the numbers together to get a score from 11 to 68. For example, if you rolled a '2' on the six-sided dice and a '3' on the eight-sided dice, then you would get a score of 23.

Having made the dice roll, look up the result on the Casualty table. The table lists exactly what has happened to the player, and describes any special effects the injury may have. The majority of the results simply cause the player to miss the next match, though some have more long-lasting effects. The coach of the player that suffered the injury should make a note of the effect of the serious injury on his team roster.

The Big Moot sandwich has become the number one consumed concession at Blood Bowl stadiums. The Halfling owners of McMurty's continue to reap the benefits of an exclusive concessions contract with several of the larger Old World stadiums. The aroma of those three all-meat patties, Hot Pot sauce, lettuce, cheese, onions, pickles on a caraway seed bun has lured many a fan (and sometimes the players!) away from the game to satisfy a Big Moot Attack. McMurty's reminds all Blood Bowl fans: if you gotta eat, its 'Gotta Be McMurty's'.

Miss Next Game: Write an 'M' in the injuries box on the team roster, and rub it out at the end of the next match.

Niggling Injury: Miss next game as above. In addition, write an 'N' in the Injuries box on the team roster. Each Niggling Injury adds 1 to any subsequent Injury roll made against this player.

-1 MA, ST, AG, and AV: Miss next game as above. In addition, record the characteristic change on the team roster. However, no characteristic may be reduced by more than 2 points or below a value of 1. Any injuries that could reduce it further are ignored.

Dead! – Take the player off the pitch and place them in the Dugout in the Dead & Injured Players box. The player won't be playing Blood Bowl any more unless he is raised to join another team!

STAR PLAYER POINTS

Players are able to earn Star Player points (SPPs) in league matches. Star Player points are earned for scoring touchdowns, making complete passes, making interceptions, killing or injuring opposing players, and for earning 'Most Valuable Player' awards. Once a player has earned enough Star Player points he becomes entitled to an improvement and may roll on the Improvement table. Players who survive long enough will progress to become legendary players, with special characteristics and skills that they have picked up over the course of their long career on the Blood Bowl pitch.

The team roster includes boxes so coaches can keep track of the number of Star Player points their players earn during a match. Each time a player does something that earns him any Star Player points his coach should put a tick in the appropriate box on the roster for each point they have earned. At the end of the match count up the number of new ticks for each player, and upgrade their total score of Star Player points accordingly.

That the 2503 season saw the retirement of one of Blood Bowl's favourite killers? Nobbla Blackwart, after 8 great seasons freelancing between teams, finally hung up the chainsaw - Choppy. Choppy was a great chainsaw having lopped off more heads than any other chainsaw in history (including a massive 14 decapitations in 2501 against the Icecastle Wolves).

Whether it was rain, snow, sun or a perfect day, ol' Choppy would always be guaranteed to start and give the fans something to cheer at. Thank you Choppy for your services to Blood Bowl

Sadly for Blood Bowl players however, Nobbla Blackwart continues to infest the Blood Bowl pitch with his new chainsaw 'Rippy'.

HOW TO EARN STAR PLAYER POINTS

Star Player points are earned for performing the following actions:

Completions (COMP): A player who makes an accurate pass that is caught by a receiver from his own team in the targeted square of the pass when the ball comes to rest earns 1 Star Player point. This is called a completion.

Touchdowns (TD): A player who scores a touchdown earns 3 Star Player points.

Interceptions (INT): If a player successfully makes an Interception of the ball after making an Interception roll then he earns 2 Star Player points.

Casualties (CAS): If a player causes an opposing player to be removed as a Casualty then they earn 2 Star Player points. The points are only earned if the player blocks an opponent or is blocked by an opponent himself. Casualties inflicted in any other way (including injuries inflicted by the crowd or from attacks with chainsaws, bombs, or the Stab skill) do not count for Star Player points.

Most Valuable Player (MVP): One randomly selected player from each team who was eligible to play during this match, even if he is now dead, is awarded a Most Valuable Player award at the end of the match. A Most Valuable Player award earns the player 5 Star Player points. Mercenaries and Star Players ARE eligible to receive the MVP, and if they receive it, it is lost to the team. IMPORTANT: A team that concedes a match must give its MVP to the opposing team (i.e., the winning coach gets two MVPs and the losing coach gets none).

★ STAR PLAYER POINTS TABLE ★

16-30	Veteran	Two
31-50	Emerging Star	Three
51-75	Star	Four
76-175	Super Star	Five
176+	Legend	Six

IMPROVEMENT ROLLS

As players earn more Star Player points they go up in levels of experience and make Improvement rolls. All players start out as Rookies with no Star Player points. Once a player has earned 6 points he becomes 'Experienced' and is entitled to his first Improvement roll. Each time that the player goes up another level he is entitled to another Improvement roll. The Star Player Points table lists the number of Star Player points that are required to reach each different level.

At the end of the match work out how many Star Player points each of the players in your team has earned, and look up their scores on the Star Player Points table. If the player has earned enough points to go up a level, then immediately make a roll for him on the Improvement table. To make the Improvement roll, roll two D6, add the scores together, and look up the result on the Improvement table.

★ IMPROVEMENT TABLE ★

2D6	Result
2-9	New skill
10	Increase the player's MA or AV characteristic by 1 point or a New skill
11	Increase the player's AG characteristic by 1 point or a New skill
12	Increase the player's ST characteristic by 1 point or a New skill

New Skills

On any Improvement roll you may choose to take a skill from the Normal skill categories permitted for that player. The Normal skill categories allowed for each player are found on pages 71 to 79. For example, a Human Catcher could take a skill from the list of General Skills or Agility Skills. Remember to record the new skill on the team roster. Skills may never be removed from a player.

Characteristic Increases

An Improvement table roll of 10-12 will increase one of the player's characteristics. The entry will list the characteristics that may be improved – simply pick one and record the new value on the team roster. Alternatively, the coach may choose to take a new skill instead, as described in the previous paragraph. No characteristic may ever be increased by more than 2 points over its starting value or to a value greater than 10. Any additional increases must be taken as new skills instead.

Eldril Sidewinder is the only Elf freelance star who offers his services to every Elven race. Eldril used to play for the Galadrieth Gladiators until they won the Chaos Cup against the Underworld Creepers in 2495. As Eldril scored the winning touchdown in the final seconds, he felt the touch of the chaos god Tzeentch who was watching the game. Tzeentch gifted Eldril with a stare capable of mesmerising opponents, but this gift came with a price. Tzeentch is the god of random chaos and he took special delight in mutating an Elf as Elves normally avoided the Chaos Cup. Tzeentch wiped Eldril's mind clean so that he remembers nothing of his life before the Chaos Cup. Eldril is cursed so that each morning when he awakes he believes he is a member of the Elven race playing nearest to him. He could believe he is a black hearted Dark Elf or walk out to the dawning sun, hug a tree and wonder who was brewing poison in his kitchen.

Rolling Doubles

If the Improvement Roll is a double (e.g., 1,1 or 2,2 etc), you may ignore the result of the Improvement table (even if it was a characteristic increase) and take a skill from any skill category that this player can access from either the Normal or Double column (see pages 71 to 79). For example, a Human Cather could take a skill from the General, Agility, Strength or Passing skill categories on a double roll.

Improvements & Player Values

Every player has a value. This amount is recorded when they are hired. As they get better (gain skills or characteristic increases) their value increases. To reflect this, whenever a player rolls on the Improvement table, their value must be increased on the team roster by the amount shown on the table below. Note: Injuries the player suffers that reduce a characteristic do not reduce the value of the player.

PLAYING LEAGUE MATCHES

League matches have their own sequences of play, which involves some pre-match and post-match action, as well as the actual game. Follow this sequence for each league match you play, including any tournament matches.

1. Pre-Match Sequence

1. Roll on Weather table
2. Transfer Gold from Treasury to Petty Cash
3. Take Inducements

2. The Match

1. Work out the number of Fans and FAME (see page 18)
 2. Receiving Team's Turn
 3. Kicking Team's Turn
- Etc...

3. Post-Match Sequence

1. Improvement Rolls
2. Update Team Roster

PRE-MATCH SEQUENCE OF PLAY

The pre-match sequence must be used before every league match that is played. The sequence is split into three separate steps that are described below:

1. The Weather

Both coaches roll a D6 and add the results together and consult the Weather table (see page 20) to see what the weather will be like for the match.

2. Transfer Gold from Treasury to Petty Cash

Both teams at this point may transfer gold pieces from their team treasury into petty cash. Petty cash may be used during the current match to purchase inducements and adds directly to the team value of the team for this match. The team with the highest team value must declare how much gold he is transferring into petty cash first.

3. Inducements

Teams that are at a disadvantage are often given 'inducements' to play that will help even the odds. Usually this takes the form of extra gold, offered by the stadium owner to help convince a team to take part in a match against a superior opponent (and thus allowing the stadium owner to recoup his losses and more through tickets sales and merchandise!).

To represent this, an underdog in a match may be given a certain amount of gold that can be used to buy things for the team to help them in the upcoming match. The amount of gold the team receives is equal to the difference between the total value of the underdog team and the total value of the opposing team. For example, if one coach had a team worth 1,000,000 gold pieces while his opponent had a team worth 1,250,000 gold pieces, then the first coach would be allowed to spend 250,000 gold pieces on Inducements. Any of the gold that is not spent on Inducements is lost and may not be added to the team treasury. In addition, either coach may use gold from their petty cash to purchase Inducements. If the superior opponent wishes to purchase inducements with gold from his Petty Cash, he must do so before the underdog purchases any of his inducements. Inducements are selected from the following list:

- Bloodweiser Babes (0-2) - 50,000 gold pieces
- Bribes (0-3) - 100,000 gold pieces
- Extra Team Training (0-4) - 100,000 gold pieces
- Halfling Master Chef (0-1) - 300,000 gold pieces
- Igor (0-1) - 100,000 gold pieces
- Mercenaries (Unlimited) - Various prices
- Star Players (0-2) - Various prices
- Wandering Apothecaries (0-2) - 100,000 gold pieces
- Wizards (0-1) - 150,000 gold pieces

Detailed descriptions of these inducements can be found on pages 69 and 70. Note that limitations and special rules from the team lists apply. As some coaches can take a very long time deciding which Inducements to take, there is a four-minute time limit on selecting them.

All inducements purchased are lost at the end of the match. No inducement can ever become a permanent part of your team.

The origin of the first Troll Slayer in Blood Bowl occurred on the Dwarf Giants team. In 2465 Stout Ironfist, a star blitzer for the Giants, was given the task of protecting the King's son during a match against the Lowdown Rats. During one drive the Rats managed to hit Stout in the face with a custard pie. By the time he was able to clear his eyes the King's son had been killed by the Rat's Troll! Stout flew into a frenzy, grabbed the King's son's horned helm and swung it with such fury that he decapitated the Troll.

Stout was so ashamed from the double blow of allowing himself to fall for the custard pie trick and failing the King's orders to protect his son that he painted his face and partially shaved his head as a mark of humility. He also dyed his hair orange as a mark of respect to the famous red beard of the King's son. Stout continued playing for the Giants, attacking the largest and toughest opponents he could find in the hopes of finding death to release him from his shame. A triple team block by the ogre Morg, the troll Bork, and the minotaur Zy-Nox in 2471 during a match against the Chaos All-Stars finally ended his fanatical career. Based on his legend, Dwarfs that incur massive shame for actions during Blood Bowl matches follow Stout's path in their efforts toward release and redemption through reckless acts of on-pitch violence!

POST-MATCH SEQUENCE

You must go through the following two steps after each and every league match that you play:

1. Improvement Rolls

In league matches it is possible for players to earn Star Player points which may give them Improvement rolls at the end of the match. This phase is used by each coach to allocate MVPs, update the Star Player points the players in his team have earned, and make any Improvement rolls.

2. Update Team Roster

This phase is used to make sure that both teams' rosters are up to date and filled in correctly. Players and coaching staff may be hired and fired, and any notes or points of special interest can be recorded on the team roster at this time. There are spaces on the back of the roster that can be used to keep a record of the results of the matches that a team has played. By the way, although most Blood Bowl coaches will stoop to using almost any underhanded tactic in order to win a game, falsifying a team roster is such a heinous crime that no right-thinking coach should even consider doing such a thing. Enough said, I hope. Carry out the following steps to update the roster.

1. Delete any players that have been killed from the roster, and record any changes to a player's value for improvements.

2. Generate winnings for the match. Each coach rolls a D6 and adds his team's FAME (see page 18). The team receives this amount x 10,000 gold pieces as winnings for the match. If you won or tied the match you receive an additional 10,000 gold pieces. If you won the match you may also choose to re-roll your D6, but you must accept the second result even if it is worse than the first. Remember that teams that concede a match do not receive any winnings.

3. Any gold left in petty cash is transferred back to treasury and then each coach must now pay for spiralling expenses (as described later) through gold in treasury. Note: at this point the team will not yet have updated the team value from the value calculated after step 2 of the Pre-Match Sequence (page 28).

4. If a coach lost or tied the match he should roll 2D6. The winning coach should roll 3d6. If a coach won or tied the match and his roll is greater than his team's current Fan Factor then his team's Fan Factor increases by one point. If the coach lost or tied the match and his roll is less than his team's current Fan Factor then his team's Fan Factor decreases by one point.

5. Each coach must decide if they wish to spend any gold in the team treasury to buy new players and coaching staff, and/or let go (i.e., fire) any team re-rolls, players, or coaching staff who are no longer wanted. However, the team does not get any gold back for letting them go! In addition, each coach can choose to spend gold from their treasury to increase his team's re-rolls. Adding a re-roll costs double the amount shown on the team list, but only adds the basic (un-doubled) cost to the total value of the team.

6. If a team has any Journeymen (see step 7 below) on the roster, the coach must either fire them from the team or you may permanently hire them by paying their rookie cost. Note that a team must have less than 16 players on its roster to hire Journeymen. If hired, a Journeyman loses the Loner skill but may retain any Star Player points he earned or skills learned from Improvement table rolls.

7. If a team can only field 10 or less players for the next match, the team may bring Journeymen onto the roster for free until the team can field 11 players for the next match. A Journeyman is always a player from a 0-16 or 0-12 allowed position on the team's roster. He counts his normal rookie cost towards the total team value, but has the Loner skill as he is not used to playing with the team. Journeymen may take the total players on the team (including injured players) to more than 16 at this point.

8. Work out the total value of the team and record it on the roster. The value of a team is worked out by adding up the value of the team's players (including extra values for improvements), support staff, team re-rolls, and Fan Factor. Do not include the value of gold in your treasury or any players that will be forced to miss their next match due to injury.

SPIRALLING EXPENSES

Successful teams can be worth a fortune as their players improve and the squad grows. During the early days of Blood Bowl the Dark Elf team, Terrifying Anarchists of Naggaroth, were reputed to be worth in excess of 7,000,000 gold pieces! However as wages and other team expenses increase, a bigger proportion of the team's winnings get devoted to just paying the bills rather than being available for additional purchases.

Once a team's value equals or exceeds 1,750,000 gold pieces it must deduct the amount shown on the Spiralling Expenses table from its treasury. Spiralling expenses are deducted at the end of the match during step 3 of updating the team roster. Spiralling expenses can never reduce a team's treasury to less than zero.

★ SPIRALLING EXPENSES TABLE ★
Team Value	Expenses	Team Value	Expenses
< 1,750,000	0	2,200,000 to 2,340,000	40,000
1,750,000 to 1,890,000	10,000	2,350,000 to 2,490,000	50,000
1,900,000 to 2,040,000	20,000	2,500,000 to 2,640,000	60,000
2,050,000 to 2,190,000	30,000	Continuing in steps of 150,000	+10,000 each

CONCEDING

A coach that concedes (see page 15) before setting up for a kick-off where he could only field 2 or less players suffers no additional penalties. If one coach concedes the match for any other reason then the winner gains all of the loser's winnings and MVP from this match. In addition, the loser automatically loses one Fan Factor and may not roll for a new one, and any players in the loser's team that have 51 SPPs or more will leave the team on a D6 roll of 1-3. Roll separately for each player with 51 or more SPPs to see if they leave.

TOURNAMENTS

For a short period following the collapse of the NAF there were no tournaments or competitions at all. Teams simply played 'one-off' games for whatever prize they could get. It was not long, however, before the Cabalvision networks and major Blood Bowl sponsors got together and started arranging tournaments with large prizes for the teams that managed to battle their way through to the final. Four tournaments quickly established themselves as the most important and eagerly anticipated Blood Bowl events of the year, and were soon being referred to as the 'Major Tournaments' or simply the 'Majors.' These tournaments were the Chaos Cup, the Dungeonbowl, the Spike! Magazine Trophy tournament, and, of course, the Blood Bowl itself.

The Majors are held at roughly three-month intervals over the year. The Chaos Cup is held in the spring, the Blood Bowl tournament is held in the summer, and then the Spike! Magazine tournament is held in the autumn. The Dungeonbowl is held during the dark winter months, when most teams appreciate playing in nice warm underground stadiums rather than out in the freezing cold. There are exceptions of course – most Norse teams actually prefer sub-zero conditions, while the Ice Lord team of Frost Giants can't take part in the Dungeonbowl tournament at all because they would melt in the warm underground stadium!

At the end of each season teams gather to decide who wins the trophy. Each tournament is held at a different location. The Blood Bowl is held at the huge Emperor stadium at Altdorf, and the Spike! Magazine tournament in the seaside resort town of Magritta in Estalia. The Dungeonbowl is held in the Dwarf underground stadium at Barak-Varr (the upkeep for which is paid, at huge expense and much to the Dwarfs' delight, by the Colleges of Magic). The location of the Chaos Cup tournament changes from year to year, and it is rare for anyone to know where it will be held until a week or two before the event starts! Not surprisingly this can make it very difficult for teams to attend the Chaos Cup, because if they are not in the right general vicinity when the tournament is announced then it may be impossible for them to get there in time to take part!

SEASONS & TOURNAMENTS

To represent this schedule, all Blood Bowl leagues traditionally have seasons that end with a tournament. The League Commissioner has the responsibility of setting up and running the seasons and tournaments for his league. He will need to let his coaches know how long the season will run for, and how any end-of-season tournament will be run.

If coaches meet frequently and can play at least one-two games a week, a three month season based on the 'real' Blood Bowl world system should work well. If your league meets less frequently, it should consider having a longer season. As a rule of thumb, a season needs to be long enough for coaches to reasonably be expected to be able to play about a dozen matches.

At the end of the season the League Commissioner will need to decide which teams will compete in any end-of-season tournament, how ties are to be broken, how the tournament will be run, and what prize the winner of the tournament will receive. Typically there are two semi-final matches followed by a final. Inducement and treasury gold may not be used to induce Star Players or Mercenaries for these matches as the NAF, while not monitoring day to day games on the road to the finals, enforces using your own team for these important matches!

There are a number of ways of deciding who will play in the semi-finals. The simplest (though probably not the fairest) method is to use the four teams that have the highest value in the league. A simple variant of this method is to use the four teams with the highest win ratio, or to multiply a team's value by its win ratio and then pick the four highest rated teams. You can work out the win-loss ratio by dividing the number of games the team has won by the number it has played. So, for example, a team that had a value of 1,800,000 gold pieces that had won 5 of its 10 matches, giving it a win ratio of 50%, would be 'worth' 50% of 1,800,000, which equals 900,000 gold pieces.

Another method is to have a 'play-off' period at the end of the regular season. Any coach can enter the play-offs, but must agree to play matches to a schedule set by the League Commissioner. The commissioner must work out a schedule of matches, and a scoring or elimination system that will reduce the starting teams down to four contenders that will then take part in the semi-finals. There are lots and lots of ways to organise the play-offs, from straight knock-out events, to more complicated affairs that have a group stage first, such as that used for the soccer World Cup. There are many real-life tournaments that a league's play-off system can be modelled after. Use the system that seems best for your Blood Bowl league. The League Commissioner will need to decide if inducements are allowed in the play-offs or not.

Witch Elves first appeared on the Blood Bowl pitch not long after the collapse of the NAF when Nikk Three-horn ran away with the NAF treasury and the entire Darkside Cowboys cheerleading section. Disgusted that the cheerleaders could run away with a non Dark Elf, the Witch Elf priestesses of Naggaroth formed their very own Blood Bowl team to prove that not all female Dark Elves are so easily swayed by the lure of gold. The 'Deadly Nightshades,' as they were known, made an instant impact as they dismantled just about every team that stood in their path in their first season. Sadly, however, the required ritual blood baths and sacrifices the Witches must perform back in Naggaroth for the Dark Elf god Khaine caused them to miss the semi-final of the 2490 Blood Bowl tournament.

The Deadly Nightshades never quite managed to repeat the phenomenal success of that season but they certainly left a mark on the Blood Bowl world as many Dark Elf teams now field a Witch Elf or two as regular players on the squad.

The Nightshades also hold two remarkable records: not only do they hold the record for most consecutive games played to a full stadium, they have also never been refused a game. While the coaches of the opposition may claim that it's because they never refuse a challenge and are always willing to help out young ladies in need, a better guess might be that it's because thigh-length boots and revealing uniforms bring in the crowds (and the opposing players).

Finally, a League Commissioner can decide to run the regular season as a league with scheduled matches (like the FA Football League in England and Wales). Teams score points depending on how well they do in matches (typically 3 for a win, 1 for a draw and 0 for a loss, though 5 for a win, 3 for a draw, and 1 for a loss is a popular alternative). At the end of the season the four teams with the most league points get to go to the semi-finals. Whatever method chosen, the four teams that make it through to the semi-finals are matched into two pairs by random draw. The two winners of the semi-final match then go through to the big final, and the winner of the final will receive a trophy (see the Glittering Prizes section on this page).

Not all Blood Bowlers out there love and worship Nuffle. There are a few out there who dislike him and curse his name. The Nuffle Blasphemer's Association (NBA) was started by upset coach when his star player unexpectedly died in the league semi-final. With the game on the line, Sig "the Butcher" Thundersmack was sprinting toward the end zone for the winning touchdown when he seemed to trip over the goal line itself resulting in his neck being broken. The opposition was able to recover the ball and pull off an unbelievable scoring play that sent them to the league final instead. The coach cursed Nuffle for his fickleness and started up the NBA, which has grown over the years to include a number of players and coaches who have become disenchanted with Nuffle. You may see them at Blood Bowl games in their long black robes holding up signs denouncing the Blood Bowl god. Most people consider them a bunch of complete wackos and tend to ignore them.

League Challenges

It is possible for coaches to exclude powerful teams from the semi-finals by refusing to play any games against them during the league season or the play-offs. To stop this underhanded and quite despicable practice, any coach is allowed to issue a written challenge to an opposing coach to play a match. A coach may make a maximum of one written challenge per week. The challenge is given to the league commissioner, who passes it on to the challenged coach and gets his response. A challenged coach must make one of the following three responses within a day of receiving the challenge:

★ Accept: A challenged coach may agree to play the match, and the two teams play the match as normal.

★ Refuse: A challenged coach may refuse to play the match. This counts as a 2-0 win for the challenger. No Star Player points, cash or Fan Factor are gained or lost for the match.

★ Substitute: A challenged coach may ask any other coach that is willing to take his place to play the match instead. The substitute coach must be taking part in the tournament, and must not have played against the challenger so far. If he does this then the challenging coach must play the substitute, or count as having lost the match 0-2.

THE GLITTERING PRIZES

Although the glory of winning a major tournament trophy is considered by many teams reason enough to take part, most teams are motivated as much (if not more) by the chance of winning the big cash prize that the sponsors of the tournament offer the winners. There are also often additional 'fringe' benefits for the winners of a major tournament, such as lucrative sponsorship deals or special prizes.

Puggy Baconbreath makes his get-away from now-retired star Greaser Geargrinder

To represent this the teams taking part in an end of season tournament receive the following benefits:

1) The total fans and the winnings for a semi-final or final are doubled.

2) The winner of a Major Tournament always receives a special trophy. Pictures of these trophies are in the online store at our website, www.games-workshop.com. You can print these images and use them as trophies, or use the miniature trophies from the Blood Bowl trophy pack. So long as a team holds a trophy it has an additional team re-roll. The re-roll counts toward the team's value as normal. A trophy is held by a team until the next time that specific Major Tournament is completed at which point it is given to the new winner.

3) The winning team receives the 'fringe benefit' described below on pages 32 to 33, depending on the trophy they won.

While the Chaos All-Stars are the most famous team with an unusual mix of players compared to other teams of the same race, several other very famous Blood Bowl teams have been composed of a unique cast of characters.

Evil Gits: The Evil Gits are an evil team made up of mix of evil players. They've been known to field evil Hobgoblins, evil Orcs, evil Dark Elves, evil Skaven, evil Goblins, evil Ogres, evil Half-Orcs, or in fact any other players just so long as they are Evil! The Gits are followed everywhere by their evil unofficial supporters club, the Evil Gits Unofficial Supporters Club, who are, if anything, even more evil than the evil team they evilly support!

Heroes of Law: The Heroes of Law are everything that the Evil Gits are not. This team frequently has Human, Dwarf, Elf, and Halfling players that play for the team without pay. The players hope to show the world a better way by honest strategic play on the pitch without resorting to fouling or bribes. The Heroes of Law are known throughout the realms for their charity matches and for key players missing games because they are volunteering for some other worthy cause that day.

Motley Horde: This mix of misfits, cast-offs, and flat-out lazy players comprise an interesting team. Many of the team's players may hang around for practice, but then skip the game or vice versa. The coach, Kul-Blood Conn, never knows from week to week who will show up, and his game plan must change radically depending on the players available. One week he may have six Chaos Dwarfs, four Skaven and a couple Dark Elf players show up, while the next game he may be faced with seven Hobgoblins, a mutated Chaos Warrior and five Snotlings!

THE SPIKE! MAGAZINE TROPHY

This award, which takes the form of a mithril spike mounted on a delightful plinth, is awarded to the team that wins the Spike! Magazine tournament. Because the holder of the Spike! Trophy receives extensive and (usually) positive coverage in Spike! Magazine, the team may add 2 to their roll for total number of fans as long as they hold the trophy.

If the tournament organizer likes, he may also choose to hand out the award for the Spike! Magazine Player of the Year after the final has been played. This award goes to the player in the league who has the most Star Player points. The player gains the skill Fan Favourite permanently, unless he already has this skill, for as long as the player is still on the team. Treat this as a skill taken on a Double for calculating the player's value. Note that the player does not have to be in one of the teams that took part in the final, or even the tournament, in order to receive the reward.

THE DUNGEONBOWL

Dungeonbowl is played, as its name suggests, in a dungeon. Originally the two teams started at opposite ends of a small underground complex, the idea being to get to the opponent's starting position with the ball and score a touchdown, but eventually the game evolved so that it is played on a normal sized and shaped pitch – which just happens to be located in a dungeon!

The Dungeonbowl League is sponsored by the ten Colleges of Magic, and each College also supports one of the teams taking part in the tournament. Even though the idea was originally put forward to settle the matter of which College was the most powerful, and was to be a one-off event, Dungeonbowl has now been going for over 20 years and shows no sign of ending in the foreseeable future.

The winning team receives a special contract from the College that supported them. This contract allows the team to induce a Wizard for 50,000 gold pieces instead of the normal 150,000 as long as the team holds the trophy.

THE CHAOS CUP

As you will see if you have a look at the trophy, the Chaos Cup is not exactly the most desirable of objects to win. The status it carries, however, is second only to the Blood Bowl. Originally known as the Whiteskull Challenge Cup, it was played for by eight top teams from the AFC while the conference winners were away competing in the Blood Bowl. With the collapse of the NAF in '88 the Chaos Cup became the first trophy to be given away in the new-style 'Open' tournaments.

The Chaos gods take a special, erm, interest in the fate of the team that holds the Chaos Cup and will reward the players immediately with special Chaos gifts as a sign of their favour. D3 random players may immediately take any Mutation skill, Hypnotic Gaze, Stab, or Regeneration in addition to any skills they already possess or take from Star Player points earned during the Chaos Cup final. The same player may not receive more than one mutation from this gift. Players with Normal access to Mutations taking a Mutation skill will add to the player's value as if a normal skill were rolled. Players taking a Mutation skill that cannot take Mutations on Normal skill rolls or any players taking an Extraordinary skill should treat the skill as if taken on a Double for calculating the player's value. These skills are permanent and not lost when the team no longer holds the Chaos Cup trophy.

THE BLOOD BOWL

The most sought after trophy is the Bloodweiser Blood Bowl Championship Winners' Trophy, commonly known as the Blood Bowl. Originally it was awarded to the winner of the final match between the NFC and AFC Conference champions, but now it is awarded to the winner of the Blood Bowl Open tournament. Before 2461, the Blood Bowl championship games were fairly friendly – but competitive – affairs, played purely to award the status of Best Team in the World to the winners. With the arrival of big business in the shape of the Bloodweiser Corporation, however, the competition made a major stride in popularity. The gold payment and Bloodweiser sponsorship deal that goes to the winners is said to be worth over a million crowns over the course of the following year. There is also the Blood Bowl trophy itself, otherwise known as the Buddy Grafstein trophy after the Bloodweiser chairman who first presented it. It's made from solid Dwarf gold, and as such is extremely valuable. This value has caused the original trophy to be stolen many times, and in fact the current one is the fourth trophy to be made!

The winners of the Blood Bowl get a sponsorship deal from Bloodweiser which adds 20,000 gold pieces to the winnings for each match that the team plays as long as it holds the trophy. For the players, however, the most important prize is the Blood Bowl player's medal awarded to each player (from both teams) that participates in the final. Receiving a Blood Bowl player's medal is a great confidence booster, so every single player that takes part in the Blood Bowl final (win or lose) counts as having been awarded a Most Valuable Player award and gains 5 Star Player points, in addition to the Most Valuable Player awards that are normally handed out for playing in the match.

OTHER TOURNAMENTS

The four Major Tournaments are not the only Blood Bowl competitions that are held over the course of the year. Many other tournaments take place, ranging in size from small local events involving only a handful of teams, to really quite large events that rival the Major Tournaments in importance. Any League Commissioner who feels like organizing extra tournaments based on these minor tournaments should feel free to do so. It is a good idea to keep the number of extra tournaments fairly low, otherwise the commissioner (not to mention the coaches) will quickly become overwhelmed with the number of tournaments that they have to play. Similarly, the prizes for minor tournaments should be kept on the low side, and the total gold (for both winner and runner-up) should never exceed one and half times the normal winnings. Note that extra team re-rolls are only allowed for winning Major Tournament trophies.

Two examples of typical minor tournaments are the Far Albion tournament and the Goblin Tribal Leeg. The Far Albion tournament is one of the more important minor tournaments. It is held on the distant island of Albion, northwest of the Old World across the Sea of Claws, which means that normally only one or two Old World teams make it to the island to compete against the local Blood Bowl teams. The Far Albion tournament cup (or FA Cup as it is known) used to be a stunning trophy, studded with diamonds and crusted with emeralds. Sadly it was stolen in 2145 and had to be replaced with what was meant to be a temporary tin replica. The original FA Cup never reappeared, however, and now the battered old tin replacement has great sentimental value, especially for the local Albion teams. Prizes for the tournament consist of the trophy, and a 120,000 gold pieces prize split 80,000 gold pieces to the winner and 40,000 gold pieces to the loser.

At the other end of the scale is the Goblin Tribal Leeg. This tournament is normally held at round about the same time as the Spike! Magazine tournament, as most Goblin teams can't afford to travel to far-off Estalia from their tribal lairs in the Darklands, and in any case Goblin players hate playing in the bright, sunny conditions under which the Spike! tournament is normally held. The Tribal Leeg tournament doesn't have a trophy or any gold prizes since it is all but impossible for a bunch of Goblins to arrange for a trophy and two different teams to be in the same place at the same time, and any gold prize is invariably stolen before the final takes place! This means that all the winner of the Goblin Tribal Leeg really gets is the undying support of a huge horde of Goblin fans, who follow the team around the Old World watching it play. Whether being followed around the Old World by a huge army of Goblin fans is actually a good thing is open to debate, but it certainly increases the winnings that the team receives every time it plays a match!

that bribery is now so prevalent amongst referees that the Referees and Allied Rulekeepers Guild (RARG) has created rules concerning where, when and how one can accept a bribe. RARG has set official union rates for bribing a referee. Under an agreement signed last season, clubs are not allowed to offer less than the going rate. RARG is even considering appointing a second bunch of referees to govern the conduct of RARG just to keep bribery properly controlled.

OPTIONAL LEAGUE RULES

Not every league will find the same set-up as enjoyable as another league. The League Commissioner's role is to find the best match of rules for the coaches in his league. The following are recommended changes to the rules for leagues presented in pages 24 to 29 of this handbook for commissioners to consider using in their own leagues. Any of the below should be considered official approved rules for the game of Blood Bowl. Remember, a League Commissioner's word is always final on the rules used by the league.

Awarding the Most Valuable Player during the Post-Game

Instead of using the rules for Most Valuable Player on page 26, the following two options are offered as replacement text for the first sentence:

- 1) One player from each team, chosen by his coach, is awarded a Most Valuable Player award at the end of the match.
- 2) At the end of the match, one randomly selected player eligible to play during this match that was not induced and has not been removed from the team by death by the end of the match is awarded a Most Valuable Player award.

Spiralling Expense Modifications

There are lots of different leagues, all of which have different cost bases and revenue streams so a commissioner should feel free both to alter the breakpoint (1,750,000 gold pieces) and the step size (150,000 gold pieces) for the Spiralling Expense rules on page 29 to suit his own league. For example, the small Albion domestic league has a breakpoint of 1,250,000 gold pieces and a step size of 100,000 gold pieces, the wealthy Imperial Premiership has a breakpoint of a massive 2,500,000 gold pieces and step size of 250,000 gold pieces, while the Naggaroth Open has a break point of 2,000,000 gold pieces and a step size of 50,000 gold pieces.

Excluding Inducements in League Play

A commissioner is allowed to remove any specific inducement(s) from the list of allowed inducements on page 28 that he feels does not work for his league environment. Common inducements that might be excluded include disallowing Star Players and/or the Wizard.

Using Inducements in One-off/Non-league Tournament Play

Commissioners of one-off games can choose to allow inducements to be purchased as a permanent part of each team's roster. The commissioner should be clear which inducements are allowed and which are not. For example, a commissioner could specify for an upcoming event that the Inducements options for Star Players, Bloodweiser Babes, Wandering Apothecaries, Igor, the Wizard and the Master Chef will be allowed as purchasable permanent components of the team for all matches played during the event, but that no other inducements can be purchased as a permanent part of the team.

Special Play Cards

The seven Special Play Card decks represented on pages 55 to 62 are for commissioners to use to add some unexpected and fun elements to the game to whatever degree is desired.

Each of the seven decks has a purchase price to draw one card at random from that deck. For example for 100,000 gold pieces a coach may draw at random one of the 26 cards from the Good Karma deck. Once randomly drawn a card, the card's result may be concealed until played but the card may not be exchanged or traded for another card. Additional gold may be paid to draw another card from the same deck or from a different one.

In order to make the cards easily available to any league that chooses to use them, the card decks are organized so that two decks of standard playing cards can be used to create all seven decks. Decks have been organised by suit to allow coaches to quickly create the decks. For ease of use, a league may choose to combine all the 50,000 gold piece decks into one 52 card deck. Each card has 4 areas to explain its effect.

Name: The name of the card and the playing card that would represent this card.

Description: Describes the event the card represents.

Timing: Specifics as to exactly when, and only when, the card can be played.

Effect: The effect the card has on the game when played.

There are three methods recommended for a commissioner to choose from for using the Special Play Cards in his league (if he chooses to use them at all).

- 1) The Special Play Card decks are added to the list of Inducements that each coach may purchase on page 28. Special Play Cards should be limited to no more than 5 total draws from all the decks.
- 2) The Special Play Card decks are used in replacement of the Inducements listed on page 28 (i.e., only Special Play Cards are used for any Inducements allowed for a match). Special Play Cards should be limited to no more than 5 total draws from all the decks.
- 3) Special Play Cards cannot be used as Inducement purchases. Each coach is instead given between 50,000 and 200,000 gold pieces (commissioner's choice) useable solely for the purchase of Special Play Cards at the start of each match. This gold cannot be carried over beyond the current match and is in addition to any Inducement gold received by the team for this game.

Note: If a league uses both the Special Play Cards and the Inducement System on page 28, coaches should be allowed to draw any Special Play Cards they purchase as an inducement and see which card(s) they draw before purchasing any other inducements.

Free Fan Factor

Instead of using the rules for purchasing Fan Factor on page 16, the league may have Fan Factor be free. All teams under this rule would start with a Fan Factor of 5 for no cost. Fan Factor never adds to a team's value and changes in Fan Factor from Post-game rolls do not affect team value.

Additional Cash for Short Term Leagues

The league rules are designed for long term development. If a league runs short seasons before resetting, it could consider giving a 10,000 gold piece winning bonus for losing and 20,000 for ties/winning or doubling the FAME modifier for the winnings roll (or both of these depending on the rate of growth desired.)

THE ORIGINS OF BLOOD BOWL

It all began long, long ago, on an ancient battlefield somewhere in the known world. The battle ended in a grim bloodbath, and both sides slumped beneath the circling vultures on the reeking, gore-soaked battlefield, fickle Madame Victory remaining firmly out of reach of everybody. Mutual exhaustion led to a truce being called, whereupon the leaders of both sides attempted to parley.

As the leaders argued, the ordinary troops fell where they stood, thankful for any respite from the slaughter. Mungk, the leader of a small Orcish band, was sitting with his first sergeant, indulging in his favourite sport of bogey-flicking. Having won this absorbing competition with a deft over-under move, Mungk waved his scrawny companion away. The Orc leant back, wondering when this parley nonsense would be over so he could get back to the fun of wholesale slaughter. He gazed out over the battlefield, grinning with fond recollection at the piles of Dwarf corpses. Their last stand had taken place in a bowl-shaped depression. At the southern end of this stood a strange silver dome, undoubtedly another of the many ancient constructions left from a previous, more peaceful time. It was against this dome that Mungk now rested his head.

Bored with simply sucking his teeth and motivated by a thunderous rumbling in his belly, the Orc began scrabbling in the sodden earth in the hope of finding a juicy earthworm or two on which to snack. His battle-blunted claws hit something hard and smooth. He pulled, but to no avail. He scrabbled: nothing happened. Then he pushed. Something went in, something else clicked, and finally something was the side of the ancient building, which slid upwards to let stale, dry air pour from the dark interior.

Mungk, who would have been in serious trouble with the washerwoman had he been wearing any form of underwear, gazed goggle-eyed into the glittering hall now revealed inside the dome. Strange armour adorned the walls, peculiar mosaics lined the floor, and at its centre, on a great bejewelled pedestal, sat an enormous book...

After the parleying leaders of the two great armies had been informed of the Orc's peculiar discovery, they adjourned their so-far-fruitless meeting in favour of this new mystery. Since none of the generals could actually read, however, they were unable to establish much beyond the fact that the building was obviously an ancient temple. Messengers were dispatched with utmost speed in an effort to find some literate being who could reveal the secrets the dome held. Eventually, a half-blind Dwarf was led up and introduced as an expert in all languages, both current and arcane. The book thrust before his warty nose, the Dwarf sat cross-legged on the floor and began poring through its forgotten secrets.

Three days passed, during which time the Dwarf hardly moved from his chosen spot. At last, he was ready to make his report. A podium was hastily erected before the silver temple, and the stunted fellow hoisted up onto it to deliver his findings to the assembled multitude.

"This book," wheezed the ancient seer, blinking his heavy-lidded eyes, "appears to be the religious text of a group of warriors who came from a land called Amoric. The book is dedicated to the lost god Nuffle. The head priests of the various sects of this deity, known as coaches, led their bands of warriors into great arenas, and attempted to exterminate each other. The object was not, however, violence simply for violence's sake. No! It was in truth of great ritual significance!"

There was a subdued murmur from the crowd as they attempted to absorb this outlandish concept. The Dwarf continued: "A pig's bladder was inflated and carried or thrown from one end of the arena to the other, in an effort to, erm, score. Carrying the bladder over an opponent's end line gave a sect a number of things called points. The battle lasted a set time. At the end, the sect who had amassed the most points was declared the victor. Apparently, you didn't even have to maim all your opponents, although the coaches seem to have encouraged the practice as much as they could. Furthermore, the book also states that Nuffle's sacred number was eleven, and that only eleven warriors from each side could be on the field of battle at one time."

At this there was a great deal of shuffling in the goblinoid ranks as they removed their footwear in a desperate attempt to find out just what the number 'eleven' was. Typically, this degenerated into brawling after a Goblin discovered what a great joke it was to keep his boots on and stamp on all his mates' bare feet with his hobnails. Ignoring the infrequent howls of pain, the Dwarf continued.

"This does not mean that there were only eleven members of a sect, or team, as they were also known. Warriors could go off and come on at will, as long as the sacred number was not exceeded. One could also hit an opponent at any time, as long as one did not use a weapon! Nuffle said that one's body was one's weapon, and – although he allowed amour – all weapons are forbidden from the arena. It is also written that the arena for this conflict was a rectangular field, set within a huge bowl!"

All eyes turned to regard the shape of the battlefield in which they had gathered, where large squadrons of over-stuffed vultures were making feeble attempts to get airborne again.

★ ★ STAR PLAYER PROFILE ★ ★
MORG 'N' THORG

Former Star Player of Chaos All-Stars

For all their bizarre magic and weird rites, the Chaos All-Stars are very popular with the Blood Bowl-watching public. This popularity is due, at least in part, to the success of their hulk-like big guys such as Ogre blocker, Morg 'n' Thorg. While we think his name is written that way, Morg is unable to actually write his name (using only a bloody fist print on most contracts). As a result each Blood Bowl record book spells Morg's name based on how it sounds when Morg says his name and interviewing him is often a risk filled event. Thus Morg's name has been spelled over a half dozen ways in the Blood Bowl record books. Morg or 'The Ballista' as tongue-tied commentators have nicknamed him, is a huge, lumbering juggernaut of a player. With his half-shaven head and grim, tusky visage he looks very frightening, but off the pitch he's as gentle as a lamb and a great hit with children. As a result of his award-winning series of road safety adverts, accidents have been cut by more than a quarter, and he's sold more soft toilet paper than anyone in history!

On the Blood Bowl pitch, though, Morg is the accident; at least, he always leaves the objects of his tackles looking like they've been in a road smash! His play tactics are effective in their simplicity - either he bludgeons his way through the opposition and scores, trampling everyone in his way; or he gives the ball to one of his Goblin teammates and throws them into the end zone to score!

Club historians still aren't quite sure where Morg came from; legend has always had it that he simply walked into a practice session one day and signed himself up. Wherever he came from, he was a natural Chaos All-Stars player, being both calculating and cruel, and blessed with a brutal-looking exterior. He's always been very shy of revealing details of his personal history to sports reporters, and has been known to demonstrate his shyness to the more irritating of them. Incidentally, by using only a pencil sharpener, three carrots and a small desk lamp, Morg persuaded Nikk Three-horn to make him the only player in the history of the game to be elected to the Hall of Fame before he had retired from the game.

After helping the Chaos All-Stars win the Chaos Cup for the third time in a row in 2497, Morg was approached by Goblin agent, Gimmy the Geek, with an offer to turn to the lucrative world of freelance playing. Morg almost bit Gimmy's head off rather than talk to him until Gimmy showed Morg that he had five teams already willing to offer him almost half a million gold pieces to play for just one game! Morg began offering his services to ANY team that will pay his enormous fee (although an incident with Coach Tomolandry means he no longer works for teams that use necromantic magic.) Between his advertising contracts and his freelancing fees, Morg has become the richest player still playing Blood Bowl and his piles of gold keep growing.

"It seems to me," continued the Dwarf in a loud voice to regain their attention, "that Nuffle has seen our dilemma and is trying to resolve it. I suggest that a team is put forward from each side, and that our differences be resolved in this fashion." A murmur of assent rippled through the crowd, soon rising to a roar of agreement; except, that is, for the corner in which the Goblins were standing, since they were all still exploring the intriguing new possibilities of foot-stomping!

And so it was that the first game of Nuffle Amorical Football, as it soon became known, took place. A pig's bladder was inflated, much to the pig's consternation we must add. Armour was taken from the temple, and placed on chosen warriors from either side. The teams lined up, a shaman 'referee', dressed in fresh zebra skin for the occasion, blew a whistle and the game was away.

There was no proper pitch, no lines and very few rules, and to this day no-one is quite sure who actually won. There was a suitably large amount of carnage, however, and everyone agreed that they had really enjoyed themselves. The battle was forgotten, and the various sides dispersed to carry the exciting news to their homelands, where every tribe quickly rushed to field a team.

It was while those who remained swept up the mess that they discovered a strange green surface just under the bloody mud of the battlefield, a surface engraved with peculiar symbols and lines. The field was scrubbed clean. The workers were hushed, aware of the significance of their find. At last, the sacred Gridiron spoken of in the Book was revealed. The Dwarf seer, who had adopted the name of Sacred Commissioner Roze-El, after a priest of high standing mentioned in the Book, offered a prayer to Nuffle and began to organise the first sect meeting. His mind burned with plans for the future, plans that would culminate in the toughest sects meeting in a physical offering to the great god – the Blood Bowl!

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

During his time as Sacred Commissioner, Roze-El made many great strides in recreating Nuffle's original rites. In the darker recesses of the temple, piles of remarkably well-preserved pamphlets and scrolls were found, giving further details of the ancient game's rituals. A team of seers and scribes was set to work translating and retranslating these, until a vast body of knowledge was assembled about the game. These quickly helped clarify the rules of the game. Soon, games were being played with set time limits and on properly-marked pitches. By the time of Roze-El's death, at the grand old age of 196, there were sixteen teams competing in a season which culminated in the glorious excesses of the Blood Bowl final.

There were initially some problems, as teams from the Auld World and the New World areas developed their own unique rules of play, and a match between the Dwarf Giants and the Reikland Reavers in 2399 almost started a full-scale war when neither side could decide whose rules to use. Eventually, though, NAF resolved the situation, and a set of rules for everyone to use was published in 2409. The twin conferences were ratified in 2432, with the winner from the New World Football Conference (NFC) meeting that from the Auld World Football Conference (AFC) in the final for the Blood Bowl trophy. The arrival of Bloodweiser Beer as sponsors of the Blood Bowl cup in 2461 was the final transformation which made the competition into what it is today.

Roze-El was succeeded by his acolyte and apprentice Djimm Thorp, and then by the infamous Jorge Hellhound. Hellhound is known for many things, but his most important innovation came when he realised that he could sell far more tickets for games than he could ever hope to pack spectators into any stadium in the New World. And so he contacted the various Colleges of Magic, asking them to find a way to transmit an image of the game all over the continent.

The result was the invention of a device, named after the Campaign for Real Arcanery – the Camra. A bound spirit in a box was allowed to look out in one direction only, at the Blood Bowl pitch, and his mental image could then be transmitted by teams of magicians using the spell Cabalvision. Anyone could buy a licence to have these thoughts transmitted into their own minds. The idea was a huge success. When Hellhound sold the franchise to Channel 7 for the princely sum of 714 gold crowns, it was just the beginning. Rival Guilds set up counter-bids. The Necromancer's Broadcasting Circle (NBC) coverage began with Blood Bowl X, but they are normally thought to be dead boring. The Crystal Ball Service (CBS) have been more successful. The Association of Broadcasting Conjurers (ABC) won the franchise when it was renewed for the thirtieth time in 2486 (incidentally, the sum had risen to a staggering 12 million!)

THE COLLAPSE OF THE NAF

By the late 80's the original sacred site discovered by Mungk was the ultimate shrine for all followers of Blood Bowl. The NAF moved its headquarters to a prestigious new complex next to the site, and two years later built the Blood Bowl Museum and Hall of Fame nearby. This remarkable building had a permanent exhibition detailing the history of the game and the careers of many of its most brilliant past players.

The NAF league was carefully organised and run. There were twenty Blood Bowl teams, divided into divisions of five teams each and all competing for the Blood Bowl championship. The two conferences were supported by a huge array of lesser teams from all nations and races, with their own national and local leagues, inter-guild championships and so on. From his office at the NAF headquarters, the NAF commissioner Nikk Three-horn governed every aspect of the game, from the tops of the highest mountains to deep below the surface of the earth.

And then disaster struck! The '88-'89 season was incredibly successful, and huge amounts of cash poured into the NAF headquarters. Unfortunately the temptation proved just too much for Nikk Three-horn. While the 2489 Blood Bowl final between the Darkside Cowboys and the Reikland Reavers was taking place, Nikk, the entire NAF treasury and most of the Darkside Cowboys cheerleader squad vanished and were never seen again! What became of Nikk no-one knows, although rumours persist of a secret fortress hidden deep in the Worlds Edge Mountains, and of the outrageous and perverted goings on there...

The NAF, meanwhile, was thrown into turmoil. For the remainder of 2489 it was run by a rapid succession of corrupt or plain incompetent officials, who only succeeded in making matters worse. The start of the '89-'90 season was a fiasco, and before the year was out the entire NAF organisation was declared bankrupt and went into receivership.

★★ STAR PLAYER PROFILE ★★ GRIFF OBERWALD

Former Star Player of Reikland Reavers

It isn't often that head coach of the Reikland Reavers, Harry Zwimmer, has a nice word to say about any other human being, but it is recorded that when he first saw the young Griff Oberwald play, he actually declared: "Zat boy is almost above average!". Such immense praise from the tight-lipped coach was only the first in a great many compliments paid to the young superstar from Streissen, who has since been called "Griff the godlike!" (Spike! Magazine), "Phew what a scorer!" (Middenheim Mirror) and

"The greatest gift to our profession since Morg 'n' Thorg first bit a Goblin's head off in the Chaos Cup!" (Undertaker's Gazette).

The young Oberwald came to the attention of Reavers fans in his first game for the team at the end of 2483, in which his ferocious tackle play garnered him three ears, a nose and a two-match suspension. Undaunted by this minor set-back, Griff gained a permanent place in the Reavers first team, where he battled his way through the lines alongside his half-cousin and team captain Orlak Sturmdrang. A quite remarkable second season for the Reavers earned him a precious Best Newcomer medal, and culminated in his scoring the winning touchdown against the Darkside Cowboys in the full-scale rout that was Blood Bowl XXV.

Oberwald's qualities are those of the classic Blood Bowl hero. He's tall, super fit and strong, with a grace and co-ordination that can leave most other players standing. Instantly recognisable across a murky Blood Bowl pitch by the splattering of gore across his kit, Oberwald cuts a very dashing figure and it's no surprise the girls go wild when he has the ball in his capable hands.

Oberwald became team captain at the start of the '87 season and immediately made his mark on the team, driving them harder than ever with startling results. Reikland finished the year as Blood Bowl champions yet again, and Oberwald was voted AFC Player of the Year. Going from strength to strength, Griff becomes one of the most respected (and feared!) Blood Bowl player in the Old World.

After winning his fourth Blood Bowl winners medal in 2499, Griff realized that the rigors of playing full time for the Reavers was becoming too much for him. Griff's living larger than life had taken a half step of speed from his game (while donating some to his waistline). Griff turned freelance starting with the 2500 season with a single match fee that rivals the gold need to provide the cost of food and ale for the most sought out freelance star monstrosities (like the minotaur Grashnak and snow troll Icepelt). However there is little doubt that teams (including the Reavers) will be lining up to hire the special services of one of the most dangerous humans to ever take the Blood Bowl pitch.

CHAOS & CONFUSION

Following the collapse of the NAF, Blood Bowl teams were thrown back on their own resources. Unfortunately most teams were run by coaches not noted for their financial ability, and so not surprisingly many rapidly went bankrupt and had to be disbanded. Almost half the teams in the old NFC and AFC conferences went under, including such famous names as: the Asgard Ravens (who were forced to take up raiding and pillaging to supplement their income and were wiped out at the Battle of Stamford Bridge), Albion Wanderers (who gave up Blood Bowl and set up their own version of football that involves kicking the ball instead of carrying it), the Westside Werewolves (who got lost in the forests of Athelorn and found themselves barking up the wrong tree), and the Southstorm Squids (who were washed away when their ship capsized on a fundraising trip to Estalia).

Almost all of the other teams were forced to sell their stadiums and take to the open road, travelling from town to town and playing matches against any opponent, any place, any time, and for any money they could get! At the end of what had been the regular season nearly all the surviving teams were still strapped for cash, so rather than rest up over the summer they simply kept on playing through the year.

Meanwhile the Cabalvision networks were desperate to increase the falling rating figures for the game. For the first time in the history of the game there had been no Blood Bowl championship, and without the excitement of semi-finals and large championships, Cabalvision viewing figures were well down on what they had been before. In order to try to overcome this trend, the NBC joined forces with Orcidas and hosted the first 'Chaos Cup Open Tournament'.

THE OPEN TOURNAMENTS

As its name implies, the Chaos Cup Open was open to all teams. The first three weeks of the tournament were an anarchic and confusing affair called the play-offs. During the play-offs it was up to the teams taking part in the tournament to arrange matches for themselves, there was no regular schedule as such. A team could play any number of matches in this period, against any opponent (although they couldn't play the same opponent more than once). Teams scored points for winning matches, and at the end of the play-off period the four teams with the most points went through to the semi-finals.

The winners of the semi-final matches went through to the Grand Final for the Chaos Cup trophy and (more importantly) a big money cash prize. The event proved a huge success. The play-offs, which had been organised because neither Orcidas or NBC could be sure which teams would turn up and so couldn't organise a regular schedule even if they had wanted to, proved surprisingly popular. The wild and woolly play-off period generated a huge number of games and an enormous amount of excitement. NBC's viewing figures went through the roof, and the audience for the final between the Marauders (who had shortened their name from the Middenheim Marauders after they were forced to sell their stadium) and the Dwarf Giants, rivalled that of the '89 Blood Bowl Championship.

Having enviously watched the success of the Chaos Open, the ABC joined forces with Bloodweiser to host the '91 Blood Bowl championships using the new 'open' format. The Blood Bowl Open proved every bit as popular as the Chaos Cup Open, and soon networks and sponsors were falling over themselves to set up their own open tournaments. Four tournaments quickly established themselves as the most important and eagerly anticipated Blood Bowl events of the year, and were soon being referred to as 'the Major Tournaments' or simply 'the Majors'.

BLOOD BOWL TODAY

Blood Bowl by the year 2493 is very different to the highly structured and organised game that was run by the NAF until 2488. Now Blood Bowl teams travel freely round the Old World, moving from venue to venue to play games. In a way, Blood Bowl teams are now much more like a travelling company of actors, or a mercenary regiment (or a combination of the two!), than the Blood bowl teams of the NAF period. Teams are accompanied by a large gathering of retainers, showmen, hangers-on, assorted ne'er-do-wells, loyal fans and dedicated supporters. The arrival of two teams to play a match brings with it a carnival atmosphere, and is eagerly looked forward to by the local population.

The stadiums where the games are played are usually owned by the town or the city where the stadium is built, more often than not bought on the cheap from an impoverished team following the collapse of '88. It is very rare for a Blood Bowl team to own their own stadium these days, although not completely unheard of (the Lowdown Rats still own their own stadium, though this owes more to the refusal of anyone to buy the mouldering death-trap than any desire of the Rats to hang on to the place). Blood Bowl teams are usually paid by the owner of the stadium to play there, the amount of money they receive depending on the number of fans who turn up to watch the match, whether or not the match will be shown by a Cabalvision network, and whether the team wins or loses.

And then, of course, there are the tournaments. The major tournaments are held in large cities and attract dozens of teams, and hundreds of thousands of followers and fans. Most of the big teams will play at all four major tournaments and carefully plan their travel route so that they arrive at the tournament venue well in advance to become acclimatised.

The major tournaments are watched by countless numbers of Humans, Orcs, Elves, Ogres, Dwarfs, Trolls, Goblins, Halflings and many more esoteric viewers besides. Just how many watch and play the game is difficult to determine, because it is so widespread. Rumours persist that the game has permeated the lower levels of the astral and daemonic planes and hopes are still high that in a few years we shall witness exchange teams of daemons and elementals joining all the regulars in the Blood Bowl! As the long departed Commissioner Three-horn famously said on many occasions: "This is Blood Bowl, buddy, anything could happen!". You better believe it!

In fact, anything DID happen because in 2502 due to the continual need to monitor and organize the majors and play-offs, the NAF was reformed with president Jonathan 'Krippler' Louis III to overlook and calculate the rankings for the tournaments (though some sceptics claim the NAF simply pull a number out from... somewhere...). With a procedure in place for popular election of future NAF presidents, and no actual handling of the multi-millions that was the sponsorship money, tournament prizes and CabalVision revenue, the chance of corruption was greatly reduced. These days the NAF also offer banking services for the travelling teams (since lugging gold crowns through the Badlands can be more hazardous to the team's health than the game). Many teams take advantage of this service of the NAF to lessen the risk to the team and trouble with the hauling the weight of that much gold.

Spike! Magazine number 3 All-time Most Violent Player Award is currently held by Max 'Kneecap' Mittleman. Although a referee rather than a player, Max was always a big hit with the fans for his refusal to follow the NAF referee's guidelines. Instead Kneecap dispensed summary justice with the aid of a pair of pliers, a branding iron and a chainsaw. Kneecap was sacked after three games, but the NAF was forced to reinstate him due to 'pressure from the fans'. His record for the Most Players Dismembered by a Referee stand to this day.

THE GAME ITSELF

Despite the appalling chaos that seems to reign whenever the whistle blows, there are a great many rules in the game of Blood Bowl. You may not be surprised to hear that many of them are forgotten most or all of the time. The Heroes of Law are renowned for being so goody-goody that they play to all the rules; as a consequence, of course, they are almost always beaten by their opponents, and are terribly boring to watch too! However, here are some of the basic principles of the sport; if you wish to know more we recommend you look at Mutilate & Slaughter's exhaustive handbook on the subject 'Genocide the Blood Bowl Way'.

THE PLAYING PITCH

In honour of the very first Blood Bowl site, every pitch must measure 100 by 60 Human paces, with a further five paces of End Zone at each end. The pitch is then usually divided by lines across it every five paces. Blood Bowl games are traditionally played on grass as it is written in the Holy Book of Nuffle that grass is the sacred material of Blood Bowl. Some subterranean teams like the Dark Elves and Dwarfs have tried using synthetic substance called Astrogranite instead since it does not need sunlight or maintenance. Traditional above ground teams have refused to use Astrogranite though especially since disgraced NAF head Nikk Three-horn owned the original factory that made it.

THE GAME IN ACTION

As the ancient tome found by Mungk revealed, the object of Nuffle's game is to carry the ball into the opposing team's End Zone, while they try to stop you. The team that manages to do this the most times during the match wins. That sounds simple enough, doesn't it? If that were true, though, games would be a lot less fun than they plainly are. So why is the average game of Blood Bowl such a mind-mangling spectacle of fun and fear?

A typical game is preceded by a coin toss to decide which side starts with the ball. Its here that the cheating generally starts: bribed referees, double-headed and weighted coins, skilful palming and simply punching out the referee and the opposing captain have all been frequently used. A more ingenious tactic, perhaps, was that employed by the Hobgoblin team in a quarter-final several years ago: they ignored a coin toss which went against them and started play with a ball of their own. This move would be on record as possibly the only even vaguely intelligent thing the Hobgobs ever did, were they not 2-0 down after only eight minutes!

As soon as one side has the ball, it's the job of the players on the other side to take it off them. In fact it's probably this which is the real problem with the game as far as a referee is concerned, because players just can't seem to control their enthusiasm when faced with an opponent who's holding the ball. Actually, they can't control it when faced with another player. Period! Which brings us to the...

REFEREES

Those hard-faced, zebra-striped officials with the funny trousers and the piercing whistles are the NAF's representatives on the field of play. As such, they have a very important job to perform. It's a pity, then, that the good name of Blood Bowl referees has gone down so much in the public's estimation. Many pretend they are rat gutters or sewer sweepers rather than admit their real profession.

Fifty years ago, the average game of Blood Bowl would be officiated over by a team of seven referees and line judges. These days, you're considered extremely lucky if two turn up. The trouble is that referees seem to – erm – die rather easily. Since they don't wear padding or armour, and since they are often frail and wizened ex-players, they really don't stand a chance against players like Vurner Vinkler. Vinkler, nicknamed the Refkiller, made a habit of celebrating each touchdown by flattening a referee, until he was lynched after a particularly successful game by eighty members of the Referees and Allied Rulekeepers Guild (RARG).

According to the rules of the original game, a match started with the ball being tossed up between the teams by a hapless referee. The upshot of this was usually a dead referee, of course, so the practice was stopped and a kick-off used instead. Now at least, the referee can stay out of the way and not get flattened!

THE PLAYERS

A Blood Bowl team consists of a large squad of players. However, according to the rules, only eleven players may be on the pitch at one time, in deference to Nuffle's sacred number. Unsurprisingly, this rule has not always been adhered to as closely as it might.

During the first half of the Blood Bowl final of 2476, the Severed Heads (now playing as the Orcland Raiders) managed to sneak a grand total of 27 players onto the pitch. This despicable cheating was only spotted when there weren't enough oranges to go round at half-time! When asked why they hadn't noticed it earlier, their opponents, the Creeveland Crescents, claimed they didn't notice because all Orcs looked the same to them, especially those who were battering them to the ground.

There was also something of a dispute during a famous match between the Greenfield Grasshuggers and the Underworld Creepers, when it was discovered that the Grasshuggers' new star Blitzer was in fact two Halflings in an Ogre's kit, one standing on the shoulders of the other! Still, the matter was settled when the Creepers' Troll ate both offenders, and play could continue.

Of the eleven noble warriors legally allowed on the pitch at any one time, some will be standard Linemen but others will be players that specialize in throwing, catching, running, blocking, or blitzing.

EQUIPMENT

It can cost upwards of 150,000 gold crowns to outfit a professional team for a season – and to look at the way players treat their kit you'd think the money grew on trees. However, all that padding and armour comes in very useful for keeping a player alive long enough to maybe make a few yards or to toss the ball to another player. The cost of equipment is now so high that some teams, especially those from the poorer goblinoid races, insist a player supply his own equipment from whatever he can find. Some players have become remarkably inventive at improvising Blood Bowl gear from other objects.

The very first ball, history tells us, was made from the inflated bladder of an unfortunate pig called Dennis. Sorry to say, the ball used that day has not survived to the present, but the Blood Bowl Museum does contain a lot of balls from the early days of the game. In those days a ball could be just about any shape, and made from just about any material that could stand up to the punishment of a Blood Bowl match, but still be light enough to be thrown. These days, all balls are made by the Blood Bowl Ball Company of Rock Rapids near Middenheim. Game standard professional balls cost around 30 gold crowns but teams have been experimenting with spiked balls which allow the team to circumvent the rules banning weapons from the field of play!

CHEERLEADERS

Where would we be without those beauties of the Blood Bowl battlefield, those cuddly cuties of the Chaos Cup confrontation, the cheerleaders? You know, every team gets demoralised at some time or another, but there's nothing like a happy chant from a posse of beautiful women to turn a 2-0 deficit at half-time to the Lowdown Ratz into a triumph of modern pest-control! Every team has its own cheerleading squad, from the stark Elven beauty of the Darkside Cowgirls to the roly-poly homeliness of the Greenfield Gigglers. Even the Nurgle's Rotters have a gang of cheerleading lovelies who are probably very pretty if you happen to be a rotten body of putrescent disease like the rest of the Rotters players. Most teams have very strict rules about cheerleaders, especially where relations with players are concerned. Some teams forbid any form of contact between the stars and the cheerleaders, with infringement punishable by instant dismissal.

BEHIND THE PLAYERS

Behind every good (and bad!) Blood Bowl team there's a large team of very highly skilled professionals who handle everything except the actual playing of the game. The Reikland Reavers, for example, include the following 'backroom boys':

MANAGEMENT: At the very top there's owner and president JJ Griswell Jr. together with his staff of eleven directors, yes-men and secretaries. These follow JJ everywhere, noting down any important decisions, ideas or pearls of wisdom which may fall from his lips as he strides through the stadium sacking people. Behind this lot are a further ten financial, legal and administrative staff who handle the day-to-day running of the club.

COACHING: Helmut Zimmer has the responsibility of getting the team to peak fitness, assisted by ten further specialists and assistant coaches. The specialists each teach and train the players in one particular aspect of the game, be it throwing, catching, maiming, throttling or whatever.

HEALTH: The Reavers employ a medical team of four apothecaries and physicians, and also have a full-time counsellor and lawyer whose job it is to look after the players' well-being between matches, or in the Reavers' case, to bail them out so they can play the next day!

PUBLIC RELATIONS: This department employs eighteen people, whose various jobs include producing the programmes and club magazines, and selling tickets. They also organise the half-time entertainment and train the team of 26 cheerleaders, the Reavettes (and their two bodyguards).

Add to this number all the locker room boys, equipment cleaners, washerwomen, crowd security men, bar staff, merchandise sellers, rat-on-a-stick vendors and general hangers-on and dogsbodies, and you've got much more than just a team of sixteen battle-trained psychos.

★ ★ ★ Did you know...

The Hobgoblin Team is a team made up entirely of Hobgoblins (not a big surprise) without any other Chaos Dwarf players. Unfortunately, it has to make do with Hobgoblins who will voluntarily play Blood Bowl (rather than being forced to as they are in most Chaos Dwarf teams), and as a result it has the biggest collection of stupid and easily duped players of any team in the Old World. The chaos and confusion that reign when the Hobgoblin team stumble and trip onto the playing pitch means that games featuring them are very popular, and almost always sell out in advance. Skurfrik Stone-Sucker was prime example of "talent" on the Hobgoblin Team, Voted Spike! Magazine's All-time Worse Player no. 3, he was renowned for being the stupidest Hobgoblin player ever! Skurfrik often turned up to matches several days early - because it took him that long to figure out how to tie up his bootlaces!

THE OLD WORLD

Blood Bowl today is mostly played on a mammoth continent that is known to all as the Old World (or the Auld World for the real old timers). The Old World is a wild and dangerous place - let's face it, it has to be if the inhabitants play Blood Bowl for fun!

The land is bound to the east by the World's Edge Mountains and to the west by the Great Ocean. The northern coast lies against the Sea of Claws, on the other side of which is the frozen tundra of Norsca, home of the fierce Norse warriors, and beyond to fabled Albion. Bordering the southern edge is the foreboding Land of the Dead, with its cyclopean tomb cities of Khemri and Numas. Beyond the World's Edge Mountains are the Dark Lands, home to the evil and twisted Chaos Dwarfs, whilst further north lie the dread Chaos Wastes from which incursions by the armies of the ruinous powers are launched upon the Old World.

Westerly, beyond the Great Ocean, is the equally vast land mass known as the New World, comprising of Naggaroth in the north and Lustria in the south. Also called the Land of Chill, Naggaroth harbours the slave fleets of the Dark Elves which raid far and wide in search of fresh victims. While deep in the steaming jungles are the spawning pools of the mysterious and ancient race of Lizardmen. Perpetually shrouded in mist, the isle of Ulthuan, last vestige of the High Elf race, stands alone between the Old World and the New World.

Life is often short and death sudden and unexpected in the Old World. Comparing the similarities between everyday life and Blood Bowl, it is unsurprising then that the game has proven so hugely and enduringly popular. Brought up amidst constant wars, dark forests of horrible monsters and the ever present reality of plague and other incurable diseases, the people of the Old World are natural Blood Bowl players; willing to risk all to win fabulous riches and fame in a world where their future is never certain.

The Old World itself is home to Men, Dwarfs, Elves and Halflings. These civilised folks are numerous and powerful, dwelling throughout the land and defended by large, well fortified cities. And they need to be, for the high mountains and deep forests that cover much of the continent are also home to hordes of evil creatures that blight the land: Orcs, Goblins and shunned Necromancers with their dire entourages. Even below the surface exists an insidious threat, where the Skaven scurry through their labyrinthine domain, ever plotting the downfall of Men and the rise of the Under Empire.

Considering the vast number of races that hate each other's guts it is hardly surprising that wars between the different races are a frequent state of affairs in the Old World. Rebellions and uprisings often overturn nations and plunge them into civil war, while ancient feuds and bitter hatreds are commonplace. Never the less when two Blood Bowl teams arrive at a city to play a match a special truce is declared which lasts until after the match is over. This means that no matter what the race of the team or its supporters, and barring all-out warfare, nothing will interfere with the playing of the all important game of Blood Bowl.

The top three Spike! Magazine All-time Most Fascinating Players Killed by Explosion are:

1. The late Engel 'The Exterminator' von Evilstein was probably the most violent player ever. Just before he was killed during an explosive attempt to wipe out the entire Underworld Creepers team at one go, he was reckoned to have killed or seriously injured an unbelievable 824 players!

2. Knut Rockkneed of the Asgard Ravens is still the holder of one of the more unlikely NAF records. From 2469-2474, over a period of 40 games, he set off 113 traps without sustaining so much as a scratch. In fact, the Ravens got so used to Knut's good fortune that their opening play in every game was to have him wander around the pitch setting off spear traps, opening pits and making the arena safe for his team-mates. Knut finally met his end when the Dwarf Warhammerers went for broke and mined half of the pitch with explosives. This plan wrecked their entire stadium, killed 7 of their players and brought down the wrath of the NAF, but the Warhammerers were still happy with their choice. "There is no Knut too tough for us to crack!" boasted a spokesman for their owners.

3. Stunted Grom Red-Axe was famous for his 41 league-long scoring rush when fired from an over-loaded cannon during a 2480 match with the Gouged Eye. Grom was the Dwarf Warhammerers' top scorer before his unfortunate death when he looked down the barrel of a blunderbuss which had jammed. Still, he was posthumously awarded the Channel 7 Viewers' Award for Most Entertaining Player Death of 2487.

THE TEAMS

ORC BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Orcs have been playing Blood Bowl since the game was discovered - indeed it was an Orc who discovered the shrine where the sacred box of Nuffle was hidden. Orc teams are very hard-hitting, concentrating on pounding an opponent into the turf to create gaps through which the excellent Orc Blitzers can run. Indeed, if any fault can be found with Orc teams in general it is that they sometimes spend a little bit too much time pounding the opposition, and not enough time running the ball to score!

Orcs have always respected brawn over intelligence and so they frequently make use of Black Orcs and a Troll in their teams, to add even more weight to the front line. In addition, the Orc race has close links with other green-skinned races such as Goblins, and it is not uncommon to find Goblins playing in Orc teams.

FAMOUS ORC TEAMS

Orcland Raiders: Formally the NFC's top Orc team, the Raiders won the very first open Blood Bowl but have since then been unable to repeat the feat. With a long history of exceptional throwers, such as Grishnak Goblin-Throttler and Greaser Geargrinder, the Raiders have surprised many opponents waiting for a ground attack by their hulking Black Orcs and blitzers only to see the "un-Orcy" tactic of a long bomb reaching one of their three Goblin catchers who darts down the pitch to score, much to the chagrin of the opposing coach.

War Hawks: Emerging from MAD (the old Dungeonbowl league) the War Hawks have been known to spend most of the game trying to find chests and 'teleportaz' or raking about in the changing rooms looking for the ball and peering warily into lockers as if they'd explode. Still the team does remarkably well in the Dungeonbowl and we're sure they'll eventually get used to the wide open spaces. At least the possibility of "da sky falling on our 'edz!" doesn't seem to scare them as much as it used to.

FAMOUS ORC TEAM PROFILE: THE GOUGED EYE

Owner: Skullcrush XIV

Head Coach: Rip Sorepain

Players: Orcs

Under the ownership of tribal overlord, His Most Grossest Majesty, Emperor Skullcrush XIV the Gougued Eye were finally able to emerge from the shadow of the Reikland Reavers. With the collapse of the NAF, the Gougued Eye have unleashed themselves onto the open tournament scene with hard tackling, grinding drives and a desire to show the rest of the world that 'Da Eye iz bak!'.

- 2403 Slaves captured by Orc raiding parties tell the Gougued Eye tribe of a wondrous game played by humans. A spying party manages to kidnap a coach, and soon the Orcs of the Gougued Eye are playing their first few matches. Unfortunately, since the man they captured was a specialist rushing trainer, the team have great trouble passing the ball - trouble which sees them lose all but one of their first seventy-two games.
- 2429 Undaunted by early failures, the Gougued Eye finally realises what they are doing wrong, and manage to kidnap passing expert Vimmy Gloam after a late-night Middenheim Marauders training session. After just a little persuasion, he tells them all he knows, and under his guidance the Orc team develops into a formidable fighting, er, playing machine.
- 2431 Their first year in the old central division, under the captaincy of Eruk Ogrehack, the Eye manages a respectable third place. A recruiting drive pioneered by Blood Bowl fan, Emperor Skullcrush XI allows Orcs a chance between a spell in the army or in the team. Thousands flock to join the Gougued Eye.
- 2464 Unbelievably, the Gougued Eye beats the Reavers in a last ditch play-off scramble bloodbath and go all the way to the champions' rostrum when they defeat the Dwarf Giants at the Middenheim Stadium. The Team Captain was Hurk Verminsmasher, but honour must go to the thrice scorer Bolg Stonemangle (later known as 'Dwarfsmangle!')
- 2495 Captained by Varag Ghouel Chewer and with ace thrower Harg Vainkill in top form, the Eye wins their third Blood Bowl against the Champions of Death. As head coach, Gort Sever-limb and Harg Vainkill announce their retirement from the game after the match, they are shockingly joined by Varag who announces he will now become one of the many stars on the freelance circuit leaving the Eye severely weakened and unable to defend the Championship the following year.
- Now With former star Black Orc, Rip Sorepain taking up the coaching position, the Eye is back to pounding heads and breaking bones, featuring undoubtedly one of the toughest lines in the game today, led by (allegedly) Half Black Orc - Half Ogre, Krut Killkrunch and backed up by the massive Troll Glop Vomitbrains. This line has been known to stop even the most dangerous of rushing games while opening up holes for the blitzers to run down.

FAMOUS DWARF TEAM PROFILE: DWARF GIANTS

Team Colours: Dark Grey and Blue

Owner: Thorn Durinsgold III

Head Coach: Gudrun Wolfric

Players: Dwarfs

The Giants are an old team with a very long and distinguished history. They were one of Roze-El's original Blood Bowl sects, and they have been present for every major development in the game's history. In more recent times, thanks to the motivation of team owner and patron King Durinsgold III, they have consolidated their talents and relaunched themselves into the fully-modernised, up-to-the-minute, high-tech Blood Bowl game of today.

2381 When they realise their religion is getting in the way of having a good time, the Illuminated Seers of the Sacred Orb of Nuffle change their name, update their rather stuffy image, and become the Dwarf Giants. Retiring captain Varak Varaksson becomes Head Coach, and sets about instituting a ruthless retraining program.

2400 After numerous modest successes, the Giants' good fortunes reach a peak when they end the season as league champions. However, a long and bloody underground war against various Orc and Goblin armies lead by Argvak Pentel begins soon after and the entire team is drafted. When the war ends - 36 years later - the team is all but forgotten. However, thanks to some serious determination from new coach Karrag (Varaksson died heroically in the war), the Giants are soon ready for action again, even winning the NFC league championship in 2438.

Now In more modern times the Giants have consolidated their skills with typical Dwarf patience. Under the tuition of youthful new coach Wolfric, and the inspired (and some would say quite crazy) captaincy of Grimwold Grimbreath ('The Helmsmasher!'), the Giants are regularly setting new records for fatalities and touchdowns alike.

DWARF BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Dwarfs were one of the very first races to play Blood Bowl. Many Dwarf teams can trace back their history to the early years of the game. Dwarfs tend to use a running game, grinding their opponents into the ground as they go and working on the principal of high casualty rates opening up the game. Weakness both with and against the passing game has been a feature of the Dwarf game for many centuries. There are, however, so many Dwarf teams around that it is possible to find one to suit any taste. One Dwarf team (Durum's Destroyers) has even built up a good passing game, thanks to the inspired leadership of Bran 'Long Bomb' Ironson.

It is, however, the Dwarfs' reputation for flamboyant illegality in which they are surpassed only by Goblins that makes them such a big hit with the fans. Since it was a Dwarf who first discovered Nuffle's sacred laws and brought the game into being, most Dwarf teams believe they have a lasting right to alter the laws as they choose. The Dwarf Warhammerers, for example, frequently bend the rules of the game, and then claim Roze-El authorised their illicit amendments.

FAMOUS DWARF TEAMS

Dwarf Warhammerers: Arch-Rivals of the Dwarf Giants, the Warhammerers are most interesting because of their perpetual insistence in breaking the rules on the most obvious and flamboyant ways possible. Their latest exploits include mining under the opposing team's dugout and blowing it up at half-time, using a hot-air balloon to get past the opponents' front line, and using, not one, but eleven Deathrollers on the same play!

The Grudge Bearers: The Grudge Bearers are another one of the new teams that have proven successful since the collapse of the NAF. The Grudge Bearers were formed in 2492 entirely from members of the Dwarf Scribes and Book-Keepers Guild, who had become fed-up simply writing about the game and wanted to take part. All of the years hunched over books and manuscripts paid off, however, and the Grudge Bearers quickly became famous for their intricate and well-planned plays, as well as for never forgetting an insult or dirty trick carried out by an opponent, of course!

Morgantown Mad Dogs: The Mad Dogs are best known for their frequent use of the Killdozer, a massive piece of mechanics first developed by the Dwarf Anvils to rival the Deathroller. Instead of trying to roll over opponents, the Killdozer has the ability to push virtually anything in front of it out of the way. Travelling ahead of the ball carrier, the Killdozer has cleared the path to many a touchdown for the Mad Dogs.

The highest score in a Championship game in 2493 was the Marauders 7-0 defeat of the Bugman's Best Dwarf team in the Blood Bowl play-offs. Many blame the defeat on the fact that the Dwarf players had been sampling the brew after which their team is named (the renowned Dwarf beer known as Bugman's XXXXXX) before the match started. Consequently most of the Dwarf players could barely stand up, let alone play Blood Bowl!

GOBLIN BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Where do you start with Goblin teams? Generally at the lower end of the rankings. This is not to say that Goblin teams are not very good. It's just that... Well.. alright, they are not very good. It's just very difficult to write anything positive about a team that has members that spend the night before the game drinking (in silly hats), turn up to the game yelling abuse (in silly hats) and go to the pub after the game for more drinking and yelling of abuse (in silly hats). Especially since that's just the Coaching Staff. Most Goblin players will get into countless fights (which they usually lose), drinking contests (which they usually lose as well but not before drinking up a massive bar tab), thievery and all manners of hooliganism before the games, and during the games they behave even worse! It's no surprise that ALL goblin teams are permanently barred from the Elven Kingdoms and most Goblin fans are barred from any civilized stadium in the world. Not that they care, they still find a way in so that they can cause more mischief, carnage and utter chaos in the stands.

So what does a Goblin team have going for it? Well without a doubt, they are the masters of the Secret Weapon (though the Dwarfs run a very close second). A Goblin team will often field players equipped with bombs, chainsaws, pogo sticks of doom and even wildly spinning ball and chain fanatics. All of these combined can wreck utter carnage on a team not prepared for the onslaught (and for that matter the Goblin team themselves when things go wrong, as they inevitably do). What else does a Goblin team have going for it? Well ... the majority of Goblin teams will feature two hulking great Trolls. Almost impossible to stop once moving and practically unkillable, what Trolls lack in intelligence they make up for in strength, toughness and appetite as any unfortunate goblin would testify to if he could.

Still Goblins just lack a basic talent for the game. Sure they run at a decent speed and they can dodge well, but the poor ball handling and general.. uhm.. 'squishiness' of the average goblin will always keep them down at the lower end of the rankings.

FAMOUS GOBLIN TEAMS

Lowdown Ratz: Owned and coached by the infamous Hymie Snivel, the Ratz are the most mediocre of Goblin teams. Regularly causing more casualties on themselves through botched secret weapons than the opposition does, as well as having two Trolls that spend 99% of the game sleeping or eating Goblins, they are one of the worst teams to ever step foot on the pitch. Occasionally they might win a game, but that's normally when the opponents don't turn up or because of some miracle: a bomb lands in the right place, or a chainsaw decapitates a star thrower. However, despite all this, the team is one of the most popular in the history of Blood Bowl and their purple 'n' black fans are a well-known sight at tournaments.

Rock Sweaty: Rock Sweaty is not even a real team. It's a pub in the Badlands. The pub often sends some of its patrons (normally the ones with outstanding tabs) to a tournament to try and earn a few gold coins to pay back the pub. If they do not succeed, then at least they won't be back to put more money on their tab. Sadly for the owners there are a few patrons that keep on returning from tournaments in one piece (admittedly not a sober piece).

HALFLING BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Why Halflings actually make the effort of getting all kitted out for a game every week, only to be perpetually stomped into the ground and left for dead, has been a complete mystery to a great many sports fans (and Goblin bookies) for years. The answer is simple (at least to a Halfling)! According to Halfling tradition, everyone who plays in a game gets to join in a gigantic slap-up feast after the game is over! It is not unusual to see injured Halflings get up from their stretchers and tear off in the direction of the dressing room when the final whistle is blown! These post-game banquets are so extensive that the best of Master Chefs who prepare them during the game fill the entire stadium with aromas that often prove incredibly inspirational to the Halfling team (while being equally distracting to the opposing team). Even knowing the post-game buffet is waiting, Halflings can be completely unreliable players. Many have nasty habits such as sneaking off the pitch for a quick hot dog or a pre-feast snack, or refusing to come out of the dugout until they have finished their iced sticky bun and glass of Orca-Cola.

Halfling coaches are also infamous for overcompensating for their shortcomings by recruiting the biggest of the big guys to assist the team. Most Halfling teams will sport at least two massive Treemen who like the little guys because they are the only race of the short lived ones (which to Treemen even include Elves) who will listen to their incredibly boring and long-winded stories. Only young Treemen (under 250 years old) will help Halfling teams as old Treemen are normally reclusive and do not mix with the other races. Occasionally a Treeman is also seen on a tree-hugging Wood Elf team. Fans love the Treemen both for their ability to plant opposing players into the pitch with lumbering swings of their huge limbs and for the chance to cry 'Timmmm-ber!' when one of the goliaths is actually knocked over by the opposing team.

FAMOUS HALFLING TEAMS

Greenfield Grasshuggers: The Grasshuggers are best known for their 2482 match against the Asgard Ravens when Storm Giant Gurk CloudScraper played his first (and last) game. Foolish ex-coach Omo Snuffsniffer continued to send in substitutes for injured and dead players throughout the match. The Grasshuggers finally gave up when the 734th corpse was carried from the pitch. New legislation limiting teams to only 16 players was rushed through the very next week.

The Iron Chefs: The Chefs are one of the few Halfling teams that opponents actually fear to play. It has to be said that this is more for the fact that the team includes the towering Treemen the Ironwood brothers, Teakoak and Mapleleaf, and frequently features the mightiest Treeman blocker to walk the Moot, Deeproot Strongbranch, than for any other reason. The Chefs are also famous for their 'Halfling Hitmen' led by team captain Chins Caneatcheese. The Hitmen are renowned for taking on the finest Blood Bowl has to offer (by being used as living missiles by the Ironwood brothers) in their Kitchen Stadium and coming out on top (usually by bouncing off the opposing players' heads). As the Chefs' head coach, Kaga Sakisushi, points out "I've assembled the finest the Moot had to offer and we'll take advantage of any edge we can get".

SKAVEN AND UNDERWORLD BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Skaven society is highly stratified and bound up on complex rituals, but on the Blood Bowl pitch all barriers drop away as every player gives his all for his teams' complete and utter victory. The game has become very popular in all layers of Skaven society - the Skaven love any opportunity for mindless violence. In fact, it is very difficult to persuade them that there is any other purpose to the game once they are on the pitch, or even when they are just spectating in the stands! Some of the greatest all-time Player Death and Crowd Death records have occurred in games in which the Skaven appeared.

True to their warped nature the Skaven have adapted the game to their own special ways. A new clan has been formed to govern and control the game - the Clan Rigens. The Clan Rigens consists of an unknown number of teams with the most famous being the Skavenblight Scramblers; the three time winners of the Blood Bowl trophy. Several other teams have achieved successes in other, lesser leagues and competitions, and there are mixed teams with Skaven in them competing at various levels. Of course, the Skaven's close association with warpstone and the resulting mutations has helped with this success, but even the basic Skaven player has a lot going for him with speed few races can equal. It's only a matter of time before a Skaven team makes it to the top again.

FAMOUS SKAVEN TEAMS

The Underworld Creepers: The Creepers are not a normal Skaven team, but a misfit mix of Skaven and Goblins referred to by announcers as an Underworld team. The Creepers are famous for the innovative dirty tricks and dastardly tactics they use in order to try to win, for the mutations that Goblins and the Troll on the team develop from massive exposure to warpstone, and for the acrimonious and violent arguments that break out in their dugout when their over ambitious plans back-fire (as they almost invariably do). These three qualities have made the Creepers a big hit with the fans, even if their large following is not rewarded by strong successes on the Blood Bowl pitch!

Skitter Stab-Stab forgets the use of weapons is strictly against the rules...

FAMOUS SKAVEN TEAM PROFILE: SKAVENBLIGHT SCRAMBLERS

Team Colours: Yellow

Owner: The city of Skavenblight

Head Coach: Vytik the Many Headed

Players: Skaven

Rising from the foulest sewers of the land, the Skavenblight Scramblers are the world's premier Skaven team. Three times winners of the Blood Bowl the team is a vicious mixture of the natural speed of the Skaven and the brutal raw power of the Rat Ogres. It can surely be only a matter of time before the Scramblers reach the top again.

2442 The city of Skavenblight invests numerous chunks of warpstone into a minor team in Clan Rigens - The Scramblers. Success immediately finds the team (as well as numerous mutations) and the Scramblers become the top team in Clan Rigens in a matter of months. They even finish as the Warpstone Bowl champions (an all Skaven tournament), a title they hold for five consecutive years.

2461 After an exhibition game on the eve of the 2461 season between the NAF's Potbelly Piemen and the now Skavenblight Scramblers in the deepest pits of Skavenblight the thoroughly beaten Halflings are sold into slavery because they were unable to pay the suddenly introduced "Warpstone Tax for teams beaten by the Scramblers on the eve of the new NAF season". Without a team to replace the Piemen at such short notice the NAF duly award the newly vacated spot in the league to the Scramblers.

Now The Scramblers and fellow Skaven side the Doomfire Warhunters were to play each other in the opening game of the Blood Bowl Tournament. However the game was so highly anticipated by the Skaven fans that many had to be turned back at the turnstiles. So the Skaven did what any self respecting mutated, 5 foot tall rat would do... They dug underground to try and sneak into the stadium. When the opening kick-off arrived, the ground underneath was so unstable that the entire pitch collapsed (inflicting 14 fatalities). The Warhunters suffered the worst of the damage, but even the Scramblers couldn't put their team back together in time for the Blood Bowl championship.

FAMOUS HUMAN TEAM PROFILE: REIKLAND REAVERS

Team Colours: Blue and Yellow

Owner: JJ Griswell Jr

Head Coach: Helmut Zwimmer

Players: Humans

The Reavers were formed over a century ago, in 2389, when a vacant franchise came up in what was then the Oldlands Conference. Known during their first few years as the Altdorf Acolytes, the team quickly established their reputation for great skill and ability, as original owner DD Griswell Snr poached and bought up the best players throughout the western lands! This policy of marrying awesome buying power with the best money can buy has seen the Reavers in good stead throughout their long life. Today, under DD's great-grandson JJ Griswell Jr, the Reavers are probably the finest all round team in the known world.

- 2389 The Altdorf Acolytes formed by a business consortium in association with the people of Altdorf, make their base at the Griswell Memorial Stadium. Thanks to the sterling efforts of head coach Johann Weisshaupt and the large treasury of DD Griswell Snr., in their 1st season they come 4th in the Whiteskull Challenge Cup (now the Chaos Cup).
- 2396 When the Griswell Memorial Stadium collapses during a storm (amid rumours of paybacks and cost-cutting by the firm who built it), the team changes its name to the Reikland Reavers and sets up home at the new Altdorf Oldbowl. No-one is quite sure where either of those names comes from, but both help the Reavers to their first cup win, beating the Wupertal Wotans in the final.
- 2411 DD Griswell Jr. takes over as team owner on the death of his father. Head coach at this time is Blind Willy Muller. The Reavers slump to their worst placing ever. Muller is reputed to have got the job through blackmailing DD Jr.
- 2432 The Reavers start the 1st season of a 14-year low patch when 11 members of the first team are infected during a Nurgle's Rotters game and have to transfer to the Subterranean Slimeballs. DD Griswell Jr. is replaced by son JJ Griswell Snr.
- 2468 JJ Griswell Snr. dies during an Asgard Ravens fixture, and is replaced by current owner JJ Griswell Jr. New head coach Helmut Zwimmer arrives soon after, and institutes his 'New Order' of training and preparation.
- 2485 Reikland thrashes the Darkside Cowboys to win Blood Bowl XXIV, but only after surprise substitute Orlak Sturmdrang replaces fatally-injured captain, Wolfram von Beck, after only ninety seconds. Mighty Zug sets his still-unbeaten Most Opponents Bitten in One Match record.
- 2487 Griff Oberwald (incidentally, Sturmdrang's half-cousin!) leads the team to their 4th Blood Bowl championship after replacing Orlak as team captain when Orlak finds dealing with his groupies as a megastar too much pressure.
- 2489 The Reavers are one of the few teams to survive the collapse of the NAF unscathed, thanks mainly to the astute financial planning of team owner JJ Griswell Jr.
- 2491 The Reavers silence sceptics who said they couldn't adjust to the new open tournaments by storming back to win Blood Bowl XXXI in a close final against the Marauders.
- Now After winning the Blood Bowl for the 6th time Griff Oberwald leaves the Reavers to turn freelance. While this rocks the team it will be only a matter of time before Coach Zwimmer creates the next generation of super stars to immortalize the team.

HUMAN BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

No single race can claim to be as versatile at Blood Bowl as the Human race. Adept at all aspects of the game, Humans suffer no weaknesses such as the fragility of the Wood Elves, or the slowness of the Dwarfs. Without any doubt, Humans are the best all round players, and Human teams have won ten Blood Bowl championships since the start of the Bloodweiser sponsorship in 2461, with many more appearances in the final and numerous successes in the other majors. With a fast set of catchers, powerful blitzers, great throwers and linemen that hold the line bravely, you might wonder how any team can beat the Humans.

However, Human teams do lack the sheer brute strength of Orcs, the staying power of the Undead, and the incredible speed of the Skaven (as demonstrated a couple of years back when the Darkthunder Cheatahs ran wild over the Reavers defence). Those teams that can force the Humans to try and match their own strengths can often win the match. Don't put the Human teams out to pasture just yet, though, as they are always at the top end of the tournament rankings and it was only as recent as 2503 that the last Human team won the Blood Bowl. Anyone would be a fool to dismiss Humans as 'average'.

Since the collapse of the NAF many coaches have found that adding Ogres to a Human team can add some brute power to the team's repertoire. Though tuggish and, well, stupid, 'humanized' Ogres have been performing well on many of the top teams recently and it is rare for a Human team to take to the pitch without one. Certain teams such as the Crusaders and the Reavers still do not field Ogres, but you wonder how long before the Griswells take the plunge and invest in some top Ogre talent.

Whatever you decide to do with your gold crowns, you could do a lot worse than put those crowns on one of the top Human teams entering the Blood Bowl this year.

FAMOUS HUMAN TEAMS

Bright Crusaders: The Crusaders could be a truly great Blood Bowl team, if it wasn't for one serious handicap - they never, ever foul or cheat! While other teams are preparing for the match by bribing referees and laying down spiked pit traps the Crusaders are playing charity matches and helping old ladies across the street. This will stop them from winning any major tournament until they shape up and learn to play dirty!

Creeveland Crescents: One of the oldest teams in existence, the Crescents are now coached by famous former Crescent blitzer Harry Kehry. With the recent purchase of Rrr'krug Smma'gugg from the Oldheim Ogres, the Crescents look to be making another push towards championship glory. Whether they can match up to the Marauders or the Reavers remains to be seen. Look out folks, because if the Crescents manage to get themselves a favourable schedule for the open rounds, they could make the Semis or even the Blood Bowl final.

The Marauders: The Marauders used to be known as the Middenheim Marauders, but they changed their name when they were forced to sell their stadium and take to the open road following the collapse of the NAF in 2489. Many say that this has been the making of them, and there is no doubt that the Marauders are now one of the top Blood Bowl teams playing the game. A return match against arch-rivals the Reikland Reavers (who last defeated the Marauders at Blood Bowl XXXVIII) is eagerly anticipated by Blood Bowl fans throughout the Old World, and in quite a few places beyond!

DARK ELF BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Over five thousand years ago the Elf Kingdoms underwent a costly civil war brought about by a group of renegades known as the Dark Elves. Greedy for worldly power the Dark Elves forsook their traditional deities to worship the darker gods of evil magic. The war lasted for seven centuries and resulted in the banishment of the Dark Elves from the Elf Kingdoms. Embittered by their enforced exile, the Dark Elves became even more decadent and are now counted amongst the most useful of all the servants of Evil. They are still concentrating their considerable and malevolent powers against their kin above all others. But by Nuffle can they play Blood Bowl!

Dark Elf teams use similar tactics to their Elven cousins, being equally suited to a throwing game. But sheer spite makes the Dark Elves enjoy the running game, particularly when a team includes a remarkable runner such as the now retired Jeremiah 'The Flashing Blade' Kool. With the cruel blitzers quite literally blasting a hole in the opposition lines the runners can quickly sprint through for a touchdown before the mayhem begins once more. The frenzied Witch Elves can quickly tear into an unprepared team, and the Dark Elf assassins that lurk in the background can strike without warning (or, it appears, the referee noticing), stabbing an opponent as they go for a touchdown and often ending his game early, if not his life.

Dark Elves hate everything. Being an utterly cruel, arrogant and xenophobic race they give no mercy, nor do they expect any. Games against the hated High Elves have often erupted into all out war and a charity match a couple of years ago that featured Jeremiah Kool and Valen Swift ended up as a full scale battle before the two sides (and fans) were separated by a local army. Considering all this, why have Dark Elves not been that successful? Most attribute it to the arrogance of the race. They see no need to try and arrange an easy schedule in the open tournaments believing that their natural skill and ability will see them through easily. Many also blame the cruelty of the team; as a runner with seconds left to score a game winning touchdown will often stop for a quick stomp on the neck of a fallen opponent while time runs out.

FAMOUS DARK ELF TEAMS

White Bay Arrows: A Dark Elf team that hasn't won a game in 30 years. Famous? Well not for that fact, but they are famous for their match against the Frozen Phantoms. Back in 2476 the Arrows took to the pitch against the Phantoms following a three day effort to get 90,000 frenzied Arrows fans into a cave barely large enough for the pitch alone. The game started with the usual problem for the ethereal Phantoms - they couldn't touch the ball. However, their spell casting coach has reputedly made the referee, all the Arrow players and all their fans ethereal as well! Thus far, no-one has scored, no-one has been hurt, no-one has even made contact with anyone else... The ball deflated after the first year. And, despite his best efforts, the referee has yet to blow his whistle to end the game.

Naggaroth Nightmares: The Nightmares are a new team that was founded after the collapse of the NAF. Many of the team's players come from the disbanded Naggaroth Nightwings, who went bankrupt after the Head Coach took flight with the team treasury. With a wealth of young (to elven standards) talent and two new assassin stars, the Razzor brothers, a match against the team has already turned out to be a living nightmare for more than one opponent!

FAMOUS DARK ELF TEAM PROFILE: DARKSIDE COWBOYS

Team Colours: Black and Blue (like their opponents)

Head Coach: Luxen Tuentir

Players: Dark Elves

The twisted, degenerate Dark Elf race is infamous for the worship of weird and deviant violence, and Blood Bowl fits into their religious beliefs very well indeed. The Cowboys are a cruel, ultra-violent team, and consequently do very well at the game. The combination of high intelligence, natural grace, degenerate violence and hatred of all living things has helped them to the top on more than one occasion.

- 2422 The Old World first learns of the existence of the Darkside Cowboys when the Halfling Pinkfoot Panthers visit them for a friendly match and don't return!
- 2438 Several teams threaten to boycott the Cowboys when they apply to join the official NAF league, but the pale-skinned assassins are admitted anyway. Instantly sordid revelations started to appear about their peculiar habits, such as using trussed-up Snotlings as balls to save wear on expensive imported ones. These rumours only seem to heighten the Cowboys' mystique with thrill-starved fans.
- 2461 The Cowboys play in the very first Blood Bowl, beating the Chaos All-Stars in a very sloppy game (literally - the Cowboys used illegal magic to turn most of the All-Stars front line into slugs!).
- 2473 The Cowboys nearly disband after the infamous match against the Kishago Werebears (which lasted for 19 days before being abandoned at 2-2 on the death of the last player on either side). New NAF rules limiting the duration of games come too late to save the Werebears, but the Cowboys manage to reform and rebuild their team under the skilled leadership of Jeremiah Kool. Their drive culminates in glory when they win Blood Bowl XXI, during which Kool set his unbroken passing record.
- 2488 Although Kool retired in 2487, his place is more than filled by Hubris Rakarth, the latest in a long line of glamorous Darkside players. In his first season as team captain Hubris earns immortal fame by leading the Cowboys all the way to the Blood Bowl championships that turn out to be the last organised by the old NAF league. While the match is in progress NAF commissioner Nikk Three-horn disappears with the entire NAF treasury and most of the Cowboys cheerleaders!
- Now The Cowboys have survived both the collapse of the NAF and Hubris turning freelance to enter a period of intense training (and sacrificing to Khaine of unwary opposing fans). With a Dark Elf team winning the 2505 Chaos Cup, experts say that the Cowboys' year will soon arrive again.

Dark Elves are renowned for being evil and depraved - and that's just the cheerleaders! However, the nastiest Dark Elf of all must be Hubris Rakarth of the Darkside Cowboys, who is so incredibly cruel and vicious that we simply don't dare tell you what he is capable of, in case he finds out and comes to get us!

OGRE BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Ogres have been playing Blood Bowl since the game was re-discovered. In fact they were the first of the 'big guys', as they were known to take to the pitch. After all, possessing a childish intelligence, a destructive nature, and great strength and size, they are the perfect Blood Bowl players. Ogres have featured on many teams, and the famous Morg 'n' Thorg was voted "The greatest player of all time" last year in a Spike! Magazine poll.

While Ogres are commonly found on teams as a single player, actual Ogre teams are far less common. This has much to do with the fact that getting 11 Ogres onto the same pitch at the same time is practically impossible due to the tendency of Ogres to flat out forget what they are doing, to get involved in a brawl in the dugout or to just go to the nearest pub and get utterly hammered. Because of this, Ogre coaches (the smartest of their kin) tend to fill out the team with lesser races to gently nudge and remind the big guys what they are supposed to be doing. Up until recently Ogre coaches would often use Goblins to help, but after more than one Ogre team went bankrupt due to the kleptomaniac tendencies of the Goblins, Ogre teams started using an even lesser race to help, Snotlings.

Surprisingly Snotlings do have some advantages over Goblins. The main one, of course, being a general lack of 'sticky fingers' and thus a healthier bank balance for the team. They're also incredibly nimble, and more than a few players have been left red faced as a Snotling darted between their legs for a touchdown. Of course, Snotlings also have a long list of disadvantages, the main one being the utter lack of staying power on the pitch. A player knows that when he needs a mate to give him an even chance of beating up a Halfling he's facing an up hill battle. Even tripping on a stone has led to Snotling fatalities, and the more often a Snotling gets thrown down the pitch by an Ogre, the larger the chance that one of these days he will land head first in the end zone and the last thing going through his mind will be the turf.

FAMOUS OGRE TEAMS

Oldheim Ogres: The first ever, and undoubtedly most famous, of all the Ogre teams has even won a Blood Bowl (2475 against the Reavers for you trivia fans). While success hasn't been a common occurrence for them, they have been known to cause the odd upset as last year's victory over the Gouged Eye in the Chaos Cup semi-finals has shown. Despite this, you can't help but wonder if the Ogres will ever again reach the lofty heights of a Blood Bowl final.

Hikuuru Headhunters: Quite literally the players of this team are headhunters. Formed from an ancient tribe of headhunting Ogres from the Southlands, this team has been turning heads on the open circuit (and turning, and turning, until the heads pop off!). Led by Dibongo 'Da Spearer', the Headhunters have not only been using Snotlings as ball carriers to launch down the pitch, but also as missiles to throw at the opposition. These Ogres, with their natural spear throwing talents, have been taking out opponents before they even get into the Headhunters' half, not only causing a high casualty rate on the opposition, but also a huge Snotling death rate, much to the fans' delight.

WOOD ELF BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Wood Elves live in the enchanted forest of Loren in Bretonnia. They are physically identical to High Elves, but prefer to wear very little armour, favouring simple clothes of natural colours such as greens or ruddy browns. Their kingdom is far older than the Human realms that surround it, and is generally avoided by Humans who know that any creature that enters the forest with evil intent invites a swift death from an unseen arrow or a sudden sword strike. This means that Wood Elves are rarely seen by other races, except when one of their teams and its fans arrive as if from nowhere to play a match, disappearing back into the countryside just as mysteriously once the game is over!

Wood Elves make natural Blood Bowl players, although their refusal to wear heavy armour does leave them vulnerable to some of the more hard hitting opposing teams. Generally, however, the Wood Elves' natural athletic ability is enough to keep them out of trouble - it takes a fast or cunning foe to lay a hand on a Wood Elf player! In any case, no Wood Elf worth his salt is going to be weighted down by extra armour and be forced to lurk about and attempt to knock opposing players over. For Wood elves the long pass is everything, even more so than for their High Elf cousins who have mastered the short and mid-range passing game. All the effort of their expert Throwers goes into throwing as far as their lightning quick Catchers can run, while the Linemen struggle to hold off the opposition. The one exception to this is the Wood Elf Wardancers. These former performance artists are also extremely athletic warriors and trained not only in acrobatics but also the deadly arts of hand-to-hand combat and are a match for almost any foe.

FAMOUS WOOD ELF TEAMS

The Athelorn Avengers: The Athelorn Avengers are one of the old NAF teams that has taken extremely well to the new open tournament style of play. The Avengers insist that this is because the open tournaments suit their free-wheeling and easy-going style, though less kind critics say that it's because they are no longer stuck in the same division as their (far more successful) arch-rivals the Darkside Cowboys! Whatever the reason, the Avengers are on a roll at present with wins at both the Dungeonbowl and the Blood Bowl since the NAF's collapse.

The Deepwood Falcons: The Deepwood Falcons are a relatively new Wood elf team that, with a Treeman in their lineup, have caused something of a storm. Hickoryswitch Longbark is a cutting from one the most famous Treeman players ever, Evergreen Redwood of the Halfling Cookie Monsters, and has proved to be a chip off the old block. Longbark has given the Falcons a hard hitting edge that most Wood Elf teams lack, and many commentators are tipping them as the Wood Elf team to watch.

FAMOUS ELF TEAM PROFILE: KALLAHIR SWIFTS

Team Colours: Blue and Orange

Owners and Head Coaches:
Lucien and Valen Swift

Players: Elves

The year 2501 was one that every Blood Bowl fan remembers. During a press conference after a match between the Galadrieth Gladiators and the Elfheim Eagles both Lucien and Valen Swift, sick of being classed as second rate players amongst the now money filled High Elf teams announce their joint retirement effective immediately. However, as many retired players have found out, the cheers of the crowd and the sight and sounds of a crunching tackle or a glorious catch are difficult to stay away from. Two months later, the Swift brothers announce they are forming their own team without any backings from the Elven Kingdoms.

2504 Lauriala in only her second year breaks Harg Vainkill's passing record with 157 passes thrown for 2321 paces. All the passing records in Blood Bowl, however, cannot help the Swifts as they find themselves going into the Majors with a depleted squad due to old injuries catching up with many of the veteran players. The team is forced to drop out of the Spike! Tournament to setup a training camp for a new generation of facemasks, spikes and mohawks.

Now Continually setting the throwing world on fire Lauriala Vinetree goes from strength to strength under the tuition of Valen Swift. In three years she has become the best thrower in the tournament circuit with her unnerving accuracy. As many of her male opponents have found out, she has a bullet throw that will bring tears to any man's eyes. With Lucien Swift coaching the up and coming young blitzers and with former Eagles catchers Highhelm Lyrpadre and Ibrahim Goldawn, the team has become a dangerous combination of beauty, youthfulness and experience.

HIGH ELF AND ELF BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

When Blood Bowl was first played Elves disdained the game. They believed there was no more to Blood Bowl than two teams of uncivilized jobs pummelling each other senseless in a display of mindless violence. However it didn't take them too long to realize that there is nothing to beat seeing your team wipe out the opposition and win a hard-fought Blood Bowl game!

Between 2461 and 2488 two Elven teams were at the top, the Galadrieth Gladiators and the Elfheim Eagles, with both teams winning a Blood Bowl final. However with the collapse of the NAF and the introduction of the open tournament format many Elven teams, the Eagles and the Gladiators included, had to rely on the financial backing of the Elven Kingdoms to survive. After all, the costs of hair gel, mirrors and the dry cleaning for the uniforms can add up quickly. As many teams accepted gracious donations from the Princes and nobles of their homeland they quickly found out these 'donations' came with a price. Those same benefactors would often insist on playing for the team as well.

Initially the mixture of the highborn and the professional players was a disaster for many Elven teams. The Princes would often buy their way into the position they wanted, relegating many long standing players to lineman duties. Who can forget Valen Swift's face as he stood on the line when the Eagles faced off against the Chaos team Kill Fury! As the Elven teams filed up with the rich, many of the experienced Elven players that had played under the NAF's rule retired.

But not many retired players can stay away from the field of glory, and soon teams started forming that consisted only of veteran players that missed the 'good old days'. Dusting off the old uniforms, donning the face masks and spiking the hair up the new 'old' teams took off and became the equals on the pitch of their richer cousins, while reminding many an aged fan of the old NAF Elf teams.

And so the High Elves have found themselves split into two types of teams. On the one hand you have the relatively inexperienced, but well equipped, High Elves from the noble caste and on the other you have the more experienced, but less well equipped, 'Pro' Elves, as they became known. But one thing the two styles of teams will always have in common, they are both masters of the throwing game.

FAMOUS HIGH ELF TEAMS

Galadrieth Gladiators: The Gladiators are probably the most famous High Elf team of them all. They won the Blood Bowl in 2470 and were always top contenders thanks to the best Elven blitzter to grace the pitch, Lucien 'The Silver Bullet' Swift. The team is made up of some of the richest Elves in the Kingdom allowing the Gladiators to literally buy success. They have come close the finals of several major tournaments in recent times. The retirement of Swift a few years back has left them a little short, but it can only be a matter of time before the richest team in Blood Bowl lures in another star for their roster.

FAMOUS ELF TEAMS

Celestial Comets: Coming from the old Dungeonbowl league (MAD) the Comets were sponsored by the College of Celestial Magic. Upon the collapse of the NAF and the integration of the Dungeonbowl into the open circuit they found themselves not needing to look for financial help from the homeland. With many of the experienced and veteran Elven players looking for new teams and with the arrival of the highborn to the Blood Bowl circuit, the Comets took advantage of their unique financial position and became the first of the 'pro' Elven teams.

VAMPIRE BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

We're not ones to make enemies, but we can't help but say that Vampire teams aren't exactly the greatest. In fact, we'd go as far to say they suck... blood of course. Vampires have a lot going for them, they are fast, strong, dexterous and impossible to kill without the aid of a sharp piece of wood. You'd almost think they'd be the best Blood Bowl players to take to the pitch, and in certain ways you'd be correct. If it wasn't for a small problem. This problem, as you might expect, however lies not with the sun, as due to a lotion made of a strange combination of copper and ground up bullfrogs (known to many as CopperFrog Sun Guard) the Vampires can play in the sun for a limited time. Rather, the problem with Vampires is that, with all the exertions of the match going on, the Vampires tend to need to feed a lot, and if there's not one of their Thralls handily nearby to feed off then they just have to run back to the dugout for a tasty maid.

Over the years, Vampires have experimented with using vials and flasks to satisfy the need for blood on the pitch. This, however, has always ended in failure as there is always the block or tackle that sends the container crashing to the ground spilling blood all over the place. As trivia fans may remember, back in 2481 when the Craggen Counts faced off against the Darkforest Ironhooves, the match was abandoned when the Minotaurs and the Vampires spent the entire second half trying to drink the blood that had spilt all over the pitch. So to make up for the need for blood, Vampire teams are often accompanied onto the pitch by Thralls. These Thralls are human servants that understand the basics of the game and are fully under the control of the Vampires, who also act as handy vessels for the Vampires when they require a feed. This can often lead to problems, though, for instance when a Vampire decides to feed on a Thrall that could otherwise have scored the all-important touchdown.

If the Vampires can keep enough Thralls on the pitch and manage to keep their hunger from taking over, then the team can do wonders. There's not a lot that can stop a Vampire and many teams have come to realise this and know the key to defeating the Vampires is to remove the Thralls from the pitch.

FAMOUS VAMPIRE TEAMS

Black Sabbeths: The Sabbeths were on the way to become the first truly successful Vampire team until one fateful night in 2496. A final 'warm up' game before the Chaos Cup the Vampires played a local Dwarven team the 'Black Mountain Blades'. Fate was not with the Sabbeths that night, as a young human woman raised by Dwarfs named Zara was playing for the Blades and staked the Vampire Lord head coach when he ran onto the pitch. The Thralls snapped out of the hypnotic slavery the Lord had put upon them, and the team fled into the night promptly disbanding. Zara the Slayer now continues to play Blood Bowl, always willing to play for those teams that seek an edge over the Undead.

Streissen Vampires: This team is famous for being one of the worst teams ever. After coming last in every category for three consecutive years, the fans eventually had enough and promptly staked the entire team and the Vampire Lord head coach.

KHEMRI BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

In ages past the two great kingdoms of Lustria and Khemri would often do battle. Gallant warriors from both sides armed themselves, and when the day came, the fans turned up in thousands to watch the first games of Blood Bowl! The Slann and Khemri settled disputes in this ancient time with a game. It was not to last, however, as with the rising of the other nations, the two Kingdoms started to fade away. Somewhere, though, for the last time a game was played and afterwards the great tome of Nuffle the god of Blood Bowl was stored along with 32 suits of armour in a secret place which was sealed for eternity. Or it would have been, had an Orc named Mungk not discovered the resting place of Blood Bowl.

While the Slann rested in Lustria and the Khemri disappeared into the deserts, the game was rediscovered and only a few years ago, with the collapse of the NAF and rise of the touring sides did the game reach Araby. Something stirred in the last few years due to the constant travel of the teams and the magical energy from CabalVision and the Tomb Kings of Khemri awoke to find that the game they once played was now overrun by Elves, Orcs, Dwarfs and the hated Slann's servants - Lizardmen. Outraged over the perceived transgression of the sacred game, the Tomb Kings went into the desert to the Pyramids they once built and summoned forth the mummified remains of the greatest players. Initially things did not go well. Forced to fill squads with regular skeletons the Tomb Kings quickly started looking deeper into the deserts and into the old stadiums and pitches of thousands of years ago for anything that might improve their team's performance.

Scrying the landscape, the Tomb Kings found what they were looking for. The long hidden bones of deceased players killed on the glorious pitches of Nuffle. As the former players clawed their way out the sands that had been their tombs for over eight thousand years, the last moments of life burned with unholy fire in the dusty skulls and they took up the ancient armour they once played in and marched to the pitch to recreate the only life they could remember. The Khemrian Thro-ras and Blitz-ras were back.

FAMOUS KHEMRI TEAMS

Neter-Khertet: Meaning the 'divine afterlife'. Eight thousand years ago, this team was the scourge of the Blood Bowl world. They quickly became famous for the unstoppable C formation (C for Chariot) which was later outlawed. Times have changed though and Neter-Khertet find themselves no longer at the top. In fact far from it, the team being so successful in the past found they had very little deceased players on the old pitches and have had to resort to animating a lot of players from other, less successful, teams. The team's results have been mediocre at best since coming back, however it hasn't stopped head coach Ithiris proudly proclaiming that his star Thro-Ra Khonsu (who happens to be the skeletal remains of a Saurus) will rain glorious death upon all opponents. Sadly however, since Khonsu has trouble picking up the ball, let alone being able to throw even a simple pass his proclamation has yet to happen.

NECROMANTIC AND UNDEAD BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

In the Old World, the dead and the damned do not rest easy. Werewolves prowl the dark forests waiting to strike out at a villager straying too far. Necromancers seek to escape their mortality by searching for forbidden knowledge within the pages of accursed books. Ghouls slink about the graveyards, their insatiable hunger for the flesh of the dead turning them into abominations against nature. Wights guard the tombs of those they served thousands of years ago, an eternal vigil in the darkness. And on the Blood Bowl pitch, players who died long ago return to the scenes of their former glory and play Blood Bowl once again...

While necromancy is outlawed everywhere in the Old World, the actual teams of the dead are a welcome sight to many Blood Bowl stadiums throughout the world. After all why pay to see old CabalVision footage of those greats when you can pop along and see them in the (rotten, decaying, worm infested) flesh! Undead teams are a haven for many of the damned as well as the dead, Werewolves and Ghouls are well known to take the pitch for the Undead to prey on some poor victim holding a pigskin. For many of the damned, the glory of the game is a way to escape the curse they hold, while a Werewolf that hunts and kills a villager to eat will be stalked and killed, the Werewolf that kills on the Blood Bowl pitch will be showered in glory and praise.. Plus he gets a free meal!

However, there's not a lot going for the average Undead players, they tend to be slow, they throw poorly and the skeletons are habitually carried off the pitch in batches of threes and fours while the zombies can often find themselves literally falling to pieces when the going gets tough. To make up for this many Necromancers have added Mummies, Flesh Golems and Wights to (ahem) flesh out the team. However, this hasn't always proven to be very effective as Mummies and Flesh Golems generally take so long to get kitted up that having more than two on the team means you have to arrive four days early and Werewolves tend to get distracted if playing with Skeletal players. Generally Undead teams are split into two types, those that have Weres and Flesh Golems, and those that have Mummies and Skeletons.

FAMOUS NECROMANTIC TEAMS

Bruendar Grimjacks: The Grimjacks were the very first team to experiment with using Flesh Golems instead of Mummies. A long time fan of the team, the Dark Elf Sorcerer, Marishel, created the golem known as Frank N. Stein and presented him to the Grimjacks and while Frank has seen better days (we've lost count of the replacement limbs) everyone recognises the most famous Golem of them all when he lurches into the stadium. Twice winners of the Dungeonbowl in 2481 and 2483, Frank has led the team to some stunning victories over some of the biggest names.

FAMOUS UNDEAD TEAM PROFILE: CHAMPIONS OF DEATH

Team Colours: Black (what else?!?)

Owners and Head Coach: Tomolandry the Undying

Players: Skeletons, Zombies, Wights, Mummies, and Ghouls

First raised in 2439 deep in the caves of the Coldworm Mountains, the Champions are the property of a gifted Necromancer known as Tomolandry the Undying. The sorcerer has dwelt in these caves for many centuries, wizened by age if not destroyed by it, as he delved ever deeper in the mysteries of the Black Arts. About the year 2425, Tomolandry became bored with all that tedious mucking about with corpses and coffins. He used his skills to tune into what other mages were doing, resulting in him patching himself into the network of the Necromancers Broadcasting Circle, and was delighted to discover Blood Bowl! Soon Tomolandry's enthusiasm grew so much that he started his own football club. However, instead of hiring players, he simply resurrected a dozen skeletons, cast a spell of his own devising which gave them a rudimentary knowledge of the game - and the Champions of Death were (re)born!

- 2439 In their first season the Champions attract much opposition from all the other teams. Tomolandry, in a rare interview with Spike! Magazine, declares that the other teams are just jealous because their players stop playing when they die, and he doesn't have a weekly wages bill to pay!
- 2451 Tomolandry discovers that skeletons raised from the remains of former Blood Bowl players perform much better than his spell enhanced skeletons. Soon after this the Dwarf Giants accuse Tomolandry of kidnapping one of their players, when it is revealed that the skeleton of ex-Giant blocker, Skrull Halfheight, has been resurrected and is now playing for the Champions! Most teams bring in player contracts stating that players' bodies are still team property even after his death however the NAF refuses to upset Tomolandry by actually enforcing these contract clauses.
- 2468 Realising his team needs more speed, Tomlandry adds some fresh blood (actually it's the team's first actual blood) to the team by hiring a pair of cannibalistic Ghouls. While Ghouls are not actually dead, the Champions find they now have a true running game. In addition, the team is now captained by Ramtut III, a rediscovered mummy of an original Blood Bowl player from eight thousand years ago. With this combination of new players, the Champions storm to victory against the Vynheim Valkyries at Blood Bowl VI.
- 2486 Ramtut III leaves the team to help his Khemri brothers return to the game. This setback is offset by Tomolandry's discovery of a spell to immediately resurrect dead opponents as Zombies to play for the Champions. Furthermore, Count Luthor von Drakenborg replaces Ramtut when Tomolandry offers him all the nubile female blood he can drink for the entire season. Under Luthor's captaincy the team wins its second Blood Bowl, despite some trouble in the quarter-finals when a werewolf opponent ran off with several of the Champions Star Players' leg bones which forced the team to search all night so they could be repaired. Earlier in this year, in what was surely an event not related to the Champions at all, the famous cheerleading squad, the Shadowy Forge Bunnies, vanish while travelling and are never heard from again.
- Now It's taken a while for the Champions to get used to the open tournament style after the NAF collapsed - the dead are notoriously conservative in their ways - but it looks as if they are finally on their way after winning Blood Bowl XL thanks to the brilliant captaincy of Ghoul star player Wrag Bonesnapper.

Team Honours: Blood Bowl winners 2467 (VI), 2486 (XXVI), XL (2501); Chaos Cup winners 2440, 2459, 2461-62, 2467

Hall of Fame: None (no players ever retire - they're simply put into storage for a few years before being revived again!)

AMAZON BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Deep in the jungles of Lustria, unknown about until a few years ago. There lives a tribe of fearsome warriors. They take no prisoners, and they won't hesitate to go up against an enemy even twice their number and much better equipped. They are the lost tribe of Amazons. A human, female-dominated tribe, with a hatred of males of any species that goes beyond the realms of normality and borders on insanity. So what better way for these women of the jungle to prove their superiority over their male counterparts than giving them the thrashing of a lifetime on the Blood Bowl pitch!

No-one is one hundred percent sure how the Amazons were introduced to Blood Bowl, but it is generally accepted that they probably learned the game from ancient tablets of the Slann, from watching the Lizardmen play or from encountering Norsemen who were plundering the coastlines for treasure. One thing that everyone can agree on, however, is that the Amazons make formidable Blood Bowl players, possessing strength, speed, agility and a slightly unhinged demeanor plus a general hatred of anyone not of their own.

When an Amazon team hears about a tournament it tends to take their whole village with them, setting up a makeshift new village on the outskirts of the tournament site. Furthermore, most teams are followed wherever they go by their fans, drooling, idiotic men who offer to do the bidding of the Amazons.

While Amazon teams are pretty thin on the ground, having only recently taken up the sport, there have been a few teams that have made it to the Majors, and while none of them has yet reached a final, it should only be a matter of time before an Amazon team takes a Cup. Amazons are gifted with natural grace and dexterity and opponents often find themselves g(r)asping at thin air where an Amazon just was. The blitzers are almost impossible to take down and have left many an opposing coach in tears as his carefully constructed game plans (or not as may be the case for Goblins) are left in tatter by an Amazon blitzer, gracefully dodging between staring players, kicking the ball carrier in the proverbial coconuts and waltzing into the end zone. More than one team has regretted calling an Amazon team 'Jist wimmun'.

FAMOUS AMAZON TEAMS

Jlaxonkill Jaguars: The Jaguars are the Amazons premier team after coming close to the Blood Bowl final two years ago. Led by their quartet of blitzers, the B'heverlay sisters, the Jags are certainly proving to be capable of taking on any of the big teams as Prince Moranion found out when he took the infamous 'Quadruple Kneecap' from the sisters and found himself in the dugout for an extended period of time.

Tlax Warriors: The Warriors shocked the Blood Bowl world becoming the first team to win the Zlatlan Cup other than Sotek's Word back in 2491. They also shocked the world by becoming the first non-Lizardmen to discover the hidden city of Zlatlan. With a nice pot of gold from winning the tournament, the Warriors have invested heavily in future talent and are now looking to make a name for themselves on the Minor circuit with some good solid defensive play backed up by an excellent passing game, before breaking into, and hopefully winning a Major. Voted 'Team to watch' in 2503, the Warriors have a very bright future ahead of themselves.

NORSE BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Beer swilling, spear brandishing, polar bear wrestling lunatics, and that's the apothecaries! The actual players on a Norse team aren't much better either, drinking copious amounts of stomach stripping mead and working themselves into a murderous frenzy before the game even kicks off. And plenty of Norsemen have taken up the sport. Consider the situation from their point of view; the winter night is drawing in, and all you have to look forward to is another epic tale from the bard about guys hacking some other guys to bits over a reindeer and then going to Valhalla and hacking each other to bits for even less cause. Then you hear that the Arctic Cragspiders are playing three successive tournaments in the far-off and glamorous lands of Lustria, Estalia and Brettonia. What would you do? You'd be making ready your traveling gear (a change of clothing for the huskies and a barrel of beer) and report for squad duty.

The main players of the Norse teams come from the villages of Norsca, and while the players may not be as heavily armoured as those on other teams, they are tougher than an old pair of hobnail boots and can stay upright after taking the most vicious of blocks. The runners are often drawn from the Huscarls of the village, warriors with no fear, who defend the homesteads against man and beast and take the same attitude onto the pitch. Then there are the berserkers. Well in advance of a match the berserkers will often start quaffing flagons of ale before whipping themselves into a frenzy and storming onto the pitch to get to the opponents. Many coaches have watched their star players launched off the pitch and into the crowd when a three hundred pound berserker charged into him, much to the fans delight.

Recently, Norse teams have been fielding Snow Trolls and Ulfwerener to enhance their ability to create carnage on the pitch. Snow Trolls (often known to the locals as Yhettees) exude a dangerous aura of cold that has inflicted many an opposing catcher waiting for a pass with frostbite. While they are normally reclusive creatures, the Norse have gained the trust (with a few barrels of beer) of these massive Trolls. The Ulfwerener are ferocious shape changing wolf men from the dark forests of Norsca, the strength and raw ferocity of these players has lead to more than one team being decimated.

FAMOUS NORSE TEAMS

Norsca Rampagers: Formerly known as the Vynheim Valkyries, the Rampagers have won the Blood Bowl and been runners up twice each. A few years ago however, they were forced to change their team-name from the Valkyries and go into hiding after they pillaged and burned down the factory and kidnapped the entire board of directors of their owning company - Skalgrimm & Holst when the company withdrew their sponsorship!

Arctic Cragspiders: The Cragspiders are twelve time winners of the Chaos Cup. The last time was in 2486 when they beat the Oldheim Ogres. The star player of that day was Snow Troll, Icepelt Hammerblow, who burst open the front line of the Ogres allowing a runner to score the winning touchdown before Icepelt was crushed in an all mighty pile on in the last remaining seconds. However, as the Ogres were removed from the pile, a blasted and crushed body of Icepelt stood up, brushed himself off and walked away to collect the Chaos Cup with a very big grin on his face. To this day, Icepelt has shrugged off each and every block, chainsaw, bomb and deathroller that appeared to have gotten the better of him while hiring himself out to every Norse team willing to pay for the huge amount of ale he desires.

LIZARDMAN AND SLANN BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

As the sun fell on the Slann empire, the ancient race withdrew to the temples of Lustria to watch mankind and the new races slowly take over the world. Once proud masters of the game of Blood Bowl many thousands of years ago, the Slann no longer wished to be associated with the barbaric people that now built homes and cities in the once empty lands of the Old World. A small group of Slann stayed in the Old World however to watch the new races. Time progressed, and the Slann watched as the long forgotten game of Blood Bowl was re-discovered. Then, with the formation of the NAF the Slann based in the Old World even took up the ancient armour and joined in once more.

However, back in Lustria the game had been forgotten, and the Slann grew old and fat without exercise as the servants of the Slann, the Lizardmen, worked on the temples and catered to the needs of their masters. One night in the year 2300, a shaman from the smallest of the Lizardmen race, the Skinks, had a vision. He saw a group of Lizardmen on a field of battle, dressed in armour, protecting an inflated pigs bladder from an equal number of the hated Skaven. Once the Lizardmen had gotten the bladder to the opposite end of the field they were rewarded with a sign from the god Sotek. As the Shaman came back to the physical world, he realised he had seen something important and immediately set about explaining his vision to the other shamans. Excited about the vision the Lizardmen organised teams from various spawnings to compete for the glory of Sotek and for the eventual coming of the other races to defeat them in this glorious game.

As the game of Blood Bowl was almost ruined when the NAF collapsed in 2489, the Lustria Croakers Slann team was recalled to Lustria (Slann teams did however return to play the 2501 season to stay in practice and actually won the Chaos Cup and Spike! Magazine Trophy that year). When the Croakers arrived in Lustria, they witnessed the Lizardmen playing a variant of Blood Bowl. With the blessings of the elder Slann, many of the Croakers team became coaches and assistant coaches and trained the Lizardmen on the current rules of Old World Blood Bowl. They also instructed the Lizardmen to go forth and teach the weak, young races that while the Slann are no longer a common sight on the pitch, the Lizardmen are now the superior race by destroying them at Blood Bowl, a game they believe is their own.

Lizardmen teams are very difficult to play against. They have exceptionally fast players in the Skinks, who are able to dodge and weave through any defence, while the Saurus and Kroxigor are the fastest moving 'hitters' in the game. Not many teams can withstand an organised blitz by a Saurus front line. The great power and speed of the Lizardmen however, is offset by a lack in ball handling and this has just stopped the Lizardmen from dominating the sport.

FAMOUS LIZARDMEN TEAMS

Sotek's Word: Sotek's Word, won the Zlatlan Cup a record ninety seven years in a row. While the team claims it was through tactical brilliance and skillful play, many analysts argue that the Word were helped to the trophy by the fact that they were the only ones who knew where the hidden city of Zlatlan was until the Amazons discovered it (and promptly thrashed Sotek's Word in the final that year).

CHAOS DWARF BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

It is not only man that can be corrupted and twisted by the taint of chaos. A long time ago, in the distant past some Dwarfs moved northwards into the Great Skull Lands and then south along the Mountains of Mourn. These explorers were undoubtedly the ancestors of the Chaos Dwarfs. The great influx of Chaos has since worked terrifying changes on their bodies and souls, turning them into evil, self-centered creatures. In one way, however, they haven't changed at all - Chaos Dwarfs still love playing Blood Bowl.

Chaos Dwarfs worship the great bull god - Hashut. Many believe he is a minor chaos power, others believe he is a corrupted Dwarven god. Whatever his origins, though, the Chaos Dwarfs are his favourite worshipers. The greatest blessing Hashut can bestow on his followers is the form of the bull as Dwarven bodies are twisted and ripped open to form the fearsome Bull Centaurs or to become a terrifying Minotaur, both of which are frequently seen on the Chaos Dwarf teams. It is not unknown for those Dwarfs or Minotaurs who appease Hashut to find themselves waking up with tentacles, extra arms or heads. This never happens to the Bull Centaurs, though, as Hashut considers this form already his ultimate blessing.

As Chaos Dwarfs are not very numerous so they make use of Hobgoblin slaves to fill out their teams. These nasty creatures are taller than normal Goblins, with thin and sneaky features. Although Chaos Dwarfs don't really trust hobgoblins very much, having a sneaky, evil git in your team can come in handy for those plays which require a bit more dexterity and speed.

Under the years of the NAF, Chaos Dwarf teams didn't feature in the league and they were often found in the minor competitions that were running throughout the Old World. However, with the collapse of the NAF, the Chaos Dwarfs took to the open style favourably and have come close to winning majors on a few occasions. A Chaos Dwarf team even made it into the Blood Bowl final a couple of years back! With Bull Centaurs and Minotaurs featuring more commonly on the teams, and with the dangerous mutations of the Chaos Dwarfs and the sneakiness of the Hobgoblins, the future is looking bright for those following Hashut.

FAMOUS CHAOS DWARF TEAMS

Zharr-Naggrund Ziggurats: Based in the capital of the Chaos Dwarf lands, the Ziggurats are probably the top Chaos Dwarf team on the open circuit. Credited with inventing the 'Blunderbuss Pass' where a Chaos Dwarf with a blunderbuss jams the ball into the barrel and fires it into the sky hopefully resulting in the ball landing on or near a hobgoblin who can catch or retrieve it and run in for a touchdown.

Scarfaced Scavengers: The Scavengers were based in the old Worlds-Edge Superleague and until recently actually featured a Troll on the side. The Scavengers were notorious for strapping dynamite and kegs of gunpowder onto the Troll and sending him running down into the opposing half where he'd detonate himself to the glee of the fans as they were covered in bits of Troll (which would then proceed to regenerate) and causing a huge amount of detestation to the opponents. This tactic was eventually outlawed a couple of seasons back by the Blood Bowl Regulations Crafters and Trolls have not been featured on a Chaos Dwarf team ever since.

FAMOUS CHAOS TEAM PROFILE: THE CHAOS ALL-STARS

Head Coach: Snake Sanders

Players: Marauders and various renegade doomed warriors and creatures from other races and places

As most folk know, the world is a very strange place, full to the brim with weird and wonderful things. Around the turn of the century, some of the weird and wonderful things decided to form a Blood Bowl team. The Chaos All-Stars are the result. They are owned by thrice-damned Prince Dorian, the legendary heir to several ancient kingdoms who has thrown it all away and made a pact with his devilish Chaos gods to run a Blood Bowl team for them. This Chaos Pact team is a haven for many renegades and outcasts from all walks of the Old World, as well as a great many Chaos creatures like Ogres, Minotaurs, and Trolls. Opponents occasionally have trouble coping with the wild magic that infests games featuring the All-Stars, but since it is officially a natural phenomenon nothing can be done about it; players just have to learn how to deal with balls that grow razor sharp teeth and try to eat their hand or areas of pitch turning to quicksand at a moment's notice!

- 2402 The Chaos All-Stars are formed through Dorian's eldritch daemon-pact, and due to a strange quirk in the time continuum manage to win the Chaos Cup two years running five years earlier.
- 2420 Owing to one of the Elder Demigods casting the wrong spell at a crucial moment, the entire team is transported to another plane ten minutes after winning the Chaos Cup for the fifth time. Nine years pass before the Chaos All-stars manage to return to this world.
- 2467 Under the very charismatic captaincy of skilled Snakeman V'hnn Qlss Zzchtrr (known to Old World commentators as 'Snakey'), the All-Stars beat, and then eat, the much-fancied Shiretown Stuffers to take Blood Bowl VII. In disgust, many Halfling teams have boycotted their games ever since, forcing fans to find another half-time snack.
- 2497 After leading the All-Stars to four straight years of victories at the Majors including three consecutive Chaos Cup titles, Morg 'n' Thorg leaves the team to turn freelance.
- Now The Chaos All-Stars have always had this 'habit' of eating the head coach to celebrate victory or in retaliation for a loss. To combat the resulting lack of leadership, Prince Dorian has hired former Chaos All-Stars star player Snake Sanders who had gained a hypnotic gaze and the ability to re-grow his entire body from the smallest piece as gifts from previous Chaos Cup championships. Experts believe that Sanders' coaching skills along with his abilities to mesmerize players with post-hypnotic suggestions and to survive being eaten each game by cutting off his own finger before the game ends means the All-Stars finally have a coach that could lead them to another Blood Bowl trophy.

CHAOS, CHAOS PACT AND NURGLE BLOOD BOWL TEAMS

Deep within the dark forests of the Old World, far off the beaten tracks used by more civilized folk, lurk the dreaded Beastmen of Chaos. These terrible creatures are half beast and half man, the twisted descendants of people and animals mutated by the power of the Chaos Gods. Even more powerful than the Beastmen are the Chaos Warriors. These once human champions have sold their souls in return for superhuman strength. Successful Chaos Warriors will often be rewarded with other gifts in the form of magical abilities and terrible physical mutations such as horns, extra limbs or crab-like claws. These followers of Chaos often combine to form a frighteningly effective Blood Bowl team.

Most Chaos teams are not noted for the subtlety or marginality of their game play. A simple drive up the middle of the pitch, maiming and injuring as many opposing players as possible, is about the limit of the typical Chaos team's game plan – and by Nuffle, does it work! However, as random as mutations seem to be on a Chaos team, there have been many Chaos teams that have used the gifts of their patrons for such uses as 'passing' the ball and 'catching' it and many opponents have been caught unawares by a Chaos team able to throw (and catch) the ball.

There are those Chaos teams that have chosen a path of decay and disease, these are the followers of Nurgle, a giant plague ridden, maggot filled Chaos god of pestilence that delights in creating all manner of disease to spread. Nurgle is a huge fan of Blood Bowl. On more than one occasion he has been seen watching a game, with a giant bag of Pop Khorne to nibble on, as his favourite team, the Nurgle's Rotters, infest the pitch.

Whatever your flavour of Chaos God however, there are plenty of Chaotic teams to go around featuring patronage from one of the four major Gods. You'll often find Beastmen players that follow Slaanesh playing a running game as they weave between the opposition or you may even find a Tzeentchian Chaos Warrior with a great throwing arm - Von Hawkfire of the All-Stars was a perfect example of such a player with his ability to turn a thrown ball into a grand piano as it was about to be intercepted. Often the most dangerous Chaos teams are those that feature players from all Chaos Gods, and as the Chaos All-Stars have shown, when you have four Gods supporting you, 'chance' tends to work in your favour.

FAMOUS NURGLE TEAMS

Nurgle's Rotters: The first Nurgle Chaos team, the Nurgle's Rotters, was created by Nurgle not only to win games and provide himself with some entertainment, but to act as a recruiting drive to find more followers as well. And their recruitment method is pretty effective: they infect their opponents with the terrible disease Nurgle's Rot that is always fatal sooner more often than later. As a result, it is not uncommon for opponents to refuse to take the pitch against the Rotters. In fact, in 2468 so many teams refused to play the Rotters that they won the Blood Bowl championship. The Rotters are fortunate that they can easily bring on new players for the team. The ones already on the team are usually fairly rotten, and all the bumps and bashes during a typical game don't help. A Rotters player can often quite literally go to pieces from a successful hit by an opponent, as the Rot really sets in.

FAMOUS CHAOS TEAMS

Khorne's Killers: Considered by many to be the archetypal Chaos Blood Bowl team, this collection of homicidal (and elficidal, dwarficidal, orcidal - in fact everythingicidal!) maniacs are the terror of the Blood Bowl pitch. Their bloodthirsty attitude means that they rarely worry about minor things like picking up the ball and scoring - not while there are any players left in the opposing team, anyway! They either win by lots or lose by lots.

MISCELLANEOUS MAYHEM DECK

Name: 2 ♥: BADYEAR GIT Description: A goblin doom diver who was too cheap to pay for admission is hit by the kick-off while flying over the stadium. Timing: Play at any kick-off after all players have been set up and the ball placed, but before any scatter has been rolled. Effect: The ball scatters 2d6, instead of 1d6, on this kick-off.	9 ♥: HOMETOWN FANS Your team's fans start the match very willing to help their favourite team by throwing the ball to the perfect place for you. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. You may choose the direction the ball is thrown in on the Throw-in Template every time it goes out of bounds during the first half. During the second half, all throw-ins are done as normal.
Name: 3 ♥: SPRINKLER MALFUNCTION Description: Somebody triggered the sprinkler system, on accident of course. The ball becomes difficult to handle and the mist makes it difficult to see until it is shut off. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: All attempts to pass, catch, or pick up the ball have an additional -1 modifier for this drive.	10 ♥: INCOMING! The crowd received souvenir balls today and has decided to use them as ammunition instead of keepsakes. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. For this turn, any player from the opposing team must dodge any time they leave a square within 2 squares of either sideline or end zone.
Name: 4 ♥: ECLIPSE Description: Suddenly all light is blocked out by a total eclipse. Maybe it's the complete darkness, or maybe it's astrological magic, but for one brief moment all players are equal. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: For your turn and your opponent's turn, all players on the pitch have only the characteristics and skills of a rookie Goblin.	J ♥: ROGUE WIZARD A wizard in the stands starts to get a little bored and bombs the pitch with a fireball! Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Place a marker on the pitch, scatter the marker 5 times. If it does not scatter off the pitch at any point, the fireball explodes as the spell; the centre is where the marker is.
Name: 5 ♥: FANATIC INVASION Description: A crazed goblin fan talks an ogre into tossing him onto the pitch! Timing: Play after your turn has ended but before your opponent's turn begins. You may not play this card after a kick-off is resolved. Effect: Place a miniature to represent the Goblin Fanatic into any empty square on the pitch. He has the same stats as a rookie Goblin Fanatic. The coach playing this card may immediately move the Fanatic. Each coach can only take a Move Action with the Fanatic after his turn has ended but before his opponent's turn. This Fanatic has no tackle zones and blocks without any offensive assists. At the end of the drive the ref automatically ejects the Fanatic from the game.	Q ♥: BALL CLONE The random chaos of Tzeentch has affected the ball. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. If the ball is on the ground, a 2nd ball materializes in the square and one of them is bounced from it. The first player that crosses into the end zone with one of the balls rolls a D6. On a 1-3, the ball vanishes and a touchdown is not scored. This effect ends when a drive ends. Players may not pick-up, catch, or intercept a ball if they already are carrying one. A ball bouncing into the square with the other ball will bounce again.
Name: 6 ♥: FRIENDLY FANS Description: The crowd loves your team, and wouldn't ever consider ripping one of your players apart...well, not this game anyway. Timing: Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Effect: Any player on your team that is pushed into the crowd this game is only Stunned, do not roll injury.	K ♥: JOHNNY WATERBOY He must be a magician as that is some mighty fine H2O. One drink from this minor wizard of water seems to revive any bashed up players. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. For this match, your players gain a +1 modifier to recover from KO'd for this match (a roll of 1 is still a failure).
Name: 8 ♥: HECKLER Description: An overeager fan heckles and distracts one opponent especially well. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: An opposing player of your choice may not use any skills (including block and dodge defensively) other than those that must be used (frenzy, loner, etc.) for this turn and the following opposing turn.

SPECIAL TEAM PLAYS DECK

(50,000 gold pieces to randomly draw one card from these 13 cards)

Name: 2 ♦ : COME TO PAPA! Description: You have read the kick-off almost perfectly and are ready to receive it. Timing: Play when you are receiving a kick-off after all players have been set up and the ball has been scattered, but before any kick-off result is rolled. Effect: Move one player not on the line of scrimmage to the square where the ball will land.	9 ♦ : PERFECT KICK You try and kick the ball to just the right spot to help your defence. Play after all players have been set up for a kick-off, but before any kick-off result is rolled. Place the ball anywhere in the line of scrimmage or the end zone of the opponent's half excluding the wide zones. To determine the landing square for the ball, instead of the normal kick-off scatter, scatter the ball for one square 3 times using the sideline throw-in template for each scatter, you may choose how the template is facing on each scatter as long as it is facing a sideline or end zone.
Name: 3 ♦ : DOGGED DEFENSE Description: Your players give everything they have to defend the end zone, trying to trip the opposition from the ground. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: For this turn all your players that are Prone (not Stunned) exert tackle zones as if they were standing, however they cannot assist or cancel assists, catch, or take any other Action that requires a standing player.	10 ♦ : OPTION PLAY This play is designed so your ball carrier can choose either to keep the ball himself or dump it off to someone else. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. A player of your choice gains the Dump-Off and Pass skill until the drive ends.
Name: 4 ♦ : FLEA FLICKER Description: A trick play is on. You trick the opponent into thinking one person will run the ball, but he tosses it to someone else who throws the ball. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: You may take an extra Pass Action, however the first Pass Action you take must be a Quick Pass.	J ♦ : PUNT Time to get rid of the ball and pin the opponent deep! Play after your turn has ended, but before your opponent's turn begins. If a player you control has the ball, you may place the ball in any square you want and scatter the ball three times. If the ball is not caught it will bounce as normal.
Name: 5 ♦ : FUMBLEROOSKI Description: The players on your team intentionally fumble the ball to open up some funny and spectacular plays. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: For this turn any failed pick up, catch, or fumbled pass rolls do not cause turnovers. Also a player can intentionally fail to pick up or catch the ball, or fumble a pass. Any failed attempt to pick up or throw the ball ends the player's Action. Any player failing a catch roll counts as having taken an Action for the turn as well, even if they have not performed an Action yet.	Q ♦ : SPECTACULAR CATCH A player puts himself on the line to try for an amazing catch Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. For this turn a player of your choice gains Catch and Diving Catch.
Name: 6 ♦ : GOING THE EXTRA MILE Description: A player on your team throws it into high gear to cover some extra ground. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: A player of your choice may Go For It any number of times this turn. Each Go For It after the second has a cumulative modifier of -1 to the roll (example: the 4th GFI would have a -2 modifier to the D6 roll). If the player has Sprint he may add 1 to one Go For It roll made this turn (a natural 1 will still result in a failure though).	K ♦ : SUICIDE BLITZ A player gets a good jump over the line of scrimmage and launches himself at the opponents. Play after a kick-off to your opponent has been resolved (including the ball landing), but before your opponent's turn begins. A player of your choice not holding the ball may take a Blitz Action immediately. This player suffers from the No Hands skill for this Action only.
Name: 7 ♦ : HEROIC LEAP Description: The player has one chance to be a hero, and tries for it all! Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: Choose a player with strength four or less. This turn the chosen player may leap, as the skill, with a 3+ to land regardless of that player's agility or skills.	A ♦ : WAKE UP CALL Desperate times call for desperate measures. Time to get some extra players on the pitch, ready or not. Play before you set up any players for a drive. Instead of rolling for a player to come back from being KO'd, you may have the player automatically recover by placing the player on the pitch Stunned. You may do this with any number of KO'd players. After placing as many players from KO'd on the pitch as you desire, roll a D6 for each player that is Stunned. On a 4+, that player is turned to Prone.
Name: 8 ♦ : NEW BLOCKING SCHEME Description: A clever blocking play gives you a one-up on your opponents. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: A player on your team that is in an opponent's tackle zones and adjacent to another player on your team may switch squares with the adjacent player from your team, unless either one has the ball. This may be done with only one set of two players.

MAGIC ITEMS DECK

Name: 2 ♣: BEGUILING BRACERS Description: A player has come across the bracers of Count Luthor to use for the match. They are so good that they even distract the player wearing them sometimes. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: Choose one player on your team. That player gains the skills Hypnotic Gaze, Side Step, and Bone-head for the remainder of this game.	9 ♣: LUCKY CHARM The player has acquired some lucky charms from a Halfling in a green coat before the game. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. A player of your choice may ignore the first time his armour is broken, and just be Placed Prone. Any roll that ignores armour, such as the crowd or throw a rock, is not affected by a lucky charm.
Name: 3 ♣: BELT OF INVUNERABILITY Description: Your player really has found a way to become a man of steel. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: Armour rolls made against a player of your choice may not be modified or re-rolled by any positive modifiers for the remainder of this game. This includes (but is not limited to) Claw, Mighty Blow, Dirty Player, Piling On, fouling assists, Stunty and Chainsaw attacks.	10 ♣: MAGIC GLOVES OF JARK LONGARM Your team is featured in Spike! magazine and the magazine gives you these gloves for your upcoming game. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. A player of your choice gains the Pass Block skill, and an additional +1 modifier to all interception rolls until the drive ends.
Name: 4 ♣: FAWNOUGH'S HEADBAND Description: One of the great passers of all time has loaned your player his headband for this game, but you had better make sure you get it back before he notices it missing! Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: A player of your choice gains Pass and Accurate for this turn, but an additional +1 modifier on any interception rolls against him is applied as well.	J ♣: GOOD OLD MAGIC CODPIECE Mother always said "never play without your codpiece". After years of being passed from one generation to the next, the magic is still working. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. A player of your choice may not be fouled for this game and injury rolls against this player cannot be modified or re-rolled by anything including (but not limited to) Dirty Player, Mighty Blow, Piling On, and Stunty.
Name: 5 ♣: FORCE SHIELD Description: Your player paid top gold for a Ring of Invincibility, but it's not all that was advertised. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: The player on your team holding the ball gains the Sure Hands and Fend skills until he no longer has the ball.	Q ♣: RABBIT'S FOOT One player finds himself a lucky rabbit's foot after the pre-game meal of, well, rabbit. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. A player of your choice without Loner gains the Pro skill for the remainder of this game.
Name: 6 ♣: GIKTA'S STRENGTH OF da BEAR Description: A scroll found in the house of a retired legendary coach contains a spell of Bear strength. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: A player of your choice on your team gains +1 Strength until the drive ends. After this the player has -1 Strength for the remainder of this game.	K ♣: RING OF TELEPORTATION Where'd he go? The player uses a teleportation ring to get out of a tight spot. Play after your turn has ended (unless your turn ending would end the half.) One player on your team of your choice can be moved D6 squares in a single direction of your choice (note: you must move the full D6 squares and must choose the direction before rolling the D6). Treat this movement as if the player had been thrown with the Throw Team-Mate skill but without the 3 scatters to determine the landing square. The landing roll from the teleportation is automatically successful unless he has bounced off another player.
Name: 7 ♣: GLOVES OF HOLDING Description: A player puts a magic salve, Grisnick's Stickum, onto his gloves before the drive. Timing: Play at any kick-off after all players have been set up and the ball placed, but before any scatter has been rolled. Effect: A player of your choice on your team gains the Catch and Sure Hands skills, but may not take Pass or Hand-off Actions for the remainder of this game.	A ♣: WAND OF SMASHING Stick! Smash! Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Choose one player on your team. That player gains +1 strength and the Mighty Blow skill for this turn.
Name: 8 ♣: INERTIA DAMPNER Description: The player has come across a magic amulet that slows the speed of any large objects that happen to intersect with his location. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: Choose one player on your team. For the remainder of this drive, any opponent moving one square or more first and then blitzing this player suffers a -1 modifier to his Strength (minimum Strength of 1) for the block attempt.

DIRTY TRICKS DECK

(50,000 gold pieces to randomly draw one card from these 13 cards)

Name: 2 ♠: BLATANT FOUL Description: A player on your team is determined to take out the opposition, no matter what. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: The armour roll for your Foul Action this turn automatically succeeds and is considered a non-doubles roll, however the injury roll for the foul must be rolled as normal with the player sent off on doubles.	9 ♠: KICKING BOOTS These boots were made for stomping, and that is just what they will do! Play after all players have been set up for a kick-off, but before any kick-off result is rolled. A player of your choice on your team gains the Kick and Dirty Player skills and a -1 MA for the remainder of this game.
Name: 3 ♠: CHOP BLOCK Description: A player throws a dirty block on the opponent. Timing: Play after your turn has ended but before your opponent's turn begins. You may not play this card after a kick-off is resolved. Effect: This card may only be played on one of your Standing players that did not take an Action during your last turn. Your player is Placed Prone and an opposing player in a square adjacent to him is now considered Stunned.	10 ♠: PIT TRAP A devious groundskeeper has set up a pit trap for you. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Choose a player: that player is Placed Prone, no Armour roll is made. If the player had the ball, bounce it as normal.
Name: 5 ♠: DISTRACT Description: Your player is very good at distracting all those around him. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: The chosen player gains the skill Disturbing Presence for this turn and all opposing players starting their Action within 3 squares of the player count as having Bone-head (lost tackle zones from failed Bone-head rolls return at the end of this turn).	Q ♠: STOLEN PLAYBOOK You nabbed a playbook from the opponent's coach! He sure will be surprised when you know exactly how to ruin his play. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. A player of your choice gains Pass Block and Shadowing until the drive ends.
Name: 6 ♠: GREASED SHOES Description: The magic grease applied to your opponents' shoes has finally taken effect. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: This turn all opposing players need to roll a 5+ to Go For It instead of the normal 2+.	K ♠: TRAMPOLINE TRAP Someone set up a deep pit trap...with a trampoline in it! Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Choose any opposing player. Using all the rules for the Throw Team-Mate skill, the player is automatically thrown (i.e., cannot be fumbled) to a target square that is D6 squares away in a random direction from his own square (use the scatter template). The player will need to make a landing roll as normal if they land on the pitch.

GOOD KARMA DECK

(100,000 gold pieces to randomly draw one card from these 26 cards)

Name: 2 ♥: ALL OUT BLITZ Description: A tactical play of great effect...if it works. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: For this turn, you may declare a second Blitz Action.	9 ♥: FAN UPROAR Your fans start yelling so loudly that the opposing team cannot hear the coach or any of the on pitch play signals. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. No team re-rolls may be used by your opponent for this turn or his next turn (unless the drive ends before your opponent's second turn).
Name: 3 ♥: BANANA SKIN Description: One of the oldest tricks in the book, but a well-aimed peel still is a great equalizer. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: An opposing player of your choice in a tackle zone of one of your players is automatically Knocked Down. Roll for Armour/Injury as normal. If the player was holding the ball, it does not cause a turnover.	10 ♥: HURRY UP OFFENSE Your team is making all of the time that it has left count, trying to mount one last scoring drive. Play before moving your turn marker. You receive an immediate free turn. However, after each Action roll a D6, on a 1 the free turn ends. This roll may not be re-rolled. Your opponent immediately begins a free turn after your free turn is over, and the same rules will apply for when it ends. If a TD would have been scored during your free turn, a turnover occurs as normal but the touchdown does not count unless a player from your team still has the ball in the end zone at the end of your opponent's free turn.
Name: 4 ♥: BUTTERFINGERS Description: One player from the opposing team knows he just is not himself today and ball handling for this drive is just out of the question. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: For the remainder of this drive, one selected opposing player not currently holding the ball gains the No Hands skill.	J ♥: INTENSIVE TRAINING One player from your team is really psyched for this week's match, and has been working very long hours preparing for it. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. For the remainder of this game, one player of your choice from your team gains one extra skill. This can be any skill that he can learn from an Improvement roll without a Doubles roll.
Name: 5 ♥: CHAINSAW Description: One of your players brings along a chainsaw for the game: not too subtle, but effective. Timing: Play before setting up for a drive. Effect: A player of your choice on your team gains the Chainsaw, Secret Weapon, and No Hands skills for this game.	Q ♥: UNSPORTSMANLIKE CONDUCT A player's taunting and antics after scoring causes a fan to express his feelings towards him with a well-thrown rock-filled Bloodweiser can. Play immediately after your opponent scores a touchdown. The player that scored the touchdown is KO'd. He may not roll to recover from KO'd until the end of the next drive.
Name: 6 ♥: DAZED AND CONFUSED Description: One player from the opposing team was hit just a little too hard and is having trouble focusing on the game. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: For the remainder of this game, one selected opposing player who is currently Prone or Stunned gains the Bone-head skill.	K ♥: KNUTT'S SPELL OF AWESOME STRENGTH A crafty wizard in the stands casts a minor spell to give his favourite player some added hitting power. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. For this turn, one player of your choice from your team is treated as having double his strength.
Name: 7 ♥: DOC BONESAW Description: That blood on his outfit and the saw on his hip are not very comforting, but his medical talents are difficult to refute even on undead players. Timing: Play after a drive has ended and KO'd recovery rolls have been made. Effect: A player from your team that has been KO'd or Badly Hurt is moved to Reserves.	A ♥: LEWD MANEUVERS A group of cheerleaders were hired to distract the opposition. They do such a good job of it even your players are not going anywhere. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Choose a wide zone. Any player from either team that is currently in that wide zone may take no Action this turn or on the opposing turn that follows this turn.

Name: 3 ♦: MAGIC HELMET Description: Its magic has almost worn off, but this relic that once protected older generation Blood Bowl players over their entire career appears to have enough magic left for one more game. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: For the remainder of this game, one player of your choice from your team gains +1 AV and the Thick Skull skill.	9 ♦: SCUTT'S SCROLL OF WEATHER MAGIC You have tricked a gullible wizard into parting with a useful scroll. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Select a weather result. The weather will immediately change to that result and remain there until a Weather Change kick-off roll is made.
Name: 4 ♦: MIRACLE WORKER Description: Whether this crazy man actually has a direct line to Nuffle or not... he gets results. Timing: Play after a drive has ended before rolling for KO'd players. Effect: One player on your team who has suffered a Casualty roll of 41 or higher is now considered to be KO'd.	10 ♦: STILETTO One player from your team has come armed to even up this match. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. For the remainder of this game, one player of your choice from your team gains the Dirty Player and Stab skills.
Name: 5 ♦: ONE WITH THE KICKER Description: Somehow one of your players suddenly can read the mind of the opposing kickers and can almost always get to where the ball is going. Timing: Play when you are receiving a kick-off after all players have been set up and the ball has been scattered, but before any kick-off result is rolled. Effect: One player on your team gains Kick-Off Return and Diving Catch for the remainder of this game.	J ♦: TEAM ANTHEM The crowd today is really out in full fanatic support. Their cheers and encouragement for your team and abuse for the referees and the opposing team really have set the stage for your team to do their best (including bribing the ref for the coin toss). Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Your team automatically wins the coin toss to kick or receive without flipping the coin. In addition, your team receives an additional +2 modifier to your FAME (see page 18) for any Kick-Off table result for this match but not for the winnings roll.
Name: 6 ♦: RAZZLE DAZZLE Description: A tactical play of great effect ... if it works. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: For this turn, you may declare either a second Pass Action or a second Hand-off Action.	Q ♦: THE FAN As your team takes the pitch, a crazed retired warrior runs out of the stands and asks to help you "smash those gits!" The head coach decides to see if he can help. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Add the fan to your team as a player even if this takes your team to more than 16 players. The fan's stats are MA 6, ST 4, AG 2, AV 7, and he has the Loner and Frenzy skills. The fan leaves your team when the half ends.
Name: 7 ♦: SUITABLE PITCH Description: The pitch is made to be in perfect playing conditions for your team, either by removing some of the dangerous objects, or by adding even more. Once the ref is wise to this situation the state of the pitch is restored to normal, however. Timing: Play after all players have been set up for a kick-off, but before any kick-off result is rolled. Effect: Choose to either add more dangerous objects or to remove them. If you add more dangerous objects then all Armour rolls caused by being Knocked Down are modified by +1. If you choose to remove them, the modifier is -1 instead. This modifier affects both teams and stays in effect until the drive ends.	K ♦: THE WALL Your team has been practicing a new special play and now is the time to try it out. Play after your turn has ended but before your opponent's turn begins. You may not play this card after a kick-off is resolved. During only this turn of your opponent, every player on your team is treated as having the Stand Firm skill.
Name: 8 ♦: RUNE OF FEAR Description: Your head coach had a Dwarf rune forged for him before the game and has decided now is the time to put its limited effect into action. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: During only this turn of your opponent, every player on your team is treated as having the Foul Appearance and Disturbing Presence skills.	A ♦: WOOF WOOF! A stray dog runs onto the pitch and runs off with the ball. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. The ball must be on the ground for this card to have an effect. Roll for Scatter direction with the Throw-in template. The ball scatters D6 squares in that direction and is where the dog places it on the ground (no bounce roll). If the final square is occupied, scatter once more in the same direction. If at any time the scatter result indicates the dog ran into the crowd, stop scattering and have the crowd throw-in the ball.

RANDOM EVENTS DECK

(200,000 gold pieces to randomly draw one card from these 18 cards)

Name: 2 ♣: BAD HABITS Description: The opposing team has picked up some really bad habits and it's starting to change their ability to work together as a team. Timing: Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Effect: The opposing team loses D3 Team Re-rolls for this game only.	9 ♣: GIMME THAT! One player from your team has been waiting all season to show what he can do – and he wants the ball NOW! Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. For the remainder of this game, one player of your choice from your team gains the Dauntless, Juggernaut, and Strip Ball skills.
Name: 3 ♣: BALLISTA Description: Your team has cunningly concealed a massive ballista along the sidelines allowing you to fire it at an unsuspecting opposing player at just the right moment. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: The Ballista works exactly like a Wizard's Lightning Bolt spell.	10 ♣: IRON MAN One player from your team has dedicated the match to his recently departed mum and is determined to play for the whole game, no matter what the cost. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. For the remainder of this game, any event that results in an Injury roll against a selected player from your team is treated as if a Stunned result was rolled without actually rolling to see an injury result.
Name: 4 ♣: BLACKMAIL Description: You have the goods on one of the opposing players, and you have chosen now to call in your favour. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: You may treat a chosen opposing player, other than the ball carrier, as a member of your team for this turn only. Note that the referee recognizes the player as an opponent, so you may not score a touchdown for your team with this player and the player cannot be ejected for fouling his own team.	2 ♠: KID GLOVES One player from the opposing team has the NAF questioning his tactics on how he has been racking up those injuries. He decides to go easy this game to reduce the scrutiny on him. Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. For the remainder of this game, all armour breaks against your team by a selected opposing player from fouling or blocking will be treated as Stunned results without actually rolling to see an injury result.
Name: 6 ♣: DUH, WHERE AM I? Description: One player from the opposing team was out all night on a bender and is really not ready for this game. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: For the remainder of this game, one selected opposing player gains the Really Stupid skill.	4 ♠: MAGIC SPONGE The local wizard's guild is a fan of your team and has provided your team with a magic sponge that offers possible healing magic to one lucky player. Play after a drive has ended. Roll a D6. On a 1, the sponge's magic fails. On a 2+, you may heal one player in the Dead and Injured box to move him to Reserves.
Name: 7 ♣: EGO TRIP Description: One player from the opposing team has developed a real swelled head from his success and is demanding super star treatment. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: Choose one opposing player. For the remainder of this game, that player must take his Action first every turn or not take an Action at all.	5 ♠: MINE Your team trapped the pitch with a disguised mine and the opposing team has just set it off. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Mine works exactly like a Wizard's Fireball spell except that the centre square must have an opposing player in it for this card to be played.
Name: 8 ♣: ZAP! Description: An underhanded mage you have bribed turns an opponent into a frog. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: Roll a D6. On a 1, the spell has FIZZLED and this card has no effect. On a 2+, one targeted player is treated as having ONLY the following characteristics and skills for the remainder of the drive (MA: 4; ST: 1; AG: 4; AV: 4; Dodge, Leap, No Hands, Stunty, Titchy). If he was carrying the ball it will bounce once from his square. His characteristics/skills will return to normal at the end of the drive, but any injury he suffers as a frog is permanent.	6 ♠: NOT-SO-SECRET WEAPON You bribe the Groundsman to drive his "other" machine onto the pitch to help your team out. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Place a miniature to represent the Groundsman in any square on the pitch adjacent to the sidelines but not in an end zone. The Groundsman has all the stats and skills of a rookie Dwarf Deathroller. You may treat this player as a normal member of your team and it may take you above 11 players on the pitch for this drive. The Groundsman will only play this drive before he returns his equipment to the garage.

Name: 7 ♣: ORCIDAS SPONSORSHIP Description: One player from your team has been selected to help field-test the latest innovation in Blood Bowl footwear. The air-elemental filled soles make the player especially light on their feet. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: For the remainder of this game, one player of your choice from your team gains +1 MA and the Sprint and Sure Feet skills.	9 ♣: TACKLING MACHINE One player from your team has been told "win or else" by the Goblin bookies to make good on his gambling debts and he is determined to get his team the win even if he needs to take down every opposing player himself. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. For the remainder of this game, one player of your choice from your team gains the Diving Tackle, Jump Up, Tackle, and Wrestle skills.
Name: 8 ♣: RAKARTH'S CURSE OF PETTY SPITE Description: Your team has bribed an old witch to curse one of the opposing players. Timing: Play after your turn has ended or your kick-off to an opponent is resolved, but before your opponent's turn begins. Effect: For the remainder of this game, one selected opposing player may not re-roll any dice roll either through team or skill re-rolls.	10 ♣: GET 'EM LADS! Your team makes a major push to break through the opposing team after seeing one of their own go down. Play at the beginning of your turn, before any player takes an Action as long as your team suffered any injuries (including Stunned) during the opposition's previous turn. For this turn, each of your players gains +1 ST.

DESPERATE MEASURES DECK

Name: J ♣: ASSASSIN Description: Your team hires a trained assassin to dope a vital player from your opponent's team to force him to miss the game. Timing: Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Effect: Pick a player on the opposing team. He must miss this game.	J ♣: I AM THE GREATEST Egos on the opposing team are running very high for this match and the head coach is unable to override his team's prima donnas. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. For each drive, only one of the two players with the highest Team Value or Inducement Cost on the opposing team eligible to be set-up for that drive (i.e., not Sent Off or in the KO'd or Dead & Injured box) may be placed on the pitch.
Name: Q ♣: DOOM AND GLOOM Description: Due to some cunningly planted rumours and smear campaigns, the opposing team comes into the game with some serious morale issues. Timing: Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Effect: Roll a D6 for each re-roll the opposing team has; for each result other than 1, the opposing team loses a re-roll for the match.	Q ♣: MINDBLOW Your team has employed a powerful telepath and has chosen this moment to utilise her talent. Her mental scream temporarily stuns the opposing team into inactivity. Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Roll a D6 for each opposing player on the pitch. On a 2+, treat that player as if he had failed a Bone-head roll previously. This effect only last until the end of your turn after which the Bone-head effect is removed without the player needing to start his next Action to cancel it.
Name: K ♣: DA FREIGHT TRAIN Description: You've bribed star Borg 'Freight Train' Gorthag and he comes flying onto the pitch to assist your team. Timing: Play at the beginning of your turn before any player takes an Action. Effect: Place a miniature to represent Borg in any square adjacent to the sidelines but not in an end zone. Borg's characteristics/skills are MA 6;ST 5;AG 2;AV 9 with Loner, Mighty Blow, Thick Skull, Break Tackle, Juggernaut, and Strip Ball. You may treat this player as a normal member of your team, he may take an Action as normal the turn he is placed on the pitch, and it may take you above 11 players on the pitch for this drive. Borg will leave your team at the end of the current half.	K ♣: COME ON BOYS! Your players show great discipline in the face of misfortune against a tough opponent. Play after your turn has ended, but before your opponent's turn begins. If your turn just ended from a turnover, your team does not actually suffer a turnover from that failed roll. The Action of the player causing the turnover is ended, but any player on your team who has not yet declared an Action may continue their turn as if the turnover did not occur. Any further turnovers this turn simply end the Action of the player committing the turnover instead of ending the turn.
Name: A ♣: MORLEY'S REVENGE Description: The opposing team's drinks have been spiked with a powerful laxative, which makes several players have trouble getting out of the locker room facilities for each drive. Timing: Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Effect: Randomly select three opposing players. For the remainder of this game, each one must roll a D6 before every kick-off. On a roll of 1-3, he may not take part in this drive. On a roll of 4-6, he may be set up normally.	A ♣: MYSTERIOUS OLD MEDICINE MAN A small, wrinkled, cackling man comes to the team offering them some of his latest brewed snake oil which he claims will "cure all that ails you." Surprisingly it works... too bad he vanished without a trace after selling it to you. Play during the pre-game after all inducements are purchased. Your team may subtract 1 from all Injury rolls against its players this game. If this takes the result below 2, the player is treated as Prone not Stunned. Rolls on the Casualty table against your team are not affected by this effect.

SKILL DESCRIPTIONS

Accurate (Passing)

The player may add 1 to the D6 roll when he passes.

Always Hungry (Extraordinary)

The player is always ravenously hungry – and what's more, he'll eat absolutely anything! Should the player ever use the Throw Team-Mate skill, roll a D6 after he has finished moving, but before he throws his team-mate. On a 2+ continue with the throw. On a roll of 1 he attempts to eat the unfortunate team-mate! Roll the D6 again, a second 1 means that he successfully scoffs the team-mate down, which kills the team-mate without opportunity for recovery (Apothecaries, Regeneration or anything else cannot be used). If the team-mate had the ball it will scatter once from the team-mate's square. If the second roll is 2-6 the team-mate squirms free and the Pass Action is automatically treated as a fumbled pass. Fumble the player with the Right Stuff skill as normal.

Animosity (Extraordinary)

A player with this skill does not like players from his team that are a different race than he is and will often refuse to play with them despite the coach's orders. If this player at the end of his Hand-off or Pass Action attempts to hand-off or pass the ball to a team-mate that is not the same race as the Animosity player, roll a D6. On a 2+, the pass/hand-off is carried out as normal. On a 1, the player refuses to give the ball to any team-mate except one of his own race. The coach may choose to change the target of the pass/hand-off to another team-mate of the same race as the Animosity player, however no more movement is allowed for the Animosity player, so the current Action may be lost for the turn.

Ball & Chain (Extraordinary)

Players armed with a Ball & Chain can only take Move Actions. To move or Go For It, place the throw-in template over the player facing up or down the pitch or towards either sideline. Then roll a D6 and move the player one square in the indicated direction; no Dodge roll is required if you leave a tackle zone. If this movement takes the player off the pitch, he is beaten up by the crowd in the same manner as a player who has been pushed off the pitch. Repeat this process for each and every square of normal movement the player has. You may then GFI using the same process if you wish. If during his Move Action he would move into an occupied square then the player will throw a block following normal blocking rules against whoever is in that square, friend or foe (and it even ignores Foul Appearance!). A Prone or Stunned player in an occupied square is pushed back and an Armour roll is made to see if he is injured, instead of the block being thrown at him. The player must follow up if he will push back another player, and will then carry on with his move as described above. If the player is ever Knocked Down or Placed Prone, roll immediately for injury (no Armour roll is required). Stunned results for any Injury rolls for the Ball & Chain player are always treated as KO'd. A Ball & Chain player may use the Grab skill (as if a Block Action was being used) with his blocks (if he has learned it!). A Ball & Chain player may never use the Diving Tackle, Frenzy, Kick-Off Return, Leap, Pass Block or Shadowing skills.

Big Hand (Mutation)

One of the player's hands has grown monstrously large, yet remained completely functional. The player ignores modifier(s) for enemy tackle zones or Pouring Rain weather when he attempts to pick up the ball.

Block (General)

A player with the Block skill is proficient at knocking opponents down. The Block skill, if used, affects the results rolled with the Block dice, as explained in the Blocking rules.

Blood Lust (Extraordinary)

Vampires must occasionally feed on the blood of the living. Immediately after declaring an Action with a Vampire, roll a d6: On a 2+ the Vampire can carry out the Action as normal. On a 1, however, the Vampire must feed on a Thrall team-mate or a spectator. The Vampire may continue with his declared Action or if he had declared a Block Action, he may take a Move Action instead. Either way, at the end of the declared Action, but before actually passing, handing off, or scoring, the vampire must feed. If he is standing adjacent to one or more Thrall team-mates (standing, prone or stunned), then choose one to bite and make an Injury roll on the Thrall treating any casualty roll as Badly Hurt. The injury will not cause a turnover unless the Thrall was holding the ball. Once the Vampire has bitten a Thrall he may complete his Action. Failure to bite a Thrall is a turnover and requires him to feed on a spectator – move the Vampire to the reserves box if he was still on the pitch. If he was holding the ball, it bounces from the square he occupied when he was removed and he will not score a touchdown if he was in the opposing end zone.

Bombardier (Extraordinary)

A coach may choose to have a Bombardier who is not Prone or Stunned throw a bomb instead of taking any other Action with the player. This does not use the team's Pass Action for the turn. The bomb is thrown using the rules for throwing the ball (including weather effects and use of Hail Mary Pass), except that the player may not move or stand up before throwing it (he needs time to light the fuse!). Intercepted bomb passes are not turnovers. Fumbles or any bomb explosions that lead to a player on the active team being Knocked Down are turnovers. All skills that may be used when a ball is thrown may be used when a bomb is thrown also. A bomb may be intercepted or caught using the same rules for catching the ball, in which case the player catching it must throw it again immediately. This is a special bonus Action that takes place out of the normal sequence of play. A player holding the ball can catch or intercept and throw a bomb. The bomb explodes when it lands in an empty square or an opportunity to catch the bomb fails or is declined (i.e., bombs don't 'bounce'). If the bomb is fumbled it explodes in the bomb thrower's square. If a bomb lands in the crowd, it explodes with no effect. When the bomb finally does explode any player in the same square is Knocked Down, and players in adjacent squares are Knocked Down on a roll of 4+. Players can be hit by a bomb and treated as Knocked Down even if they are already Prone or Stunned. Make Armour and Injury rolls for any players Knocked Down by the bomb. Casualties caused by a bomb do not count for Star Player points.

Bone-head (Extraordinary)

The player is not noted for his intelligence. Because of this you must roll a D6 immediately after declaring an Action for the player, but before taking the Action. On a roll of 1 he stands around trying to remember what it is he's meant to be doing. The player can't do anything for the turn, and the player's team loses the declared Action for the turn. (So if a Bone-head player declares a Blitz Action and rolls a 1, then the team cannot declare another Blitz Action that turn.) The player loses his tackle zones and may not catch, intercept or pass, assist another player on a block or foul, or voluntarily move until he manages to roll a 2 or better at the start of a future Action or the drive ends.

Break Tackle (Strength)

The player may use his Strength instead of his Agility when making a Dodge roll. For example, a player with Strength 4 and Agility 2 would count as having an Agility of 4 when making a Dodge roll. This skill may only be used once per turn.

Catch (Agility)

A player who has the Catch skill is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he fails a catch roll. It also allows the player to re-roll the D6 if he drops a hand-off or fails to make an interception.

Chainsaw (Extraordinary)

A player armed with a chainsaw must attack with it instead of making a block as part of a Block or Blitz Action. When the chainsaw is used to make an attack, roll a D6 instead of the Block dice. On a roll of 2 or more the chainsaw hits the opposing player, but on a roll of 1 it 'kicks back' and hits the wielder instead! Make an Armour roll for the player hit by the chainsaw, adding 3 to the score. If the roll beats the victim's Armour value then the victim is Knocked Down and injured – roll on the Injury table. If the roll fails to beat the victim's Armour value then the attack has no effect. A player armed with a chainsaw may take a Foul Action, and adds 3 to the Armour roll, but must roll for kick back as described above. A running chainsaw is a dangerous thing to carry around, so if a player holding a chainsaw is Knocked Down for any reason, the opposing coach is allowed to add 3 to his Armour roll to see if the player was injured. However, blocking a player with a chainsaw is equally dangerous! If an opponent knocks himself over when blocking the chainsaw player then add 3 to his Armour roll. This skill may only be used once per turn (e.g., cannot be used with Frenzy or Multiple Block) and if used as part of a Blitz Action, the player cannot continue moving after using it. Casualties caused by a chainsaw player do not count for Star Player points.

Hack Enslash "heads off" an Elf trying to break away

Claw / Claws (Mutation)

A player with this skill is blessed with a huge crab-like claw or razor sharp talons that make armour useless. When an opponent is Knocked Down by this player during a block, any Armour roll of 8 or more after modifications automatically breaks armour.

Dauntless (General)

A player with this skill is capable of psyching himself up so he can take on even the very strongest opponent. The skill only works when the player attempts to block an opponent who is stronger than himself. When the skill is used, the coach of the player with the Dauntless skill rolls a D6 and adds it to his strength. If the total is equal to or lower than the opponent's Strength, the player must block using his normal Strength. If the total is greater, then the player with the Dauntless skill counts as having a Strength equal to his opponent's when he makes the block. The strength of both players is calculated before any defensive or offensive assists are added but after all other modifiers.

Decay (Extraordinary)

Staying on the pitch is difficult when your rotting body is barely held together. When this player suffers a Casualty result on the Injury table, roll twice on the Casualty table (see page 25) and apply both results. The player will only ever miss one future match as a result of his injuries, even if he suffers two results with this effect. A successful Regeneration roll will heal both results.

Dirty Player (General)

A player with this skill has trained long and hard to learn every dirty trick in the book. Add 1 to any Armour roll or Injury roll made by a player with this skill when they make a Foul as part of a Foul Action. Note that you may only modify one of the dice rolls, so if you decide to use Dirty Player to modify the Armour roll, you may not modify the Injury roll as well.

Disturbing Presence (Mutation)

This player's presence is very disturbing, whether it is caused by a massive cloud of flies, sprays of soporific musk, an aura of random chaos or intense cold, or a pheromone that causes fear and panic. Regardless of the nature of this mutation, any player must subtract 1 from the D6 when they pass, intercept or catch for each opposing player with Disturbing Presence that is within three squares of them, even if the Disturbing Presence player is Prone or Stunned.

Diving Catch (Agility)

The player is superb at diving to catch balls others cannot reach and jumping to more easily catch perfect passes. The player may add 1 to any catch roll from an accurate pass targeted to his square. In addition, the player can attempt to catch any pass, kick off or crowd throw-in, but not bouncing ball, that would land in an empty square in one of his tackle zones as if it had landed in his own square without leaving his current square. A failed catch will bounce from the Diving Catch player's square. If there are two or more players attempting to use this skill then they get in each other's way and neither can use it.

Diving Tackle (Agility)

The player may use this skill after an opposing player attempts to dodge out of any of his tackle zones. The opposing player must subtract 2 from his Dodge roll for leaving the player's tackle zone. If a player is attempting to leave the tackle zone of several players that have the Diving Tackle skill, then only one of the opposing players may use Diving Tackle. Diving Tackle may be used on a re-rolled dodge if not declared for use on the first Dodge roll. Once the dodge is resolved but before any armour roll for the opponent (if needed), the Diving Tackle Player is Placed Prone in the square vacated by the dodging player but do not make an Armour or Injury roll for the Diving Tackle player.

Dodge (Agility)

A player with the Dodge skill is adept at slipping away from opponents, and is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he fails to dodge out of any of an opposing player's tackle zones. However, the player may only re-roll one failed Dodge roll per turn. In addition, the Dodge skill, if used, affects the results rolled on the Block dice, as explained in the Blocking rules (see page 10.)

Dump-Off (Passing)

This skill allows the player to make a Quick Pass when an opponent declares that he will throw a block at him, allowing the player to get rid of the ball before he is hit. Work out the Dump-Off pass before the opponent makes his block. The normal throwing rules apply, except that neither team's turn ends as a result of the throw, whatever it may be. After the throw is worked out your opponent completes the block, and then carries on with his turn. Dump-Off may not be used on the second block from an opponent with the Frenzy skill or in conjunction with the Bombardier or Throw Team-Mate skills.

Extra Arms (Mutation)

A player with one or more extra arms may add 1 to any attempt to pick up, catch or intercept.

Fan Favourite (Extraordinary)

The fans love seeing this player on the pitch so much that even the opposing fans cheer for your team. For each player with Fan Favourite on the pitch your team receives an additional +1 FAME modifier (see page 18) for any Kick-Off table results, but not for the Winnings roll.

Fend (General)

This player is very skilled at holding off would-be attackers. Opposing players may not follow-up blocks made against this player even if the Fend player is Knocked Down. The opposing player may still continue moving after blocking if he had declared a Blitz Action.

Foul Appearance (Mutation)

The player's appearance is so horrible that any opposing player that wants to block the player (or use a special attack that takes the place of a block) must first roll a D6 and score 2 or more. If the opposing player rolls a 1 he is too revolted to make the block and it is wasted (though the opposing team does not suffer a turnover).

Frenzy (General)

A player with this skill is a slaving psychopath who attacks his opponents in an uncontrollable rage. Unless otherwise overridden, this skill must always be used. When making a block, a player with this skill must always follow up if he can. If a 'Pushed' or 'Defender Stumbles' result was chosen, the player must immediately throw a second block against the same opponent so long as they are both still standing and adjacent. If possible, the player must also follow up this second block. If the frenzied player is performing a Blitz Action then he must pay a square of Movement and must make the second block unless he has no further normal movement and cannot Go For It again.

Grab (Strength)

A player with this skill uses his great strength and prowess to grab his opponent and throw him around. To represent this, only while making a Block Action, if his block results in a push back he may choose any empty square adjacent to his opponent to push back his opponent. When making a Block or Blitz Action, Grab and Side Step will cancel each other out and the standard pushback rules apply. Grab will not work if there are no empty adjacent squares. A player with the Grab skill can never learn or gain the Frenzy skill through any means. Likewise, a player with the Frenzy skill can never learn or gain the Grab skill through any means.

Guard (Strength)

A player with this skill assists an offensive or defensive block even if he is in another player's tackle zone. This skill may not be used to assist a foul.

Hail Mary Pass (Passing)

The player may throw the ball to any square on the playing pitch, no matter what the range: the range ruler is not used. Roll a D6. On a roll of 1 the player fumbles the throw, and the ball will bounce once from the thrower's square. On a roll of 2-6, the player may make the pass. The Hail Mary pass may not be intercepted, but it is never accurate – the ball automatically misses and scatters three squares. Note that if you are lucky, the ball will scatter back into the target square! This skill may not be used in a Blizzard or with the Throw Team-Mate skill.

Zzharg Madeye, Chaos Dwarf Star Player

Horns (Mutation)

A player with Horns may use them to butt an opponent. Horns adds 1 to the player's Strength for any block(s) he makes during a Blitz Action.

Hypnotic Gaze (Extraordinary)

The player has a powerful telepathic ability that he can use to stun an opponent into immobility. The player may use hypnotic gaze at the end of his Move Action on one opposing player who is in an adjacent square. Make an Agility roll for the player with hypnotic gaze, with a -1 modifier for each opposing tackle zone on the player with hypnotic gaze other than the victim's. If the Agility roll is successful, then the opposing player loses his tackle zones and may not catch, intercept or pass the ball, assist another player on a block or foul, or move voluntarily until the start of his next Action or the drive ends. If the roll fails, then the hypnotic gaze has no effect.

Juggernaut (Strength)

A player with this skill is virtually impossible to stop once he is in motion. If this player takes a Blitz Action, the opposing player may not use his Fend, Stand Firm or Wrestle skills against the Juggernaut player's blocks. The Juggernaut player may also choose to treat a 'Both Down' result as if a 'Pushed' result has been rolled instead for blocks he makes during a Blitz Action.

Jump Up (Agility)

A player with this skill is able to quickly get back into the game. If the player declares any Action other than a Block Action he may stand up for free without paying the three squares of movement. The player may also declare a Block Action while Prone which requires an Agility roll with a +2 modifier to see if he can complete the Action. A successful roll means the player can stand up for free and block an adjacent opponent. A failed roll means the Block Action is wasted and the player may not stand up.

Kick (General)

The player is an expert at kicking the ball and can place the kick with great precision. In order to use this skill the player must be set up on the pitch when his team kicks off. The player may not be set up in either wide zone or on the line of scrimmage. Only if all these conditions are met is the player then allowed to take the kick-off. Because his kick is so accurate, you may choose to halve the number of squares that the ball scatters on kick-off, rounding any fractions down (i.e., 1 = 0, 2-3 = 1, 4-5 = 2, 6 = 3).

Kick-Off Return (General)

A player on the receiving team that is not on the Line of Scrimmage or in an opposing tackle zone may use this skill when the ball has been kicked. It allows the player to move up to 3 squares after the ball has been scattered but before rolling on the Kick-Off table. Only one player may use this skill each kick-off. This skill may not be used for a touchback kick-off and does not allow the player to cross into the opponent's half of the pitch.

★ ★ ★ Did you know...

In 2407 the Chaos All-Stars only loss came against the lowly Skaven team the Rotten Rats, coached by the now infamous Jaunt Maddening. With the All-Stars up 6-0 at the half, the game was so ugly that the Cabalvision broadcast switched over to a production about a little girl living in the outskirts of Bretonnia. An amazing turnaround occurred when a Skaven runner by the name of Kweethul decided he did not want to stay on the pitch as the All-Stars ruthlessly pounded his team-mates. Instead, he ran through the gutters leading into the stadium, and amazingly emerged in his end zone. After catching the second half kick-off, he ran back into the gutters, came out on the other side of the pitch, and started the Rats' 7 touchdown run. Kweethul's glory was short-lived as the Chaos All-Stars discovered after the match that sewer water is an excellent rat marinade. Even though stadiums now rarely have sewers accessible from the pitch, the fastest Skaven players are still called gutter runners, both as tribute to Kweethul and a testament to how hard they are to get a hold of!

Leader (Passing)

The player is a natural leader and commands the rest of the team from the back-field as he prepares to throw the ball. A team with one or more players with the Leader skill may take a single Leader Re-roll counter and add it to their team re-rolls at the start of the game and at half time after any Master Chef rolls. The Leader re-roll is used exactly the same in every way as a normal Team re-roll with all the same restrictions. In addition, the Leader re-roll may only be used so long as at least one player with the Leader skill is on the pitch - even if they are Prone or Stunned! Re-rolls from Leader may be carried over into Overtime if not used, but the team does not receive a new Leader re-roll at the start of Overtime.

Leap (Agility)

A player with the Leap skill is allowed to jump to any empty square within 2 squares even if it requires jumping over a player from either team. Making a leap costs the player two squares of movement. In order to make the leap, move the player to any empty square 1 to 2 squares from his current square and then make an Agility roll for the player. No modifiers apply to this D6 roll unless he has Very Long Legs. The player does not have to dodge to leave the square he starts in. If the player successfully makes the D6 roll then he makes a perfect jump and may carry on moving. If the player fails the Agility roll then he is Knocked Down in the square that he was leaping to, and the opposing coach makes an Armour roll to see if he was injured. A player may only use the Leap skill once per turn.

Loner (Extraordinary)

Loners, through inexperience, arrogance, animal ferocity or just plain stupidity, do not work well with the rest of the team. As a result, a Loner may use team re-rolls but has to roll a D6 first. On a roll of 4+, he may use the team re-roll as normal. On a roll of 1-3 the original result stands without being re-rolled but the team re-roll is lost (i.e., used).

Mighty Blow (Strength)

Add 1 to any Armour or Injury roll made by a player with this skill when an opponent is Knocked Down by this player during a block. Note that you only modify one of the dice rolls, so if you decide to use Mighty Blow to modify the Armour roll, you may not modify the Injury roll as well. Mighty Blow cannot be used with the Stab or Chainsaw skills.

Multiple Block (Strength)

At the start of a Block Action a player who is adjacent to at least two opponents may choose to throw blocks against two of them. Make each block in turn as normal except that each defender's strength is increased by 2. The player cannot follow up either block when using this skill, so Multiple Block can be used instead of Frenzy, but both skills cannot be used together. To have the option to throw the second block the player must still be on his feet after the first block.

Nerves of Steel (Passing)

The player ignores modifiers for enemy tackle zones when he attempts to pass, catch or intercept.

No Hands (Extraordinary)

The player is unable to pick up, intercept or carry the ball and will fail any catch roll automatically, either because he literally has no hands or because his hands are full. If he attempts to pick up the ball then it will bounce, and will cause a turnover if it is his team's turn.

Nurgle's Rot (Extraordinary)

This player has a horrible infectious disease which spreads when he kills an opponent during a Block, Blitz or Foul Action. Instead of truly dying, the infected opponent becomes a new rookie Rotter. To do so, the opponent must have been removed from the roster during step 2.1 of the Post-game sequence, his Strength cannot exceed 4, and he cannot have the Decay, Regeneration or Stunty skills. The new Rotter can be added to the Nurgle team for free during step 5 of Updating Your Team Roster (see page 29) if the team has an open Roster slot. This new Rotter still counts at full value towards the total value of the Nurgle team.

Pass (Passing)

A player with the Pass skill is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he throws an inaccurate pass or fumbles.

Pass Block (General)

A player with this skill is allowed to move up to three squares when the opposing coach announces that one of his players is going to pass the ball (but not a bomb). The opposing coach may not change his mind about passing once Pass Block's use is declared. The move is made out of sequence, after the range has been measured, but before any interception attempts have been made. A player may not make the move unless able to reach a legal destination and may not follow a route that would not allow them to reach a legal destination. A legal destination puts the player in a position to attempt an interception, an empty square that is the target of the pass, or with his tackle zone on the thrower or catcher. The player may not stop moving until he has reached a legal destination, has been held fast by Tentacles or has been Knocked Down. The special move is free, and in no way affects the player's ability to move in a subsequent Action. The move is made using all of the normal rules and skills (for example, having to dodge in order to leave opposing players' tackle zones.) Players with Pass Block may use this skill against a Dump Off pass. If a player performing a Pass Block in their own turn is Knocked Down then this is a turnover, no other players may perform Pass Block moves, and your turn ends as soon as the results of the pass and the block are resolved.

Piling On (Strength)

The player may use this skill after he has made a block as part of one of his Block or Blitz Actions, but only if the Piling On player is currently standing adjacent to the victim and the victim was Knocked Down. You may re-roll the Armour roll or Injury roll for the victim. The Piling On player is Placed Prone in his own square -- it is assumed that he rolls back there after flattening his opponent (do not make an Armour roll for him as he has been cushioned by the other player!). Piling On does not cause a turnover unless the Piling On player is carrying the ball. Piling On cannot be used with the Stab or Chainsaw skills.

Prehensile Tail (Mutation)

The player has a long, thick tail which he can use to trip up opposing players. To represent this, opposing players must subtract 1 from the D6 roll if they attempt to dodge out of any of the player's tackle zones.

Pro (General)

A player with this skill is a hardened veteran. Such players are called professionals or Pros by other Blood Bowl players because they rarely make a mistake. Once per turn, a Pro is allowed to re-roll any one dice roll he has made other than Armour, Injury or Casualty, even if he is Prone or Stunned. However, before the re-roll may be made, his coach must roll a D6. On a roll of 4, 5 or 6 the re-roll may be made. On a roll of 1, 2 or 3 the original result stands and may not be re-rolled with a skill or team re-roll; however you can re-roll the Pro roll with a Team re-roll.

Really Stupid (Extraordinary)

This player is without doubt one of the dimmest creatures to ever take to a Blood Bowl pitch (which, considering the IQ of most other players, is really saying something!). Because of this you must roll a D6 immediately after declaring an Action for the player, but before taking the Action. If there are one or more players from the same team standing adjacent to the Really Stupid player's square, and who aren't Really Stupid, then add 2 to the D6 roll. On a result of 1-3 he stands around trying to remember what it is he's meant to be doing. The player can't do anything for the turn, and the player's team loses the declared Action for that turn (for example, if a Really Stupid player declares a Blitz Action and fails the Really Stupid roll, then the team cannot declare another Blitz Action that turn). The player loses his tackle zones and may not catch, intercept or pass the ball, assist another player on a block or foul, or voluntarily move until he manages to roll a successful result for a Really Stupid roll at the start of a future Action or the drive ends.

Regeneration (Extraordinary)

If the player suffers a Casualty result on the Injury table, then roll a D6 for Regeneration after the roll on the Casualty table and after any Apothecary roll, if allowed. On a result of 1-3, the player suffers the result of this injury. On a 4-6, the player will heal the injury after a short period of time to 're-organise' himself, and is placed in the Reserves box instead. Regeneration rolls may not be re-rolled. Note that an opposing player still earns Star Player points as normal for inflicting a Casualty result on a player with this skill, even if the result doesn't affect the player in the normal way.

Right Stuff (Extraordinary)

A player with the Right Stuff skill can be thrown by another player from his team who has the Throw Team-Mate skill. See the Throw Team-Mate skill entry below for details of how the player is thrown. When a player with this skill is thrown or fumbled and ends up in an unoccupied square, he must make a landing roll unless he landed on another player during the throw. A landing roll is an Agility roll with a -1 modifier for each opposing player's tackle zone on the square he lands in. If he passes the roll he lands on his feet. If the landing roll is failed or he landed on another player during the throw he is Placed Prone and must pass an Armour roll to avoid injury. If the player is not injured during his landing he may take an Action later this turn if he has not already done so. A failed landing roll or landing in the crowd does not cause a turnover, unless he was holding the ball.

Safe Throw (Passing)

This player is an expert at throwing the ball in a way that makes it even more difficult for any opponent to intercept it. If a pass made by this player is ever intercepted then the Safe Throw player may make an unmodified Agility roll. If successful, the interception is cancelled out and the passing sequence continues as normal. In addition, if this player fumbles a pass of a ball (not a bomb or team-mate) on any roll other than a natural 1, he manages to keep hold of the ball instead of suffering a fumble and the team does not suffer a turnover.

Secret Weapon (Extraordinary)

Some players are armed with special pieces of equipment that are called 'secret weapons.' Although the Blood Bowl rules specifically ban the use of any weapons, the game has a long history of teams trying to get weapons of some sort onto the pitch. Nonetheless, the use of secret weapons is simply not legal, and referees have a nasty habit of sending off players that use them. Once a drive ends that this player has played in at any point, the referee orders the player to be sent off to the dungeon to join players that have been caught committing fouls during the match, regardless of whether the player is still on the pitch or not.

Shadowing (General)

The player may use this skill when a player performing an Action on the opposing team moves out of any of his tackle zones for any reason. The opposing coach rolls 2D6 adding his own player's movement allowance and subtracting the Shadowing player's movement allowance from the score. If the final result is 7 or less, the player with Shadowing may move into the square vacated by the opposing player. He does not have to make any Dodge rolls when he makes this move, and it has no effect on his own movement in his own turn. If the final result is 8 or more, the opposing player successfully avoids the Shadowing player and the Shadowing player may not move into the vacated square. A player may make any number of shadowing moves per turn. If a player has left the tackle zone of several players that have the Shadowing skill, then only one of the opposing players may attempt to shadow him.

Side Step (Agility)

A player with this skill is an expert at stepping neatly out of the way of an attacker. To represent this ability, his coach may choose which square the player is moved to when he is pushed back, rather than the opposing coach. Furthermore, the coach may choose to move the player to any adjacent square, not just the three squares shown on the Push Back diagram. Note that the player may not use this skill if there are no open squares on the pitch adjacent to this player. Note that the coach may choose which square the player is moved to even if the player is Knocked Down after the push back.

Sneaky Git (Agility)

This player has the quickness and finesse to stick the boot to a downed opponent without drawing a referee's attention unless he hears the armour crack. During a Foul Action a player with this skill is not ejected for rolling doubles on the Armour roll unless the Armour roll was successful.

Sprint (Agility)

The player may attempt to move up to three extra squares rather than the normal two when Going For It (see page 20). His coach must still roll to see if the player is Knocked Down in each extra square he enters.

Stab (Extraordinary)

A player with this skill is armed with something very good at stabbing, slashing or hacking up an opponent, like sharp fangs or a trusty dagger. This player may attack an opponent with his stabbing attack instead of throwing a block. Make an unmodified Armour roll (except for Stakes) for the victim. If the score is less than or equal to the victim's Armour value then the attack has no effect. If the score beats the victim's Armour value then he has been wounded and an Injury roll must be made. This Injury roll ignores all modifiers from any source - including Niggling injuries. If Stab is used as part of a Blitz Action, the player cannot continue moving after using it. Casualties caused by a stabbing attack do not count for Star Player points.

Stakes (Extraordinary)

This player is armed with special stakes that are blessed to cause extra damage to the Undead and those that work with them. This player may add 1 to the Armour roll when they make a Stab attack against any player playing for a Khemri, Necromantic, Undead or Vampire team.

Stand Firm (Strength)

A player with this skill may choose to not be pushed back as the result of a block. He may choose to ignore being pushed by 'Pushed' results, and to have 'Knock-down' results knock the player down in the square where he started. If a player is pushed back into a player using Stand Firm then neither player moves.

Strip Ball (General)

When a player with this skill blocks an opponent with the ball, applying a 'Pushed' or 'Defender Stumbles' result will cause the opposing player to drop the ball in the square that they are pushed to, even if the opposing player is not Knocked Down.

Strong Arm (Strength)

The player may add 1 to the D6 when he passes to Short, Long or Long Bomb range.

Stunty (Extraordinary)

The player is so small that they are very difficult to tackle because they can duck underneath opposing players' outstretched arms and run between their legs. On the other hand, Stunty players are just a bit too small to throw the ball very well, and are easily injured. To represent these things a player with the Stunty skill may ignore any enemy tackle zones on the square he is moving to when he makes a Dodge roll (i.e., they always end up with a +1 Dodge roll modifier), but must subtract 1 from the roll when he passes. In addition, this player treats a roll of 7 and 9 on the Injury table after any modifiers have been applied as a KO'd and Badly Hurt result respectively, rather than the normal results. Stunties that are armed with a Secret Weapon are not allowed to ignore enemy tackle zones, but still suffer the other penalties.

Sure Feet (Agility)

The player may re-roll the D6 if he is Knocked Down when trying to Go For It (see page 20). A player may only use the Sure Feet skill once per turn.

Sure Hands (General)

A player with the Sure Hands skill is allowed to re-roll the D6 if he fails to pick up the ball. In addition, the Strip Ball skill will not work against a player with this skill.

Tackle (General)

Opposing players who are standing in any of this player's tackle zones are not allowed to use their Dodge skill if they attempt to dodge out of any of the player's tackle zones, nor may they use their Dodge skill if the player throws a block at them and uses the Tackle skill.

Take Root (Extraordinary)

Immediately after declaring an Action with this player, roll a D6. On a 2 or more, the player may take his Action as normal. On a 1, the player "takes root", and his MA is considered 0 until a drive ends, or he is Knocked Down or Placed Prone (and no, players from his own team may not try and block him in order to try to knock him down!). A player that has taken root may not Go For It, be pushed back for any reason, or use any skill that would allow him to move out of his current square or be Placed Prone. The player may block adjacent players without following-up as part of a Block Action however if a player fails his Take Root roll as part of a Blitz Action he may not block that turn (he can still roll to stand up if he is Prone).

Tentacles (Mutation)

The player may use this skill when an opposing player attempts to dodge or leap out of any of his tackle zones. The opposing coach rolls 2D6 adding his player's ST and subtracting the Tentacles player's ST from the score. If the final result is 5 or less, then the moving player is held firm, and his Action ends immediately. If a player attempts to leave the tackle zone of several players that have the Tentacles skill, only one may attempt to grab him with Tentacles.

Thick Skull (Strength)

This player treats a roll of 8 on the Injury table, after any modifiers have been applied, as a Stunned result rather than a KO'd result. This skill may be used even if the player is Prone or Stunned.

Throw Team-Mate (Extraordinary)

A player with this skill has the ability to throw a player from the same team instead of the ball! (This includes the ball if the player thrown already has it!) The throwing player must end the movement of his Pass Action standing next to the intended team-mate to be thrown, who must have the Right Stuff skill and be standing. The pass is worked out exactly the same as if the player with Throw Team-Mate was passing a ball, except the player must subtract 1 from the D6 roll when he passes the player, fumbles are not automatically turnovers, and Long Pass or Long Bomb range passes are not possible. In addition, accurate passes are treated instead as inaccurate passes thus scattering the thrown player three times as players are heavier and harder to pass than a ball. The thrown player cannot be intercepted. A fumbled team-mate will land in the square he originally occupied. If the thrown player scatters off the pitch, he is beaten up by the crowd in the same manner as a player who has been pushed off the pitch. If the final square he scatters into is occupied by another player, treat the player landed on as Knocked Down and roll for Armour (even if already Prone or Stunned), and then the player being thrown will scatter one more square. If the thrown player would land on another player, continue to scatter the thrown player until he ends up in an empty square or off the pitch (i.e., he cannot land on more than one player). See the Right Stuff entry to see if the player lands on his feet or head-down in a crumpled heap!

Titchy (Extraordinary)

Titchy players tend to be even smaller and more nimble than other Stunty players. To represent this, the player may add 1 to any Dodge roll he attempts. On the other hand, while opponents do have to dodge to leave any of a Titchy player's tackle zones, a Titchy player is so small that he does not exert a -1 modifier when opponents dodge into any of his tackle zones.

Two Heads (Mutation)

Having two heads enables this player to watch where he is going and the opponent trying to make sure he does not get there at the same time. Add 1 to all Dodge rolls the player makes.

Very Long Legs (Mutation)

The player is allowed to add 1 to the D6 roll whenever he attempts to intercept or uses the Leap skill. In addition, the Safe Throw skill may not be used to affect any Interception rolls made by this player.

Wild Animal (Extraordinary)

Wild Animals are uncontrollable creatures that rarely do exactly what a coach wants of them. In fact, just about all you can really rely on them to do is lash out at opposing players that move too close to them! To represent this, immediately after declaring an Action with a Wild Animal, roll a D6, adding 2 to the roll if taking a Block or Blitz Action. On a roll of 1-3, the Wild Animal does not move and roars in rage instead, and the Action is wasted.

Wrestle (General)

The player is specially trained in grappling techniques. This player may use Wrestle when he blocks or is blocked and a 'Both Down' result on the Block dice is chosen by either coach. Instead of applying the 'Both Down' result, both players are wrestled to the ground. Both players are Placed Prone in their respective squares even if one or both have the Block skill. Do not make Armour rolls for either player. Use of this skill does not cause a turnover unless the active player was holding the ball.

★★★ Did you know...

That Bob Bifford has been suspended from commentating the opening game of the season for 'excessive violence.' That's right fans, when he was a guest commentator at the Sticky Bun trophy last year between the Greenfield Grasshuggers and Bluebay Crammers he made a passing comment that the stadium lacked 'a nice pair of tasty buns' and the place erupted! As the Halflings rioted upon hearing there were no buns for sale, the whole of Aitdorf was shaken to the core as Halflings tore down bakeries and sweet shops in protest. When the calm settled there were 74 fatalities (including 4 shop keepers and a baker), and Bob Bifford was ordered by the NAF to serve a suspension of the first game and pay the affected shopkeepers a large portion of his first-match pay of the season (which rumours say comes in at a 6 figure sum!).

Bifford only replied that he'd never commentate another Sticky Bun trophy as he "couldn't even get me 'ands on a pair of juicy melons after the game." Presumably the Halflings got the greengrocers as well.

INDUCEMENT DESCRIPTIONS

0-2 Bloodweiser Babes: The team purchases a keg of extra-special Bloodweiser magic ale for 50,000 gold pieces, and gets a lovely lady to serve players before going out for each drive. The combination of the ale and the young lady serving it means that for each purchase of this inducement, players on the team gain a +1 modifier to recover from KO'd for this match.

0-3 Bribes: Goblin teams may buy a bribe for 50,000 gold pieces; any other team can buy a bribe for 100,000 gold pieces. Each bribe allows a team to attempt to ignore one call by the referee for a player who has committed a foul to be sent off, or a player armed with a secret weapon to be banned from the match. Roll a D6: on a roll of 2-6 the bribe is effective (preventing a turnover if the player was ejected for fouling), but on a roll of 1 the bribe is wasted and the call still stands! Each bribe may be used once per match but more than one bribe may be used on a single call by the referee.

0-4 Extra Team Training: Each extra team training session costs 100,000 gold pieces and allows the team to take one extra Team re-roll that may be used for this match only.

0-1 Halfling Master Chef: Halfling teams may hire a Halfling Master Chef for 100,000 gold pieces; any other team can hire the Chef for 300,000 gold pieces. Roll 3D6 at the start of each half to see what effect the chef's cooking has on the team. For each dice that rolls 4 or more, the team is so inspired that they gain a Team Re-roll, and in addition, the opposing team is so distracted by the fantastic cooking smells emanating from their opponent's dug-out that they lose a Team Re-roll (but only if they have any left to lose).

0-1 Igor: Any team that cannot purchase a permanent Apothecary can hire an Igor for 100,000 gold pieces to assist the team. An Igor is a master of needle and thread on rotting flesh, connecting hip bone to leg bone, rewrapping funeral wraps and so on. He can really get the boys shambling back to the pitch. An Igor may only be used once per a game to re-roll one failed Regeneration roll for a player.

Spike! Magazine's number 1 All-time Worst Player Award goes to 'Speccky' McGroan of the Evil Gits - one of those truly incompetent cretins that Blood Bowl needs if it is to retain its prime-time status. Speccky played during one season (2488 - 2489) but over that year he managed to fumble the ball over 30 times, averaging more than two fumbles per match. Speccky's finest hour, however, was in his final match against the Champions of Death when he managed to fumble the ball a record nine times before he was pulled off (and then reportedly pulled apart!) by the Evil Gits head coach, Bargull Whipdeath. Asked about Speccky being cut from the team, coach Whipdeath said " 'e deserited it, so I cut 'im from 'ere to 'ere."

The rumours of Speccky's demise appear to be greatly exaggerated, though, and true connoisseurs of the running game may see Speccky's "talents" again on the pitch. An undercover reporter discovered that what actually happened at the end of the match against the Champions of Death was that Whipdeath was paid 20,000 gold pieces by the Middenheim Marauders for Speccky... to go play for the Chaos All-Stars.

Unlimited Mercenaries: For every player safely employed by a team there are dozens of freelance players who play just one game with a team and then move on. These are the stars who didn't quite make it and the cast-offs from teams that went bankrupt. A Mercenary costs 30,000 more than an ordinary player of his position. For example, a Mercenary Human lineman would cost 80,000 gold pieces to hire for a match. The normal limits on the total number of players allowed on a team and in each position do apply to Mercenaries (so they aren't truly unlimited). However, players that are missing the game due to injury do not count towards the number of players on the team, so Mercenaries can be used to replace players that are missing a game. All Mercenaries have the Loner skill as they are unused to playing with the rest of the team. In addition, a Mercenary may be given one additional skill selected from those available to a player of that position on a Normal roll, at an additional cost of 50,000 gold pieces. For example, a Mercenary Human lineman could be given Tackle for a total cost of 130,000 gold pieces to hire for a match. Mercenaries cannot earn Star Player points other than the MVP for the game. Mercenaries can never gain new skills.

0-2 Star Players: Star Players are the heroes of the Blood Bowl arena, the most resourceful and talented players in the sport. Each Star Player has his own set of special skills and each is an individual, standing out from the rest of the players in the league by virtue of the unique set of skills and talents that they possess (see the back cover for Star Player stats and skills). Star players act as free agents, playing single matches for any team that can afford their high fees (and that they are willing to assist in the first place), and then moving on to play for another team. A team may hire up to two Star Players that are allowed to play for the team. Unless the League Commissioner decides otherwise, deaths and serious injuries inflicted on Star Players are waived after the match. Star Players may not take the number of players in the team to more than 16. However, players that are missing the game due to injury do not count towards the number of players on the team, so a team can use Star Players to replace players that are missing a game. It is possible (though unlikely) for both teams to induce the same Star Player. If this happens then neither may use him and he keeps both sets of hiring fees! Star Players can never earn Star Player points other than the MVP for the game. Star Players can never gain new skills. Finally, purchased/induced Apothecaries or an Igor may not be used on Star Players ever. Star Players employ their own personal trainers and apothecaries who travel with them to heal them from almost any injury (including death) and to get in shape for their next match and will not use the team's amateur physicians.

0-2 Wandering Apothecaries: Any team may hire a Wandering Apothecary or two to help during the match for 100,000 gold pieces each, if the team can normally purchase a permanent Apothecary. Often these Apothecaries are powerful priests of the local deity. While they would never allow themselves to be a permanent part of a heathen Blood Bowl team, they have been known to assist for a single match for a generous donation to their faith. The rules for Wandering Apothecaries are identical to the rules for purchased Apothecaries on page 17. Only one Apothecary may be used to re-roll each Casualty roll.

In the days before the Colleges of Magic ruled on limiting Wizard assistance to teams, games were awash with magic. Who could forget the infamous 2472 Quagmire Incident when rampant spellcasting caused the Bright Crusaders' entire stadium to sink into the earth? The Necromancer's Broadcasting Circle, the Crystal Ball Service, the Association of Broadcasting Conjurers, the Wolf Network, and the Broadcasting Brotherhood of Casters all banded together to force the Colleges of Magic to make the other magical guilds toe the line on a limit to magical interference in the game. Not only was the Cabalvision signal being disturbed, but the game itself was in danger of being ruined, and there are large piles of gold in Blood Bowl broadcasting!

Nowadays, the Wizards have taken a more enlightened attitude, preferring to give their team a sudden advantage at a strategic moment, rather than allow sorcery to dominate the game entirely.

WIZARDS

Wizards, just like everybody else in the Old World, are keen sports fans and many are fanatically loyal in support of their chosen team. It is not surprising, then, that soon after the game was born, Wizards started 'helping out' the team they supported with carefully selected spells. Soon games were awash with magic as rival Wizards battled to give their team the edge. In the end, the Colleges of Magic were forced to insist that only teams that had bought a special license from the Colleges of Magic were allowed to have magical assistance. They limited this assistance to one spell per match, and even this had to be chosen from a very limited selection and cast by an officially appointed Colleges of Magic team Wizard. Wizards and fans alike soon realised that they really wanted to see a proper Blood Bowl match rather than a spellcasting contest, so the new rules were soon universally accepted.

Any team is allowed to hire a Wizard for a match, as long as they can afford the whopping licensing fee charged by the College of Magic concerned. No team may hire more than one Wizard per match. Wizards can be represented in games with one of the Wizard models from the range of Citadel miniatures for Warhammer. This isn't strictly necessary, but looks a lot better than representing a Wizard with a bottle top or tiddlywink!

Once per game, the Wizard is allowed to cast either a Fireball spell or a Lightning Bolt spell. Wizards may only cast spells at the start of the turn for the team that induced him before any player performs an Action or immediately after the turn of the team that induced him has ended even if it ended with a turnover.

Fireball: Choose a target square anywhere on the pitch. Roll one dice to hit each standing player (from either team) that is either in the target square or a square adjacent to it. If the 'to hit' roll is a 4 or more then the target is Knocked Down. If it is a 3 or less he manages to dodge the fireball's blast. Make an Armour roll (and possible Injury as well) for any player that is Knocked Down as if they had been Knocked Down by a player with the Mighty Blow skill. If a player on the moving team is Knocked Down by a fireball, then the moving team does not suffer a turnover unless the player was carrying the ball at the time.

Lightning Bolt: Pick a standing player anywhere on the pitch, and roll one dice. If the score is a 2 or higher, then he has been hit by the lightning bolt. If the roll is a 1 then he manages to dodge out of the way. A player hit by a lightning bolt is Knocked Down and must make an Armour roll (and possible Injury as well) as if hit by a player with the Mighty Blow skill.

★ ★ ★ Did you know...

Wizards are not always able to cast spells safely from the sidelines. In 2501, an Albion league started a 2nd division that prohibited spellcasting from off the pitch. This meant that Wizards had to take the pitch as on-pitch spellcasters. Many fans travel to games in this division of the Midgard Blood Bowl League to see just how well Wizards stand up when a raving Blood Bowl star is screaming down the pitch at them. The sights and sounds of frying bolts of lightning and sizzling fireballs followed by the snapping of a Wizard's spine like a twig have delighted fans of all ages so much that the commissioner of the league has no plans to overturn the ruling despite several petitions from the Colleges of Magic to do so.

TEAM ROSTERS

The following nine pages list the 24 official races for the game. Qty indicates the number of that position that you may have on your team. Double indicates the additional skill categories to those in the Normal column available to choose a skill from on a double skill roll (see pages 26 and 27). For the Normal and Double column, G = General skills, A = Agility skills, S = Strength skills, P = Passing skills, and M = Mutation skills.

AMAZON TEAMS

Long ago, driven by a desire for adventure, the Valkyries of the Norse settlement in Lustria sailed away from their men-folk and founded a colony deep within the estuary of the river Amaxon. Now these ferocious warriors have taken to the Blood Bowl pitch – and Nuffle save those who dare play against them!

CHAOS TEAMS

Chaos teams are not noted for the subtlety or originality of their game play. A simple drive up the centre of the pitch, maiming and injuring as many opposing players as possible, is about the limit of their game plan. They rarely, if ever, worry about such minor considerations like picking up the ball and scoring touchdowns – not while there are any players left alive on the opposing team, anyway.

CHAOS DWARF TEAMS

Chaos Dwarfs are the twisted descendants of Dwarf explorers who have been terribly affected by the forces of Chaos, turning them into evil, self-centred creatures. In one way, however, they haven't changed at all – they still love playing Blood Bowl! Chaos Dwarfs are not very numerous and make great use of sneaky Hobgoblin slaves to perform all kinds of tasks, including playing on their Blood Bowl teams.

CHAOS PACT

Chaos Pact teams are a mix of evil and chaotic races. The Marauders while enthusiastic have to be coached to fill the different needs of the team while other races provide the muscle and fineness to support the Marauders. However due to the arrogance, stupidity, or animalistic nature of the team members, it is rare to see a well organized and effective Chaos Pact team. The Chaos All-Stars are the best example of how great this team can be with the right coach.

DARK ELF TEAMS

Evil beyond belief, skilled without doubt, the Dark Elves take to the pitch to show the world their superiority. Dark Elf teams prefer a malevolent and spiteful running game over the passing of their goodly cousins. Backed up by the ruthless Witch Elves and dangerous Assassins, a Dark Elf team has all the tools to power through, rather than around, any opposition line.

DWARF TEAMS

Dwarfs seem to be ideal Blood Bowl players, being compact, tough, well-armoured and having a stubborn knack of refusing to die! Most successful Dwarf teams work to the principle that if they can take out all the other team's potential scorers, and wear down the rest, then there won't be anybody left to stop them scoring the winning touchdowns!

ELF TEAMS

When the NAF collapsed, many Elven teams were left penniless. Those teams that have survived the fallout are not as rich as the High Elf teams nor as well equipped, but they sure know how to play the game. Sporting facemasks and mohawks, they take to the pitch to relive the glory days they once played in.

GOBLIN TEAMS

A Goblin team's game plan owes much more to hope than potential. Goblins can make quite good catchers because they are small and agile, but the art of throwing is sadly lost to them, while the chances of their blocking anything larger than a Halfling are remote to say the least. Still, this never seems to bother Goblin players, and occasionally the use of a particularly devious secret weapon will even allow a Goblin team to win a match.

HALFLING TEAMS

The technical deficiency of Halfling teams is legendary. They're too short to throw or catch, they run at half pace, and the whole team can spend all afternoon trying to block an Ogre without any chance of success. Most Halfling coaches try to make up for quality with quantity. After all, if you can get half a dozen players in the opposing team's End Zone and, by some miracle, manage to end up with the ball, then there is a small chance that one or two of them won't be jelly by the time you throw the thing.

HIGH ELF TEAMS

The Elven Kingdom sponsored High Elf teams, feature a dangerous passing game and some of the most arrogant players you will find. Rich beyond the dreams of most teams, the High Elves often feature many Princes and noble-born Elves on the team and what they cannot beat, they'll buy.

HUMAN TEAMS

Although Human teams do not have the individual strengths or outstanding abilities available to other races, they do not suffer from any outstanding weakness either. This makes Human teams extremely flexible, equally at home running the ball, passing it, or ignoring it and pounding the opposition into the turf instead!

KHEMRI TEAMS

Over 8,000 years ago, the Khemri played the first games of Blood Bowl against the Slann. But, as the Kingdom died off, so did the game, until its rediscovery. And as the game returned, it was inevitable that the ancient players and stars of the Khemri would return to the pitch they once played on.

LIZARDMAN TEAMS

The Mage-Priests foretold the game of Blood Bowl thousands of years before it was discovered by the Dwarf Roze-El, so it is no surprise that the Lizardmen play Blood Bowl. Providing an odd blend of dexterity and strength, the Lustrian team can almost last the distance against a power team such as Chaos, while remaining able to pull off the running plays of the Skaven.

The damned and the cursed do not always lurk in the forests or in the graveyards of the Old World. Sometimes they come together, forming a group to hunt those more fortunate of souls. Finding relief in crazed outbursts of terrible violence, these groups do the best they can to ease their suffering - they pop off for a nice game of Blood Bowl.

NORSE TEAMS

Norse teams have a well deserved reputation for ferocity both on and off the playing pitch. The Norse that takes up Blood Bowl is a truly unedifying specimen, interested only in beer, women and song off the playing pitch, and beer, women and bloody carnage while on it!

NURGLE TEAMS

Nurgle teams are a form of Chaos team whose players worship the god Nurgle. Nurgle is the Chaos god of corruption and disease, and he rewards his players by granting them a rather unpleasant disease known as Nurgle's Rot. The fact that Nurgle teams smell awful is assumed rather than proven. True, they are all made up of semi decomposed flesh surrounded by swarms of flies, but by the time anyone gets close enough to get a really accurate whiff, he has inevitably caught one of Nurgle's nasty diseases, and he usually dies before he can suggest a new personal hygiene regime.

OGRE TEAMS

Ogre teams have existed since the forming of the NAF and have even had some success such as winning the XV Blood Bowl. However, as any right-minded person will tell you, having more than one Ogre in the same place at the same time is a disaster in the making. The key to an Ogre team is the Snotlings. If they are close enough to jab an Ogre in the leg to remind him that they are playing in a match then you may have the makings of a team.

ORC TEAMS

Orcs have been playing Blood Bowl since the game was invented, and Orc teams such as the Gougued Eye and Severed Heads are amongst the best in the league. Orc teams are tough and hard-hitting, grinding down the opposition's line to create gaps for their excellent Orc Blitzers to exploit.

SLANN TEAMS

The Slann team is an ancient race of space travellers stranded on our planets many ages ago. After realizing that rescue was never coming they settled down and began ordering the Lizardmen around as their leaders. While most Slann prefer to become fat and lazy lording over the Lizardmen, a few of younger and more energetic members enjoy travelling the realm and playing Blood Bowl. While the Slann have no passing game to speak of, their ability to leap, dive, and intercept are second to none.

In the Old World the dead do not rest easy. Vampires lurk in haunted castles, Necromancers seek to escape death by searching for forbidden knowledge, the Liche-lords rule over legions of corpses, and on the Blood Bowl field, players who died long ago return to the scenes of their former glory and play Blood Bowl once again...

On occasion the Skaven and Goblins living below all the hated races walking above in the sun team together to form Blood Bowl teams. The Underworld Creepers are the best known and most successful of these Underworld teams to date. However these teams often have very poor records as they spend most of their time infighting and blaming each other for the errors for each play. The one feature of this team that makes many fans attend is that the players sleep and bathe in Warpstone (and some eat it). While this kills off most of the potential players before they ever join a team, the ones that do survive often develop fascinating mutations.

VAMPIRE TEAMS

Although Vampire teams include a number of extremely capable players, they are let down by the unreliability of the Vampires. While they should be concentrating on the game, their attention often wanders to their hunger and before you know it they are off for a quick bite!

WOOD ELF TEAMS

For Wood Elves the Long pass is everything, even more so than their High Elf cousins, and all of their effort goes into being an expert at throwing or receiving. No Wood Elf worth his salt is going to be weighed down by extra Armour and be forced to lurk about, attempting to knock opposing players over. Instead they rely on their natural athletic ability to keep them out of trouble, which is normally enough – it takes a very agile or lucky opponent to lay a hand on a Wood Elf!

Designer's Note: Some of the above 24 teams are more challenging than the others to play either because of their skills requiring advanced strategies to be effective or because they have difficulty winning. These teams have been designed this way on purpose to give challenges to coaches who master the basics of Blood Bowl. These more challenging teams are: Chaos, Chaos Pact, Dark Elf, Goblin, Halfling, Khemri, Nurgle, Ogre, Slann, Underworld and Vampire. Coaches should be aware that these are considered teams for more advanced players and can be confusing or difficult to use if you are new to the game.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: Can you use the Pass skill to re-roll a fumbled Hail Mary Pass? Do tackle zones or Disturbing Presence affect a Hail Mary Pass roll?

A: Yes, you can use Pass to re-roll. No, nothing modifies a Hail Mary Pass roll ... it is always a 2+ roll.

Q: Suppose my opponent pushes back one player into a second player. Who decides where the second player ends up?

A: The coach of the moving team decides all pushback directions unless the pushed player has Side Step. If the player has Side Step, his coach decides where he is pushed to. (Note: Grab cannot be used on secondary or more push backs to cancel out Side Step.)

Q: Do I have to make another Dauntless or Foul Appearance roll on the second block of a Frenzy, or do I stick with whatever I rolled before the first block? If I re-roll a block that my player throws, do I need to re-roll Dauntless or Foul Appearance as well?

A: Yes, you must make a second roll for both of these skills, regardless of what you rolled for either before the first block. No, a re-roll affects only one result. The Dauntless or Foul Appearance roll is a separate result from the block.

Q: If you blitz or block an opponent with Dump-Off with a player that has Pass Block can you use Pass Block to move after he declares his use of Dump-Off? Can I use Stab instead of throwing a block after failing a Dauntless roll? Can you use Stab with Multiple Block? When do I declare the 2nd opponent for a Multiple Block?

A: No, once a block is declared as part of a Block or Blitz Action, you must attempt to complete it before moving again. Similarly, once you roll the dice to use Dauntless, you have actually already declared you are throwing a block and cannot switch to using Stab instead. Yes, you may use Stab to replace either one or both of the blocks with the Multiple Block skill. You may declare the 2nd opponent after the 1st block.

Q: If a player has MA 1 or MA 2, can he still move 3 squares on a Pass Block? Can I Go For It (GFI) or stand up from being Prone, and which skills can I use during the movement part of a Pass Block?

A: Yes, Pass Block only allows you to move up to 3 squares normally, and no more, even if your MA is less than 3. You cannot GFI during a Pass Block which means that Sure Feet and Sprint cannot be used. In addition, you can only stand up at the beginning of an Action. Since Pass Block is NOT an Action (but a special out-of-turn move allowed by a skill), you cannot stand up or use Jump Up with Pass Block. Other movement skills such as Break Tackle, Dodge, Leap, Stunty and Titchy can be used in conjunction with Pass Block.

Q: Can I use Pass Block when my opponent tries to throw a team-mate holding the ball? Can I try to intercept a Dump-Off?

A: No and Yes.

Q: Can I use Pro during my opponent's turn? Can you re-roll Pro?

A: Yes you can. Yes but only in your turn.

Q: If I get 2 MA stat increases and then suffer a serious injury that removes a point of MA can I gain MA again?

A: Yes.

Q: If a player with Strip Ball pushes a player with the ball into his end zone is this a Touchdown? Likewise what happens if a Frenzy player's first block pushes a player with the ball into the End zone?

A: No, as stated in the rules, a player has to be standing and holding a ball to score. This doesn't happen with Strip Ball. As for Frenzy, the touchdown is scored as soon as the player is pushed into the end zone. The Frenzy player does not get the 2nd block.

Q: Can I intentionally throw or hand-off the ball into the crowd? Can I intentionally move into the crowd?

A: No and No (unless its random movement from a Ball & Chain player.)

Q: Does an Injury roll of 9 against a Stunty player or a Casualty healed by an opposing Apothecary count as a Casualty for Star Player Points.

A: Yes to both.

Q: My big guy (Ogre, Minotaur, Troll, etc.) player's base is larger than the square on the board (pitch). Does he take up more than one square for the rules?

A: No, all players in the game from a Snotling to a Treeman only occupy one square on the board (pitch).

Q: What is the best way to remember that a player has taken his Action?

A: Our best recommendation would be to start your turn with all your players facing towards your opponent's end zone. After taking an Action with a player either turn the player to face your end zone or one of the sidelines or place some type of marker next to him to signify that he is done for this turn.

Q: Can you Go For It (GFI) to Leap?

A: Yes. Place the player in the square targeted by the Leap skill and then make the GFI roll (or "rolls," if you need two). If you fail a GFI roll, knock the player down in the new square to which he was leaping. The opposing coach makes an Armour roll as usual.

Q: Is it an Illegal Procedure should you forget to roll for Blood Lust, Bone-head, Wild Animal, Take Root or Really Stupid before you move the player?

A: No, hopefully your opponent will remind you if you keep forgetting!

Q: If a Special Play Card says it can be played at the beginning of my turn can I play that at the beginning of a Blitz result on the Kick-Off Table? Can a Special Play Card give a player a skill a second time if he already has it?

A: Yes and No.

Q: If a player from your team fails to catch a ball from a kick-off, and the ball bounces over the line of scrimmage is it a touchback?

A: Yes, any event that causes the ball to go out of bounds or over the line of scrimmage during a kick-off results in a touchback

Q: Players under influence of Bone-head, Really Stupid, or Hypnotic Gaze cannot use skills that allow them to move voluntarily. Which skills are not allowed to be used as they are considered moving voluntarily?

A: Skills that allow you to leave your square without being forced to leave your square in the first place. These skills are Diving Tackle, Pass Block, and Shadowing.

Q: Is a thrown ball or kick-off that scatters off the pitch thrown back in by the crowd as soon as it leaves the pitch? Or do you track it all three squares and only throw it back if it finishes off the pitch?

A: As there are no squares located off the pitch you should stop rolling for a scattering ball as soon as it leaves the pitch. Although a bit of an abstraction (as the ball could scatter back onto the pitch if you kept rolling) this method has the distinct advantage of keeping things nice and simple.

Q: What is the full and correct Passing sequence using the Extra Rules for the game?

- A: The Pass Sequence (including Extra Rules)
1. Declare a Pass Action, move if desired, and then start the throw.
 2. Declare target of the pass and determine range modifier.
 3. Pass Blockers move if any are eligible to do so.
 4. Check for interceptors and roll for possible interception. If intercepted stop here.
 5. Roll D6 to throw and subtract number of tackle zones, Disturbing Presence and range modifiers on Thrower from roll.
 6. If pass was fumbled, stop here. Otherwise continue.
 7. If the throw is Accurate, go to step #8, otherwise scatter 3 times (to represent where the ball will land not the ball bouncing.)
 8. If the ball lands in a square with a player, determine modifiers on Catch and roll for Catch, otherwise bounce the ball once from the empty square the ball landed in.

DESIGNER'S NOTES

"Blood Bowl has changed a lot from my original prototype of the game..."

So began my designer's notes for the first edition of Blood Bowl, printed waaay back in 1987. Little did I realize then that Blood Bowl would keep on changing and evolving over the years, becoming ever more exciting and playable thanks to the dozens of Blood Bowl coaches that have spoken or written to me with their comments and ideas. In many ways I feel that Blood Bowl is not 'my' game any more, it has developed a life of its own over which I have very little control!

So how has the game changed over the years? Well, the first edition combined elements of American Football with the Warhammer Fantasy Battle rules to provide a game that was fun, and very, very bloody! The second edition used a whole new set of rules mechanics specifically for the Blood Bowl game, but took quite a long time to play. The third edition, published in 1993, introduced new rules that streamlined play and made for a much more exciting game. The version you are now reading is the PBBL (Perpetual Blood Bowl League) edition, and for once the core game rules have pretty much stayed the same; the main changes are to the way that the rules for running leagues, and any other changes merely fine-tune the rules from the 3rd edition of the game.

When I started work on the 3rd edition what I wanted to do was find some way to stop the 'wars of attrition' that had slowed down the earlier versions of the game, while at the same time making the game mechanics quite simple so that the game would play as quickly as possible. The Turnover rule was probably the single most important change to the game, and almost on its own it changed the whole feel and pace of the game. It means that every single dice roll is exciting, and that even the very best laid plans can go wrong – as I have found out to my own cost more than a few times!

The other area that I wanted to look at in the 3rd edition was the rules for setting up and running a league. In previous editions of the game, the league rules were added almost as an afterthought, and it is surprising that they worked as well as they did. For the 3rd edition I wanted to make sure that the rules for setting up and running a league worked every bit as well as the board game rules themselves. To a large extent we succeeded, but with one important exception that I will tell you more about below.

The single most important thing I needed to sort out with the league rules was the problem of the 'part-time' coach. Anybody who has played in a Blood Bowl league before will understand this problem. When the league starts up you get loads of enthusiastic coaches all clamouring to take part. After half a dozen games, however, quite a few of the coaches will have started missing games, or have dropped out of the league altogether, especially if their team isn't doing very well... The way that I tried to get round this problem was by creating an 'open' league format. This places the emphasis on arranging matches and playing games firmly on the shoulders of the coaches themselves. In this way enthusiastic coaches can play as many games as they like, or rather, as many games as they can find opponents to play against. Meanwhile, less enthusiastic coaches can play fewer games, as and when they like.

This system worked well in the 3rd edition rules, with one very important exception: teams just kept getting better and better if they played matches, and if they played enough matches there was simply no way for a starting team to compete against them. This was not what I had intended to happen at all; the league rules were there to provide continuity between games, not to allow coaches to create 'super-teams' that couldn't be beaten unless an opponent had racked up enough matches.

This problem came about because the handicapping system I'd built into the 3rd edition rules didn't give enough help to the underdog. In the years following the release of 3rd edition a number of increasingly complex 'patches' were applied to the game rules to try and deal with the problem, but none of them really worked as well as I hoped, and they added a lot of complexity to the game. In the end I became frustrated with the whole thing and decided to go back to the drawing board and start again with a new handicap system. After a few wrong turns this resulted in an early version of the rules for Inducements that you will find in the new League rules, and the associated rules that increase the value of a player as they learn more skills. These two things are a lot simpler than what we had before, and make it much more straight-forward to balance a match between two teams of differing experience. They also mean that the Blood Bowl league rules have finally achieved the design goals I set for them back in 1993 (well, better late than never!)

I'd like to finish by thanking the people who really made this rulebook possible. First of all I must thank all the members of the Blood Bowl gaming community. Blood Bowl is blessed with a community of truly dedicated coaches, who have supported the game through thick and thin no matter what I or anyone else has tried to do with it. Sometimes vociferous, always passionate, Blood Bowl simply would not be around if it were not for the community of coaches that support it. You all have my gratitude and respect.

The community is well served by a superb player-led organisation called 'The NAF'. The NAF runs tournaments and provides a network that links together Blood Bowl Leagues all over the world. To put it simply, if you are a serious Blood Bowl Coach then you need to be a member of the NAF. Join up right now! (<http://www.thenaf.net>)

Next on my thank-you list are the members of the Blood Bowl Rules Committee (BBRC). This small group of dedicated coaches having taken on the onerous responsibility of keeping this hare-brained game designer on the straight and narrow, making sure that my more scatty ideas don't see print while at the same time providing sage advice on the ideas that are worthwhile and making sure they work well. I simply couldn't have done it without them.

Finally, I must single out one man without whom the PBBL edition rulebook simply would not have been finished. This man is the irrepressible Tom Anders (aka GalakStarscraper). Tom joined the BBRC when one of the founding members had to stand down. I knew little about Tom then, other than that he had a fearsome reputation for speaking his mind and arguing his corner. It was Tom's luck to join the BBRC just when we were starting on the new rules for Inducements. Initially horrified by what he saw – we knocked heads quite a few times in those early days! - Tom went on to become their biggest contributor. When pressure of my other work meant that I no longer had time to finish the rules, Tom stepped up as my lead developer, turning the half-formed set of experimental rules I gave him into the polished document you now hold. In the process he sorted out problems with the wording of the rules, cleaned up and improved the skills section, and made sure that all of the teams in the game are as balanced and fun to play as it is possible to make them. And in all of this all he ever asked as recompense was an old, very battered, Blood Bowl helmet that I'd had made as the trophy for a tournament. Truly he is a prince among men.

But that's quite enough gushing. Wipe that tear from your eye, strap on your extra-sharp set of spikes, and get out on that pitch and win!
